Snickes, of Willmar; Mrs. Brewers, Clara City; Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Ed. Carlsson of Murdock and Mrs. Lifferts to her home at Omaha, Neb.

OBITUARY.

MRS. SYVERT OLSON. Another pioneer lady of Kandiyohi county has gone to the Great Beyond. Mrs. Syvert Olson, 87 years of age, died at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Berg at Eagle Lake last Monday morning from the infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Bergitta Olson, nee Torsten, was born at Lille Dengerud, Aarsgjald, Hallingdal, Norway, Oct. 14, 1827. She was one of the earliest Scandinavian emigrants to locate in the Great West. She came to Galena, Ill., in 1851. The following year she came to St. Paul and worked three years at the Boss home. In 1855 she was married to Mr. Syvert Olson, and they located on a pre-emption claim in the Township of Dahlgren, Carver county. After the Civil War, in which Mr. Olson served as volunteer, the family moved to Eagle Lake, in October, 1867, and here they made their home until death. Mr. Olson died May 27, 1891. Eight children were born to them, and all survive their parents—Magnus Olson, Mrs. Lina Bergeson, and Mrs. Anna Berg of Eagle Lake; Mrs. Olivia Myhre, Lothar, Mont.; F. T. Sathre, Thief River Falls; Henry S. Olson, Nevis, Minn.; Mrs. Clara Rustad, Norway Lake and Mrs. Sophia Sorum, Detroit, Minn. There are six great grandchildren and eleven great grand children. Deceased is also mourned by two brothers, Asle and Ole Dengerud of Dovre and two brothers living in Norway.

May the good grandmother rest in peace!

MRS. HANNA D. JOHNSON. The death of Mrs. Hanna Dorothy (Zakariason) Johnson, nearly 84 years of age, occurred at the home of her nephew, Christ Rasmussen last Saturday. She has made her home at Kandiyohi during the last fifteen years but four months ago was taken ill and was at her nephew's home until death came. The funeral occurred Tuesday afternoon from the house, Rev. Todd, of St. Luke's church, officiating, interment took place at Fairview. She was a native of Stuberup, Per, Lolland, Denmark, where she was born Nov. 25, 1830. She arrived to this county 48 years ago, coming from St. Cloud. Her husband, Tunis Johnson, died many years ago.

A Progressive Dairy Farmer. While at the Swenson home last Thursday, Mr. David Swenson kindly showed us and demonstrated his new milking machine. He has used it for some time now and pronounces it a complete success. Three cows are milked at once, and he milks thirty cows in an hour or less. It is an invention which means much to the dairy farmer. The milk is never exposed to the air of the barn for an instant. Mr. Swenson has his new barn in good shape now. He has just completed some all concrete stalls including partitions, mangers and feed boxes.

Liquors Are Taxed. The Democratic caucus in Congress yesterday decided to exempt gasoline from war taxation. The bulk of the special taxes will fall on liquor. Mr. Lee last night tried to prove that Congressman Hammond was a sympathizer with the liquor interests because an extra tax had been placed on whiskey. But he was, however, recommended to bear an extra tax by the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mr. Hammond is a member. There are more breweries than distilleries in Minnesota.

Fire at Lake Lillian. Ole E. Erickson's residence at Lake Lillian had a narrow escape from entire destruction by fire last Sunday. While Mr. and Mrs. Erickson were at Walner's place the summer kitchen took fire. Alarm was given and help arrived in time to tear down the kitchen on part and save the rest of the house. The kitchen and contents was a total loss. With the hard wind which blew Sunday, it was indeed fortunate that the loss was confined to a small portion of the house.

Singer Agency Moving. The Singer Sewing Machine Agency is moving from the location in the Annex Hotel building temporarily to the old Stamberry office on Litchfield avenue. They have leased quarters in the Beckwith building which will be ready for them in a week.

Broke a Limb. Edith, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Paulson had the misfortune of breaking a limb last Friday while playing in the yard. She is reported as recovering nicely from the injury.

Illegal Fishing. A. E. Larson and Solomon Solomonson were two parties brought before Judge Muller's court by Game Warden Boyd for illegal fishing Sept. 28th. They were fined $10 each. The fine of Solomonson, the head of a family of thirteen children, was remitted.

V. S. Knutson and Andrew Nordlof of Long Prairie were callers in the city yesterday. We understand our friend Victor is the daddy of a bouncing baby boy born recently. We congratulate.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. M. Steffen of Minneapolis motored to Green Lake last Saturday to spend Sunday with relatives. They made the Willmar Tribune a call while at Willmar.

J. A. Johnson and family have moved from First ward into their handsome new residence on East Litchfield avenue.

Mr. Max Somerville left for Ada last Monday where he will assist in the weighing of mail between Ada and Emerson, Canada.

Report of "Loyal Farmer Boys Corn Contest," Raymond, Minnesota, October 2nd, 1914.

I would like to have all the young people that entered this contest accept this as a letter rather than look upon it as a report. It is out of the question to write each one separately and for this reason such a contest cannot be made as popular as it might, without a better means of reaching the boys.

At this date after the summer's toil, after your hoes are well greased and hung in the shed for the winter and the crops are most all in, you fall back in some easy chair and wonder who won the 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes. Only three out of those that entered are able to get these. I would like to see all who have entered receive as much but that is impossible and you could not expect it of me.

While most of you have not attained to these prizes, do not step back, feeling you are beat. No, as a result, much fine corn has been started growing on many farms. Barring misfortune, this corn will go through the planter box next spring, for a bumper crop in the fall.

Those that have worked to a finish have not been characteristic of the fellow that arose with the birds of spring, plowed, harrowed, planted and cultivated, ate of the early ridishes, but the sun of July and August got the better of him and he laid in the shade while the foreigners, which we called weeds, crept in and were having the time of their lives in the back garden. Many of the boys have already set stakes for next year. Others are planning to do so. This has been an unfavorable season in some respects. Reports of hail and wind have completely destroyed some corn crops this year but they have expressed themselves as ready to try out another year.

Now at this time I cannot tell whether I will be able to take care of you next year or not. If we launch another contest, will let you know, perhaps through the columns of this newspaper.

Contrary to my expectations I am unable to give a 2nd and 3rd prizes, ducks from stock that won 1st prize at the County Fair in 1913, as dogs got away with them, but others equal in as good, have been secured from M. O. Kvanas, of New London. Have been unable to get the rewards around in time to have a letter from the winners.

LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

At Wrestling Match Held at Carlson Hall Last Evening. Some Good Sport Furnished.

The first wrestling match held in this city in a number of years took place last evening at Carlson Hall, when Floyd Domer, light heavy weight champion of America, performed the difficult feat of throwing three men in 40 minutes and 30 seconds. A large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand, and there were plenty of thrills furnished for their benefit.

The men who opposed Domer were Melvin Samuelson, Sam Bonham and Chas. LeCouq. The two former are from this city while LeCouq is from Ft. Dodge, Ia. Bonham was the first to go to the mat with the champion and he stayed exactly 11 minutes. Sam proved no easy man to handle, and in spite of the fact that he was outweighed quite a bit he fought pluckily against overwhelming odds, and gave the crowd several chances to applaud his work, especially in wriggling out of dangerous holds. However, when they had been at it almost eleven minutes, Domer suddenly shifted and clamped on the toe hold, and it was over, as Bonham conceded the fall, rather than take a chance on having his leg broken.

Melly Samuelson was the next to go and this bout was a real thriller. After several minutes of preliminary "feeling out" the men went to the mat. Domer, of course, was the aggressor, and tried for several holds, but Melly succeeded in breaking them or wriggling out. Suddenly, with a quick twist the tide was turned, and Domer found himself on the defensive, while Samuelson assumed the offensive. This was a little unexpected and Samuelson made things hum for a time by clamping on several holds that looked dangerous, but Domer always broke them, and he finally became the aggressor again. He cried time and again for the toe hold, but was unable to secure a good grip, as Melly persisted in kicking away. He then clamped on a body scissor, and a fall looked certain, but again, Melly succeeded in breaking away. After they had been at it a little over fourteen minutes, Domer clamped on a reverse scissor hold and slowly pushed Samuelson's shoulders to the mat. The fall was gained in 14 minutes and 30 seconds of wrestling.

LeCouq, the heaviest of the trio, was the last to go on, and as he had thirty-five minutes of the hour left, Domer took his time at the start. LeCouq, however, like Samuelson, assumed the offensive at times, and made the bout interesting. He had the honor of staying the longest of the trio, lasting just fifteen minutes, thirty seconds longer than did Samuelson. A half nelson and body hold did the business this time.

At the close of the match, Melly Samuelson, on behalf of Jack Root, challenged Domer, and the latter accepted on the spot. The match will be pulled off here some time in the near future, and a record breaking crowd will undoubtedly be on hand to witness the bout, as Root has no other friends in this city, and Domer, by clean, clever work and gentlemanly manner, has earned for himself a large following of Willmar enthusiasts, who will be on hand to root hard for him in all his matches that are pulled off in this city.

The preliminary between Bill Jensen and Art Knutson, was a peach. Knutson was outweighed 30 pounds, and was thus on the defensive all the time, but he put up a great exhibition, and time and again, it seemed almost certain he was down, he would wriggle out of danger. Jensen secured the one fall of the match after twenty-one minutes of hard work, a full nelson doing the business.

Miss Emma Somerville left Saturday for Pennock where she will teach an eight months' term of school in Dist. 77.

STAYS ON THE JOB

Hammond Called Back to Washington for Important Work.

St. Paul—(Special)—"Enthusiasm unsurpassed since the days of John A. Johnson" was the phrase used by several papers that had reporters at Red Wing to hear Congressman W. S. Hammond open his campaign for governor last week. Those who saw the Red Wing meeting declared that if Mr. Hammond could do five weeks of that kind of campaigning he would be elected by 50,000 majority. Mr. Hammond, however, told his committee that several important measures are still pending before congress, that he felt it his duty to his constituents to return until the most important work was out of the way. While Hammond was out of the state, thousands of votes, his devotion to duty will also win him countless friends, and just at present, when the people want a governor who will be on the job, they will conclude that Hammond is just the man for the place.

Hammond's Work Praised. High praise for the work Congressman Hammond is doing in Washington is given by his colleagues in Washington. The committee wrote near W. Underwood, chairman of the house ways and means committee, of which Mr. Hammond is a member, regarding the prospects of getting him home for the rest of the campaign. To this Chairman Underwood replied: "I am as anxious to have Mr. Hammond return home and take an active part in the campaign as you are. I have admired his sterling qualities for many years. I regard him as one of the soundest and ablest members of the house, thoroughly honest, upright and painstaking; always devoted to the performance of public duties, and he is a man who has the courage to sacrifice his personal fortunes for the public good. He has always elected to remain in Washington and do his full duty to his constituency and the government rather than push his political fortunes at home. This is the type of man that ought to be selected to hold high political office. If Mr. Hammond is elected governor of your state, I am sure he will make one of the best governors that Minnesota has ever had, and it is for this reason that I should like to see him have every opportunity to meet the people of your state, but I must say that I admire the patriotic stand that he has taken to stay by his duties here in Washington regardless of the cost to himself, especially at a time when men of his type are needed, with legislation of great import to the American people pending in the house."

IT PAYS TO BE FAIR. Candidate Lee may believe that his sweeping charges that his opponent, Mr. Hammond, is dominated by the brewing interests will make votes for himself—we do not believe that it will. He is justified in criticizing Mr. Hammond's non-committal attitude on the county option question. But it is quite another matter to prove that the brewers dominate him and will control him if he is elected governor. Mr. Hammond's hearty and whole-souled advocacy of the initiative and referendum, something that would put the liquor interests out of business quicker than the talk of politicians ever will, does not indicate that he is tied up to the special interests. Neither is it likely that President Wilson or Secretary Bryan, whose administration has gone farther along temperance lines than any before, would give their unqualified approval of a tool of the liquor interests. It pays for a candidate to be fair, even under provocation.
