

Auction Sale of Land

At Hettinger, North Dakota

The Hettinger Commercial Club Will Sell Thirty Thousand Acres

Of Land, in the Country Tributary to Hettinger, North Dakota, at Public Auction, on

OCTOBER 10 AND 11, 1913

This land is situated in the fertile Missouri-Slope country and is admirably adapted for diversified farming and dairying purposes. The climate is ideal, pure water can be had in abundance, the prairies are covered with nutritious grasses, corn and alfalfa do well.

The land to be sold has all been proved up, largely by professional men, clerks, teachers, etc., who made no pretense at actual farming. Patents have been issued and titles are perfect.

The Hettinger Commercial Club is convinced that in the large cities of the east and on hundreds of rented farms are men who feel that the constantly increasing cost of living will eventually drive them to the wall, men who are anxious and eager to purchase a farm in a community where land values are still within their reach. It is for the purpose of reaching these people that the club has decided to hold this sale. It feels confident that an examination of the real facts will reveal an unparalleled opportunity to buy good land cheap, land that if used principally for dairying and mixed farming, will rapidly increase in value and soon make a man independently well-to-do. The land agent is eliminated and the purchaser is given the benefit of the present owner's rock-bottom price.

The Hettinger Commercial Club is undertaking this auction sale of land solely with the view of aiding in the settling of the surrounding country. It is not a profit proposition in any way.

The Adams County Fair will be held at Hettinger, October 9, 10, 11, thus giving the prospective purchaser a chance to see the fine exhibits of grains, grasses and vegetables grown this year and to see and talk to the farmers of the Hettinger country.

The lands will be offered in quarter section, half section and section lots, ranging in price from $6 to $30 per acre. The terms are one dollar per acre down, another payment in thirty or sixty days and the balance as agreed by the owners of the land and as announced on the day of sale.

Prospective buyers are asked to arrive two or three days before the sale so that they may have an opportunity to see the land. The club will place autos at their disposal, and will so far as possible, endeavor to show them the lands.

Hettinger is located on the transcontinental line of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. It is the county seat of Adams County, North Dakota, and is a thriving city of 1,000 people, with churches, excellent schools, creamery, etc.

Don't Miss This Opportunity to Buy Good Land at Your Own Price Direct From the Owner.

OBITUARY.

D. D. WILSON.

The funeral of D. D. Wilson, whose death was mentioned last week, took place at the Presbyterian church Saturday, Sept. 13, at 2 o'clock p. m. Rev. Cyrus Sullivan conducted the last rites over the deceased, using as text for his sermon, the following impressive lines, "For Lo, there is but a step between me and death."

Rev. and Mrs. Sullivan gave a vocal duet, and a choir composed of five young ladies furnished several songs. The casket was decorated with a U. S. flag in honor to the departed soldier, and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. The pall bearers were P. H. Parsons, N. Hendrickson, N. Orred, G. Abbott, James McManus and O. T. Olson. The remains were laid to rest in the Spicer cemetery, west of town.

Dessiah D. Wilson was born in Chicago, Ill., July 29, 1844. When only eighteen years of age he enlisted in an Illinois Infantry but remained there only three months, after which he enlisted in the 31st Illinois Artillery Regiment. In 1866 he came to Minnesota, where he took an active part in the fight with the Indians. Later he returned to his native state, but remained only a short time. Returning to Minnesota, he settled in Houston, where he made his home for a few years, after which, in 1873, he came to the vicinity of Spicer, and twenty-five years ago he came to this village where he has since resided with his family. In 1872 he was united in marriage to Mary Nichols, who has faithfully shared joys and sorrows with him, and now lives to mourn his loss. Nine children were born to them, the following seven of whom are now living: George, James, Emma, now Mrs. P. H. Downs, Lydia, John, Walter and Dora. Belle and Charles died several years ago. One brother, Sidney Wilson, survives him, and was in attendance at the funeral services.—Green Lake Breeze.

JENNIE HILDRUM.

Jennie Hildrum, daughter of Jens Hildrum, of Balsam Lake, Wis., who has been making her home with the N. Wikander family, just north of the village, died at the hospital last Sunday, Sept. 14, at 3:25 p. m. She was taken sick on Sept. 5th, and on the seventh was brought to New London and placed in the hospital. A diagnosis of her case proved that a operation was necessary at once. But the little girl was unable to withstand the ordeal.

Jennie Hildrum was born Nov. 4, 1900 at Overhalden, Norway. Her mother died in Norway, Aug. 24, 1909, after which Jennie accompanied her father and a sister to this country, arriving in St. Paul in May, 1910. She was received into the home of N. Wikander, and has since been a member of that family circle, and was loved very dearly by the entire household. The Wikander family moved to New London in 1910.

She is survived by her father, two sisters and one brother in Duluth, two brothers in Portal, N. D., and one sister who still resides in Norway.

The funeral was held at the Swedish Lutheran church yesterday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. C. Swenson conducted the last sad rites.—New London Times.

Swift County Monitor.

Mrs. E. J. Boomer, of Willmar, was a Benson visitor Tuesday. Her husband, who works for the Great Northern, is painting and decorating the depot and other buildings here.

Dr. Daigault went down to Willmar Saturday afternoon to get his car which he had to leave there a few days before on account of the muddy roads. He was accompanied by W. E. Lewson.

Mrs. G. H. Kemp and Miss Bertha Olson, daughters of Rasmus Olson, of this city, were Willmar visitors last Saturday. Mrs. Kemp is going to live at Willmar and went down to look for a house.

Mrs. Mary Koch and Mrs. Carl Koch, of Willmar, visited at the Sam Fargo home a couple of days last week.

Rev. J. S. Strand, pastor of Immanuel church, recently received a call to the church of his denomination at Fargo, N. D., but declined to take it. The Fargo church has one of the largest congregations in that section of the country. Rev. Strand is, however, well satisfied with his congregations here, and his church members and friends are certainly glad that he has decided to remain with them.—Swift County Monitor.

Fatal Accident.

Fred Kemp, of the town of Grace, died Tuesday evening as result of having his legs cut off by a binder a few hours before. He was cutting flax and was alone in the field. It is thought he stepped in front of the machine for some purpose and that his horses ran away, the cycle of the machine severing both his legs. He was not found for several hours and died from loss of blood a short time after being found.

Palmyra Farmer Ends Life.

S. L. Timmes, a prominent Palmyra farmer, ended his life Saturday afternoon by shooting himself in the head with a 22 calibre revolver. Word was first received here of the tragedy by a telephone message to Dr. F. L. Puffer from the distracted wife and when he arrived at the farm he found Mr. Timmes dead in bed in a bedroom on the second floor of the house. He had shot himself in the right temple with a revolver owned by one of the boys.

Mr. Timmes had sold his farm about two weeks ago and on Thursday returned from a visit to Detroit where he had bargained for another farm. He attended the county fair here that day and the next day went to Hector from his home. Saturday morning he complained of not feeling well and went up stairs to bed. At noon Mrs. Timmes took some dinner up to the room and he was still feeling unwell and asked her to do the chores. She and two daughters left the house and went to the barn some distance away to do the chores and upon their return she found him lying dead on the bed with the revolver in his right hand. They had heard no shot as the barn is some distance from the house. Mrs. Timmes immediately telephoned for Dr. Puffer, but did not go near the room until his arrival as she said that she was afraid. The coroner was notified and there was no question but what he took his own life. The deal for the farm at Detroit was to have been made Saturday, and this fact may have slightly unbalanced Mr. Timmes resulting in the rash act.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon in the Palmyra church and the interment took place in the Palmyra cemetery. The bereaved family has the sincere sympathy of all in their hour of sorrow.—Bird Island Union.

"Helena Richie" Coming.

Laura Frankfield is coming to the Willmar Opera House on Friday, Sept. 26, in the role of "Helena Richie." This is the version used by Margaret Anglin and dramatized for her by Charlotte Thompson from a book by the same name. Helena Richie's soul awakening seems so natural and possible amid the Old Chester people and Old Chester surroundings, with Dr. Lavendar at his best, as philanthropist, philosopher and mentor. This woman has familiarized the structural facts of the moral law. She is led by little David, a homeless child whom she takes, to discover the great religion of duty. When her life becomes known to Dr. Lavendar regards her unfit to keep David, her submission to the law of retributive justice which operates for a time then gives way, and her determination to make the remainder of her life "clear and sound" but give evidence to the genuineness of her awakened sincerity.

The "big scene" of the play is where Helena confesses that she is not worthy to keep David. It requires a great artist to meet the demands made upon her and Miss Frankfield fully meets the demands.

"David," in "The Awakening of Helena Richie" is irresistible. Dr. Lavendar has been flattered by the child's wrapt attention to the stories he has been telling. "Well, well" he said, "You are a great boy for stories, aren't you?" "You've talked seven minutes," said David thoughtfully, "and you have not moved your upper jaw once."

The play is peopled with real live characters.

Don't forget this splendid dramatization of Margaret Deland's novel will be seen here with Laura Frankfield as the star.—Adv.
