The first base ball tournament of the season in these parts will be held tomorrow, Thursday, at Stewart, when the fast teams representing Stewart, Hutchinson and Glenoc will participate. At one-thirty Glenoc and Hutchinson will play and at three-thirty the winners will play Stewart. Each game is for a purse of $100.

The Benson team this year has been playing a classy article of base ball, and at this writing have won five games straight, without a loss. Willmar plays at Benson on Sunday, July 11th, and by that time we hope will be able to make a creditable showing, as a victory over Benson is always a pleasant morsel for Willmar fans to digest.

Next Sunday Morris comes here for a return game. Willmar will, in this contest present their strongest lineup of the season, and should get away with the game. So far this season, the main fault has been a lack of team play and unity, but this is gradually being remedied, and one of these days, the crowd will be surprised by the neat work of the team. It has been necessary this year to almost entirely reconstruct the infield, and of course this takes time to get the new men working smoothly together.

Willmar played a ball from start to finish last Sunday at Morris, and the result was a clean cut victory for the locals by a score of 5 to 1. The game was exceptionally fast, and several classy plays were pulled off. Morris was absolutely helpless before Buck's side arm and underhand delivery, and but for an excusable error, an over throw of third base, in the eighth inning, they would have had to be content with nine goose eggs. The play in detail follows: First Inning, Nordstrom fanned. Severinsson flew to short and Archie Carlson was called out on strikes. For Morris Markel led off and Nordstrom captured his foul behind the plate. Buck threw Andrushek out at first, and Kennedy fouled out to Nordstrom. Gordhamer began the second with a clean drive to left and Buck sacrificed. Bill Johnson flew to Andrushek and Kiland fanned. Buck threw Irwin out at first, and Tomlin was hit by a pitched ball. He stole second as Peterson fanned. With two strikes Buttel singled to left and Kiland's perfect throw to the plate nailed Tomlin by twenty feet.

Art Carlson opened the third by fanning and Nelson threw him out at first. Lundquist was thrown on Freeman's error and was safe on attempting to steal second. Nordstrom lined to Andrushek. Buck threw Freeman out at first and fanned Nelson. Markel beat out a hit to third and Gordhamer captured Andrushek's fly behind second. The fourth produced another Gordhamer hit. Severinsson was out, Markel to Freeman, and Carlson flew to Buttel, when Claude drove another safe one to right field. He stole second and died there when Buck batted. The inning was a brief one for Morris. Kennedy and Tomlin fanned, and Gordhamer threw Irwin out at first. The fifth saw Willmar's first run. Bill Johnson hit one in front of the plate and was retired at first. Kiland fanned. Art Carlson was safe on Markel's error and stole second. He took third on a passed ball, and when Nelson, the home team's catcher threw off his glove for some foolish reason, Art stole home. Lundquist walked but Nordstrom made the final out, Kennedy to Freeman.

For Morris Peterson and Buttel whiffed and Severinsson threw out Freeman. Severinsson opened the sixth by going safe on a first. Archie was hit by a pitched ball, but died on first when Gordhamer fouled to Nelson and Buck fanned. Morris went out in order. Severinsson threw Nelson out at first, making a remarkably quick recovery after juggling the drive. Markel flew to Archie Carlson and Kiland took Andrushek's long fly in foul territory in left field.

The game was won for Willmar in the seventh inning. Bill Johnson opened with a safety to left and pilfered second. He scored on Kiland's safe drive to left center, that Andrushek couldn't hold. Ed took second on the throw in. Art Carlson beat out a bunt and stole second. Art Lundquist then drove the ball far over the left fielder's head for two bases, scoring Kiland and Carlson. Lundquist stole third and scored on Severinsson's sacrifice after Nordstrom had fanned. Arch Carlson walked and stole second, but oversteered the sack. Kennedy fouled out to Kiland in left field, and Irwin singled to left field, and stole second. Torrey batted for Tomlin and struck out. Nordstrom threw Peterson out at first. Gordhamer opened the eighth by fanning. Buck then drove a long double to left field but died at second, when Bill Johnson flew to Kennedy and Kiland fanned.

Morris got their run in the eighth. Buttel singled to center and stole second. Monlux batted for Freeman and was safe when Buck threw to second, catching Buttel off the sack. Monlux stole second and when Bill Johnson threw out at first, Monlux scored. Markel beat out an infield hit and stole second. Buck then caught him fat footed off the sack with a quick throw. Willmar had the bases jammed in the ninth but failed to push a run across. Art Carlson fanned and Lundquist walked. Nordstrom was safe on Nelson's poor throw to second, attempting to force Lundquist, on Obble's tip in front of the plate. Severinsson singled to left filling the bases. Archie Carlson fanned and Gordhamer forced Lundquist at home, Buttel to Nelson.

Andrushek fouled to Nordstrom, who made a beautiful catch, chasing halfway to third after the ball. Kennedy was hit and stole, but died there when Irwin fanned and Severinsson went out in left field after Torrey's fly. With the exception of the third inning, when Andrushek flew to Gordhamer, Nordstrom and Bill Johnson got credit for every putout made by Willmar, there was one out in the sixth inning. Nordstrom had a busy day of it behind the bat, one of his catches of a foul fly, being a dandy, as he chased nearly to third base to make the play. Art Lundquist's two bagger in the seventh inning was a terrific smash that would have gone for a three bagger easily for a faster man, while in the following round, Buttel punched one to practically the same place, and held up at second, also he could have stretched it into a triple without much trouble. Severinsson showed his ability at grabbing Texas leaguers, when he raced out into left field and snared Torrey's fly to end the game. He was running with his back to the diamond when the catch was made. It was a treat to see the way Buck worked the Morris hitters. Time and again he floated up slow ones, with a nice break on, at which the batters swung in vain. Then zig would come a fast one, and the batters stood and gazed at it, waiting for the break, which never came. His control was fine, too, the men who got to first by being hit seemed to prefer to punch to moving out of the way of the ball. Buttel pitched a good game for Morris as he worked too hard at the start of the game. For six innings he allowed but two hits, both made by Gordhamer, but in the seventh the strain told and four nice drives were bunched, which with a sacrifice hit and three stolen bases netted four runs. Art Carlson stole three bases, one of them home in the fifth, while Gordhamer, Bill Johnson and Lundquist contributed one apiece. Markel, Kennedy, Irwin, Tomlin, Burns (running for Buttel) and Monlux each stole one for the home team. Two of these were nullified though, by Buck's catching them off second.

Not So Bad. Once in a while you will discover a newspaper that carries some motto regularly in print but the most unique thing of this kind was discovered recently in an exchange from Kansas: Its motto is "Lie, Steal, Drink and Swear," and it is thus explained by the editor: "When you lie, let it be down to pleasant dreams; when you steal, let it be away from hell's associates; when you drink, let it be pure water; when you swear, let it be that you will patronize your home paper, pay your subscription and not send your job work away from home."—Ex. Russell Soderling spent Sunday visiting at Montevideo, and while there suffered the misfortune of fracturing his arm. We haven't heard the particulars of the accident, but it is said he was run into by an auto. Mrs. H. S. Gordhamer of Kerkhoven spent last week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Youngberg in this city.

CIRCUS HAS COMPLETE ZOO. Wonderful Menagerie Now Found With Barnum and Bailey Show.

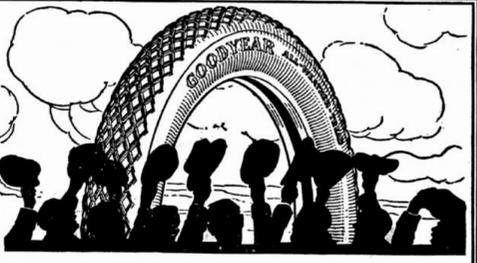

One of the things that has added greatly to the fame of the Barnum and Bailey circus is its menagerie. The management has always held that in building up and maintaining a really great menagerie it was doing untold good to the youth of the land as well as entertaining them. It is a good thing for all boys and girls to read natural history. How much more beneficial it is to bring these animals before the eyes of the student here he may study them at close range.

The Barnum and Bailey circus is the only one in the world that has its own animal hunters and trappers. The various animal agencies distributed throughout Europe deal only in those animals which are common to the zoos of every city of size. Rare creatures which do not breed in captivity are not found there. Here lies the reason why other shows with neither a hunter nor a trapper in their employ, have nothing year after year to show their patrons but the common lions, tigers, a sprinkling of deer and bears, a few elephants and various other unimportant types which from long being seen are scarcely of more interest than a goat or an oxen. In the Barnum and Bailey menagerie are 110 cages, dens, tanks and pens in which are to be found 1,200 animals. Various displays are a five-ton hippopotamus, a double-horned rhinoceros, bears from the Arctic regions and from a dozen other climates, wild boars from the German black forest, kangaroos from Australia, horned horses from Africa, forty elephants, herds of llamas and yaks, zebras, vank vaarks, hyenas, porcupines, tapers, ant-eaters, ostriches, emus, chimpanzees, orang-outangs, caribou sealions, seals, peccaries, wolver hogs and all varieties of the cat, monkey and deer tribes. There are surprises in this menagerie, even to the naturalist, for there are specimens found elsewhere only in the tropical thickets far from the haunts of man. Much interesting knowledge may be picked up here. The attendants are used to being questioned and they are all practical animal men. The elephant does not smell with its trunk. Far back in the roof of its mouth are two holes. These are its smelling apparatus. An elephant has to put its food into its mouth to test it. There are two feathers on every quill in the emu's back. The viak vaark has warts on its nose when they are plentiful. When hard times come the warts disappear. The hippopotamus exudes blood from its pores when angry. The male ostrich sits on the eggs during the day time. When the circus comes to Willmar Saturday, July 3, a full hour will be devoted to the menagerie after the doors are open.

MEEKER'S SURPRISE. Official Vote in Our Eastern Neighbor. Surprise to Both Sides.

Litchfield News Ledger: Monday's special county option election resulted in the greatest surprise ever given to the voters of this county, both for and against county option, and with the insignificant, but very effective, small majority of 19 votes, it seems that quite a number of the 1,000 voters who failed to do their duty can now hear an echo of "why didn't I go and vote." And there were just about 1,000 who did not take the trouble, on that day. The surprise can be imagined when it was generally conceded by both the dry and wet voters that the majority in favor of county option would show up all the way from 300 to 1,000 votes, based on the results of elections elsewhere.
