THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON LAST SUNDAY

Rev. E. R. Todd of St. Luke's Church Preaches Annual Sermon to the Graduating Class.

The annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the local high school was preached last Sunday evening at St. Luke's Episcopal church, by Rev. E. R. Todd. The church was packed to the limit for the occasion. Rev. Todd had chosen for his subject, "The Choice of a Master," and the text was found in Joshua 14:15. "Choose you this day whom ye will serve."

He spoke as follows: "Being allowed to give the farewell advice (for that is what a Baccalaureate sermon is) to a class of young men and young women, some of whom are leaving their preliminary school life to start on a new and more definite phase of their mental training in preparation for their life's work, and some of whom will start right on in their vocation, is one of the greatest privileges accorded to a man to whom has been given the moral care of those of God's children to whom he may minister. And I feel this responsibility greatly because you will need advice and guidance that you may start out and keep in the path which God wants you, as his children, to take. May God give me grace to speak words to you that will help you to make a right start."

"So I wish to take for my text tonight these words, taken from the 14th chapter of the Book of Joshua, the 15th verse, 'Choose you this day whom ye will serve.'"

"This was the farewell charge, or baccalaureate address of the veteran chief, Joshua, to the tribes of Israel gathered together at Shechem. He had watched the childhood of the nation. He had seen the band of fugitives organized into an army, disciplined by adversity, entering at last as a victorious nation on the promised possession."

"He had watched their religious history, the triumph of the great truth of the One God which they were to hold as a sacred deposit, and hand down to after ages. It was their greatness that to them were committed 'the oracles of God,' yet he had seen them already false to their high mission."

"He had seen them following after numerous, strange gods, and getting into trouble, and they were in his keeping. He knew that he was the keeper."

CONVENTION GOOD IN SPITE OF ROADS

Temperance Forces Have Enthusiastic Meeting Last Saturday.

The county option convention was a decided success in spite of preceding days of gloomy weather and several days of rain which rendered roads impassable for a distance, and made a large attendance from other parts of the county very difficult.

The spirit which was shown by the through which filled the courthouse Saturday afternoon foretells a good big vote June 7. Had we had a fine day Saturday the crowds could not have found room in the courthouse.

The delegates were slow in arriving for the morning session, but at 11:15 the convention was called to order by the chairman of the county option central committee and the call was read. The committee had slated Senator Grandt as temporary chairman but the bad roads made it impossible for him to come. The convention then elected the county chairman and the county secretary for the temporary organization.

A motion was made for a committee on credentials, and the chair appointed Prof. A. E. Nelson of Willmar, Mr. Andrew Reigstad of Aretander and P. M. Burns of Kandiyohi to serve in this capacity. A motion was carried for a committee of five on resolutions and Atty. G. H. Otterness, Jalmar Larson, Martin A. Anderson, Rev. A. Ryden and C. A. Baklund were appointed.

Atty. Charles Johnson, Axel T. Johnson and John Wicklund were appointed on permanent organization.

On motion of Mr. S. B. Qvale, the central committee was authorized to incur the expense of sending notices by mail to each voter to remind them of the election, the estimated cost being $50.00.

Mr. Eben E. Lawson was called on to sing his no-license campaign song. A number of those present were called on for remarks: Peter Bonde, Rev. A. Ryden, Martin A. Anderson, Rev. Theodore Livingstone, Prof. A. E. Nelson, Rev. J. L. Parmeter, A. H. Sperry, Axel T. Johnson and S. S. Glarum. All spoke in an enthusiastic vein about the probable result of the election in the county, if the people will go to the polls.

The committee on permanent organization recommended the retention of the temporary officers and this was adopted—V. E. Lawson as chairman and Rev. Livingstone as secretary.

The following delegates handed in their credentials:

Willmar (City)—First Ward—K. T. Rykken and Eric A. Glad. Second Ward—E. R. Olson, Peter Hoglund, E. M. Stanford, O. R. Berkness, Irwin Roberts.

Third Ward—L. A. Tjosvold, C. G. Hoglund, Robert Ives, Lewis Johnson, S. B. Qvale. Fourth Ward—Lars Tendal, Swan Anderson, J. A. Hedin, E. N. Nelson, Henry Stenson.

Village of Kandiyohi—P. Lawler, Wm. Cosman, J. T. Isaacson, Nels Norell, A. P. Salmanson. Village of New London—Arne Larson.

The afternoon session opened with several selections by the Metropolitan Boys' Orchestra of Willmar, which were enthusiastically received.

A high school quartet rendered Kandiyohi County's Marching song, sung at the State Convention in 1905.

The report of the credentials committee was approved and the resolutions as read by Atty. G. H. Otterness were adopted unanimously. The resolutions appear in full elsewhere in this issue.

A number of representative men were called on for speeches. Hon. P. H. Frye spoke for Senator Grandt and himself, and reviewed some of the objections made to county prohibition and how they were met in the legislature. Our representative was given the closest attention and received an enthusiastic response.

Judge T. O. Gilbert said he was one of those who at first had felt that an election was unnecessary in this county, but had found that this position did not bear close analysis, especially from the standpoint of the moral effect that a vote would have. Willmar's example had been a potent one in the past and the county now had the chance to make its influence felt in the same way. He therefore hoped that everybody would get out to the polls and make the result better than four to one, as had been suggested, and nearer the old slogan of 1896, six-teen to one.

Gabriel Stone of Lake Andrew made an impassioned appeal for votes against the liquor traffic and reviewed some of the scenes at the great railroad disaster at Willmar in 1892.

At this juncture the chairman appointed Messrs. Chas. Lonn, Peter Bonde and William Olson to take up a collection to meet the expenses of the postal card issue decided upon at the morning session. Treasurer Frye reported that the collection amounted to $57.25.

The next speaker was County Attorney Charles Johnson. He spoke strongly in favor of a decisive vote. A favorable result at all who believe that it is a good thing would come out and say so at the polls.

Mrs. Emery Parnell spoke for the W. C. T. U. and the part women had contributed in the fight which was now coming to fruition. How the W. C. T. U. had been instrumental in securing the teaching of evil effects of alcohol on the human system in the public schools, and had always been in the forefront in the battle for better social conditions. Mrs. Parnell made an able talk, and received an ovation.

Mrs. B. Y. McNairy then favored the convention with a vocal selection which was enthusiastically encored, and much appreciated by the audience.

One pastor of each principal church denomination in the county had been asked to be present, but bad roads prevented several of these from being present.

Rev. M. B. Michaelson spoke for the Lutheran Free church, Rev. W. B. Jones for the Presbyterian, Rev. W. E. Pearson for the Swedish Lutheran, Rev. Mons Sotendahl for the United Lutheran church and Rev. J. L. Parmeter for the Methodists. All expressed their pleasure of conditions during the dry policy and urged our people to be true to their convictions, true to their church, and true to their

RALLY TO THE POLLS AS A CIVIC DUTY

Resolutions Adopted at the County Option Convention.

"We, the people of Kandiyohi County in convention assembled pursuant to CALL to consider the matters pertaining to the County Option Election to be held on the 7th day of June, 1915 in and for the County of Kandiyohi to determine by the votes of its electors whether sales of intoxicating liquors therein shall be prohibited; and this convention is for the further purpose to organize and rally the temperance forces of the county to insure a full representation at the polls; and,

"Whereas, the recent County Option Law passed by the last Legislature and signed by the Governor, gives the County the right to vote as a unit on the liquor question, a right which this county has demanded repeatedly in representative conventions in the past; and,

"Whereas, an early disposition of the question is desirable for a number of reasons, the chief of which are:

"1. The making of every inch of Kandiyohi County dry territory by vote of the people prohibiting the establishment of wholesale depots and making illegal solicitation of liquor orders, either by agents or by mail; and prohibiting the sale and traffic therein in any form whatsoever.

"2. The final disposition of all local contests on the question and definitely disposing of the liquor issue in Kandiyohi County;

"3. The moral effect that an overwhelming victory for the dry forces in Kandiyohi County will have on its own voters and in other counties less fortunately situated in this great movement that is sweeping the State of Minnesota.

"And WHEREAS, a large contingent of our people have asked for this special election.

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that this convention, composed of representatives from all parts of Kandiyohi County, do hereby urge upon all voters to spare the time and make every effort required to go to the polls on June 7th, in order that a full vote may be registered, and the result of the election may place our county where the sentiment of its people entitles it to be, namely at the head in this issue; that our people will rally to the polls as a civic duty, and help make Kandiyohi County the Banner County of this our commonwealth, the State of Minnesota."

country by coming out and registering their votes on this issue. Rev. Sotendahl called attention to the fact that in voting correctly on the issue in this election the "X" must be placed after the word "Yes" while in the village elections it has always been necessary to vote "No." He hoped this would not lead to any confusion so that people would vote against their own convictions. The chairman stated that the postal cards to be mailed to the voters would show the correct way of marking the ballot.

Martin A. Anderson of Genessee spoke and said that he hoped now when the farmers had secured the right to vote on this question they would not neglect the matter but come out and show they valued their rights. Leonard Johnson of Atwater announced the rally to be held at Atwater Monday evening, and invited all to attend.

A telegram from Atty. P. J. Youngdahl of Minneapolis was read in which he stated that owing to a mishap to an automobile he missed the morning train and could not address the convention as he had expected.

The convention closed with the singing of America, with Mrs. Emery Parnell at the piano.

MEMORIAL STONE UNVEILED SUNDAY

Immense Throng Attends Interesting Exercises at Eagle Lake.

Ideal spring weather, doubly welcome after a week of rain and cloudy weather, graced the unveiling of the monument on the grave of Rev. Ole Paulson last Sunday. A great multitude of people from all parts of the county, including a large contingent from Willmar, as well as visitors from afar, gathered at the Eagle Lake church for this occasion. In the main the program was carried out as given in our last issue.

At the morning services the Memorial Day address in English was given by Dr. C. M. Roen, M. D., of Minneapolis, a son of a veteran, Rev. P. W. Erickson having been prevented from coming. Dr. Roen's address is spoken of as an able effort and pleased the G. A. R. veterans present very much. The festival sermon was addressed by Prof. E. P. Harbo. Songs were rendered by the united church choirs of Willmar and Eagle Lake under the direction of Mr. Lyness.

Dinner was served to all by the ladies. This was a big undertaking but it was successfully carried out. No charge was made for the dinner, but a free will offering was taken for the benefit of the homes which amounted to $57.00.

The unveiling festivities took place in the church yard, beginning at two o'clock and for two and a half hours a vast throng remained standing closely around the improvised speaker's stand, while oratory and song held their close attention. Rev. E. E. Gynlid presided. The first number was a song by the chorus. Rev. W. M. Hagen spoke of Rev. Ole Paulson's labors in his first field as an ordained minister, in the Trinity church at Minneapolis, and it is said that he was the first Norwegian Lutheran minister located at Minneapolis.

Rev. Gynlid spoke of Rev. Paulson's work at Willmar and vicinity, sketching a few of the more important activities in which he was a factor.

Normaendenes Sangforening of Willmar, directed by Mr. Olof Sundt, with Rev. Walter E. Pearson of the Bethel Lutheran church as soloist, then sang "Den Store Hvide Flok."

Rev. H. J. Urdahl, the present pastor at Blanchardville, and adjoining congregations spoke of Rev. Paulson's work there during the last twenty years of his active pastoral life. He closed with bringing out a beautiful wreath of flowers which the people of his churches had delegated him to place on the grave of the departed pastor on this occasion.

The Norwegian Singing Society sang "Nør Fjorðene blaaner." Rev. M. B. Michaelson of Willmar then gave a biographical sketch of the departed soldier-pastor.

Ole Paulson was born April 26, 1822, at Wolberg, Grue, Soler, Norway. He came to America in 1850. He first located at Muskegon, then in Decorah, and in 1854 in Corner, Minn., being one of the first eleven Scandinavian settlers in that county. In 1858 he was married to Miss Inger Loberg, who still survives and was present at these festivities. Ole Paulson became converted and his purpose in life was changed. He became a colporteur and travelled about selling Bibles and other good books and conducting devotional exercises. Feeling need of training he entered the Augustana Seminary at Chicago in 1861. The Civil war broke out and scattered this school and Paulson answered his country's call and enlisted in Co. H Ninth Minnesota Volunteers. He served as both lieutenant and captain of his company. The regiment saw service in Gen. Sibley's expedition against the Indians west in the South. After his experiences in the war Paulson returned to his theological studies which he finished at Paxton, Ill., in 1868. He was ordained that year as pastor of the Trinity church at Minneapolis. In 1874 he accepted a call to Willmar where he labored twelve years. He then went to Blanchardville, Wis., where he served the last twenty years of his active ministry. In 1905 he retired and moved to Fargo. He died in 1907, April 20, and on April 26, his birthday, his remains were interred in the Eagle Lake cemetery, where the memorial stone was unveiled on this occasion. The idea of erecting the monument originated with the "Mands og Krivde forening" of the Willmar church, of which Rev. Paulson was the founder, and all the congregations which Rev. Paulson served joined in raising the necessary funds.

At the close of Rev. Michaelson's address the chorus sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Rt. Rev. Johan Mattson, President of the Lutheran Free Church of America, then made the unveiling address, in which he reviewed the life work of Rev. Paulson and paid tribute to his nobility of character. At the close of his talk the speaker gave the word that released the covering from the granite spire and revealed the stone to view. He accepted the stone as a gift to the Free church from the local societies, and in turn delivered it to the Paulson family and in the particular care of the Eagle Lake congregation.

The Norwegian male chorus then gave another song "Olaf Trygvasson," whereupon Prof. E. P. Harbo made some remarks. Then followed a declamation by Miss Nora Gynlid, and some closing remarks by the local pastor, Rev. E. O. Larsen. The chorus sang America while the color bearer of the G. A. R. waved the stars and stripes over the grave, and the exercises closed with the benediction.

The members of the Col. Heg Post of G. A. R. present as guests of honor at these festivities were Gov. A. E. Rice, J. B. Boyd, M. Jorgenson, A. H. Sperry, C. Hennings, E. M. Stanford, John Costello and Irving Roberts, also C. Rosmon, a Civil war veteran who has lately moved here from Raymond.

The monument is a spire of red St. Cloud granite, which rises eleven feet above the base. On the bottom appears the word "Eagle" and on the side facing west is the following inscription:

OLE PAULSON. 1822-1907. MENIGHEDERNE, HAN TIENTE, HAR REIST DENNE MINDESTEN I TAKNEMMELIG ERKJENDELSE AF DET KIRKELIGE ARBEJDE HAN UDFORTE BLANT VORT FOLK. TILSIGNET VAERE HANS MINDE.

Translated to English the inscription paragraph is as follows: "The congregations, which he served, have raised this memorial in thankful consideration of the church work which he did among our people. Blessed be his memory."

All the surviving members of the Paulson family except one were present at the festivities: Mrs. Ole Paulson and daughter, Helga of St. Paul; Mr. Martin Paulson and son, John of Argyle, Wis.; Mr. Olof Paulson, of Argyle, Wis.; Mr. Agost Paulson of Fargo, N. D.; Mr. Paul Paulson, who stays at Eagle Lake at present; Mrs. John Nelson of Hillsboro, N. D.; and Mrs. Anna Linwell, of Northwood. One daughter, Mrs. Alpha Romsdau of Calumet, Mich., was unable to be present. The daughter, Mrs. A. W. Anderson, died last November.

Among the visitors was Mr. Iver Hain, the editor of Folkebladet, of Minneapolis, the official organ of the Free church, also Rev. J. Martenson of Maynard and Rev. E. Aas of Minneapolis, the latter two who came up especially for the meeting of the Board of directors of the Bethesda Homes which met Monday.
