VALEDICTORY.
"I Can."
Lena M. Nelson,
District 97.
"I can," are words worthy to be known by people in all ranks, from the poor laborer to the great statesman. Such a watchword will help us progress in life. In life we often hear people saying, "I can't." Do you think such people will gain success in their pursuits? No, they will not. We must determine to accomplish the work set before us. Every time a hard task is presented to us, let us not say, "I can't"; be the watchword of the hour not the motto of "I can't" but the nobler, "I'll try"; then with the determination to master the difficulty, in spite of all difficulties we shall gain success.

"I can," is an admirable motto for school life. Then, tasks are daily set before us which may for a moment seem impossible for us to do. But if we have courage to do them, if we resolve to master them, our very resolution will cause the difficulty to take on less frightful proportions. But, it is not only in school life that "I can" is a good motto. After school is finished there lies before us, which, though it be long or short, must be lived worthily. It is then we face more real difficulties than those which we found in school life, and which will need more courage to overcome. Let us then remember the motto, "I can," which will certainly quicken us to greater endeavor to accomplish tasks which may possibly be not done without it. How have the great men of all times attained greatness and success in life? Was it by thinking that the work set before them was impossible to do? I think not. It was by determining to do their tasks that they surmounted all difficulties, that they rose higher and higher, and at last became great and honored.

Think of Abraham Lincoln, perhaps the greatest of American statesmen. He rose from a poor boy in the wilderness, to an honored president, whose death caused a whole nation to mourn. He rose because he overcame obstacles, which to others, in his situation would have seemed insurmountable. If other people before us have accomplished great things by determining to do them, why cannot we, who have better opportunities, do the same. "Keep your standards high, attempt great things, expect great things, and you will accomplish great things."

But we must first of all accomplish the tasks which lie nearest us. We must not think of the great things that we will do when we grow older, because true worth, is in being, not seeming, in doing, each day that goes by, some good, not in dreaming of great things to do by and by. We may often, when we grow older, with little regret, think of the opportunities offered us in our youth, which were not used because we fancied the tasks which followed them too difficult for us to perform.

"Somebody said 'that it couldn't be done.' But he, with a chuckle replied, 'May be it couldn't, but he would be one who wouldn't say till he'd tried.' So he buckled right in, with the trace of a grin on his face. If he worried he hid it. He started to sing as he tackled the thing, that couldn't be done And he did it. Somebody scoffed, 'O you'll never do that.' At least no one has ever done it." But he took off his coat, and he took off his hat; And the first thing we knew, he'd done it. With the lift of his chin, and a bit of a grin, Without any doubting or quiddit He started to sing, as he tackled the thing, That couldn't be done, and he did it. There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done. There are thousands to prophecy failure, There are thousands to point out to you one by one, The dangers that wait to assail you. But just buckle in, with a bit of a grin. Then take off your coat and go to it; Just start in to sing, as you tackle the thing. That cannot be done—and you'll do it."

To you, sir, the superintendent of our schools, in behalf of the class of 1915, I extend our hearty thanks for your work in the schools, for your genuine sympathy with all of our interests, and for the wisdom and consideration with which you have met the needs of our schools. I congratulate you on the growth and increasing influence of the schools of Kandiyohi county, to which you have so earnestly devoted your energies. Parents and members of the School Boards: We thank you for your care and for the interest that you have taken in our welfare. Believe that we will ever cherish in our hearts the thought that to a great extent, it is to you we owe the privileges we have enjoyed.

To you, the teachers of Kandiyohi county, we owe a great debt for your patient teachings. You have given us a good education, perhaps the only school education many of us will ever receive in life, for which we sincerely thank you. We will always remember you with grateful hearts when, in future years, whatever of wealth or honor is ours. We think of the means of success which you in a large measure have given us. Members of the graduating class of 1915: We have "thus ended our first lesson," which has been taught us in the schools of Kandiyohi county. We have said farewell to those golden days forever. But in memory they will always live as the most joyous part of our life. The time spent in study or enjoyment will never be forgotten. When we think of our school days, let it be with affection and gratitude for those who have so wisely and so generously placed the means of education within the reach of us all.

May prosperity and happiness attend both teachers and scholars in their future careers.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS
It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

SAD ACCIDENT IN VILLAGE YESTERDAY

Young Son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Warness Drowns.
A veil of gloom was cast over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Warness yesterday when their little son, Joel Reynold, aged one year and seven months, met death by drowning. The little lad was missed by his mother during the noon hour and she and the other children commenced to search for him. His sister, Malvina, found him about half past twelve, lying face downwards in about one foot of water in a ditch, just west of the Warness residence, which runs into the mill pond. A neighbor, E. A. Olander, was summoned, who carried the boy into the house and the doctor was immediately sent for, who found life to be extinct in the young boy. The little boy had apparently stumbled and fallen face downwards into the ditch in which position he was unable to cry out or be noticed by his playmates nearby.—New London Times.

Fire Insurance Money.

S. D. Works, Insurance Commissioner, sends out a statement showing amount of premiums paid and fire losses occurring in each town of Minnesota.

Premiums and fire losses in four largest towns of Kandiyohi county for the year 1914 were as follows:

In other figures, the four largest municipalities in the county last year paid out more than EIGHTEEN TIMES as much money in premiums as were received for fire losses.

During the past twenty-two years these same towns have paid out premiums and received fire losses as follows:

THEY ALL DEMAND IT
Willmar Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.
People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is Willmar evidence of their merit.

Mrs. C. Olson, 212 Trott Ave., Willmar, says: "I had backache and was bothered mostly when I was on my feet. When I stooped over or lifted, I felt pains through my body. I was certain that the trouble was caused by my kidneys and it may have been brought on by a cold. Prompt relief came when I used Doan's Kidney Pills and before long, I was rid of the ailments. The cure has been permanent. Another in our home used Doan's Kidney Pills for pains in the back and they did just as good work in that case."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Olson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Paid advertisement.)

Do you know that an editor or a reporter for a newspaper can in his rounds stop and ask a hundred persons "what is the news?" and "nothing" of the hundred will reply, "and nothing special," and yet 50 out of that number know something that, if not found in the next paper, will astonish them greatly and disappoint them more, and perhaps make them mad, than horns. Don't be afraid to let the newspaper man know it.—Ex-larg class before you now, endeavor to prove how many have succeeded.

We have just received a carload of Excelsior bicycles. Regular price, $35.00; our price, $25.00. Come in and see them. P. J. Persen, Motorcycle Shop.—Adv

SALUTATORY.
By Goldie Felt.
District 39.
Kind parents, teachers, schoolmates and friends: We wish to extend to you all a most hearty welcome to this our county graduation and to endeavor to show you, in an indirect way, what has been accomplished during the past school year. We have all had the same aim in view, and that was, to pursue our studies in such a way, that we could successfully graduate from the common school course of our county, and this still, as our motto implies, we have not finished our school work but simply have begun. We have finished one phase of school work and passed one milestone of our life, and have yet many more before us. May not one of us think that because we have accomplished this much, we are now free to put books and all things pertaining to study away, and feel satisfied that our education is finished; but may we all feel that we have simply begun and that we have much to learn in order to make our education complete.

Speaking of education let us not think that it means only the pursuit of studies but that it means everything that will tend to make our lives more complete. Let us be ever watchful for things that will help us to become better men and women.

Perhaps all of us will not be able, thru certain circumstances to attend any higher institutions of learning; yet may we not let that hinder us from becoming better educated. We can find many ways in which to accomplish this and some are; by studying certain subjects by ourselves, by reading good books, by studying nature, for there are many things which nature can teach us, and by being ever on the lookout for new things in life. May not one day go by without making us feel that we have learned something of value, no matter how small and insignificant it seems at the time. Let us keep in mind the good old adage, "Tall oaks from little acorns grow," and may we feel that we are fitting ourselves little by little to fill the places of men and women of today.

In closing I wish to say that we are all glad that we have had the opportunity to finish the course in the common schools of Kandiyohi county and we hope that we all may have the same chance in the higher. If we have but the desire and will power, we can not help but succeed and may we ever keep in mind our motto, "Not Finished But Begun." I thank you.
