AT THE PLAYHOUSES
MAJESTIC.

"The Island of Regeneration." The attraction at the Majestic Theatre for Friday of this week, will be "The Island of Regeneration," the first of the "Big Four" pictures booked by Manager Carey. Edith Storey, Antonio Moreno and S. Rankin Drew take the leading parts.
The story concerns Katherine Brenton, an idealist, who, believing she has found a true companion in Langford, goes with him for an ocean voyage on his yacht, but before long the consequences are that Katherine leaves the vessel in the dead of night in a motor boat. She reaches the island where John Charnock has spent most of his life in solitude. He is wild and she is confronted with the task of educating him in every respect of the word.
Such well chosen locations, such gorgeous light effects, such pleasing and suitable photography have rarely been equaled. The earthquake and storm scene on the desert island is superbly done, the water scenes are all artistic and the island in tranquility is beautiful with its southern vegetation and uncivilized atmosphere.

"The Absentee." This is an allegorical masterpiece, in five reels, featuring Olga Gray and Robert Edeson. It will be shown at the Majestic Theatre Tuesday evening of next week, Sept. 7th. This is the first of a new series of features booked by Manager Carey, to be shown each Tuesday evening. Power, Might, Evil, Ambition, Contentment, Sage, Justice, Happiness, Innocence, Extravagance and Vanity are depicted in this picture by some of the leading lights in the film world. It is an unusual picture and one that has taken exceptionally well wherever shown.

DREAMLAND.

"Mrs. Plum's Pudding." "Mrs. Plum's Pudding" will be the special feature picture at Dreamland Thursday evening of this week. This picture marks the film debut of Marie Tempest, one of the cleverest comedienne on the legitimate stage. The story deals with a penniless widow, who, unknowingly has her home built above an oil gusher. One day the home is blown sky high by the gusher, and she loses everything, including the cat, but gets about seven million dollars for her property. She then tries to break into society, and her ups and downs are many and funny, making a nice plot for a picture.

Willmar Opera House. A musical comedy organization that is claimed to be "A morning star in the comedy world," is what Kelly-Kneeland are offering their patrons this season. Their engagement here is for 3 days and the theatre will no doubt display their standing room sign nightly. They have received very flattering press comments from every city they have visited this season. Besides a splendid cast of principal they have a chorus of beautiful girls, singing girls, dancing girls and girls that are good to look at, a carefully selected bunch of American beauties, an invincible innovation in the musical field. A new play will be presented every night, each play is written by Mr. Frank Kelly and while free from all vulgarity and horse play they keep the audience in a happy frame of mind with intermittent bursts of laughter guaranteed not to be more than a minute apart from start to finish. Comedy is the principal ingredient used in weaving together a pot-pouri of songs, dances and novel situations although a very pretty story is developed in each and every production. This is a remarkably large company to be playing at "painless prices," 25c, 35c and 50c, however, their season here has been very successful and as they remain in each city 3 days, it cuts down the railroad and several other expenses and the management profit in playing a longer engagement than one day.
This company will play in this city next week, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Sept. 6, 7 and 8.

Rev. E. O. Larsen conducted services in District No. 62 last Sunday afternoon.
Mrs. John Otterness spent two days in Willmar last week visiting with relatives and friends.
Miss Thora Otterness is home for a short vacation after having been employed at the Bethesda Homes during the summer.
Mrs. C. Sambor had the misfortune of receiving quite serious injuries when falling from a buggy last Friday. Her horse became unmanageable and she was thrown out. She will be compelled to stay in bed for some time.

Indians Maybe. J. J. Carlock, while splitting up a chunk of wood from a burr oak tree that he had just felled, at his lake cottage, found embedded therein two bullets. From all appearances they must have been there for at least 30 years, as they were over three inches from the bark of the tree. Their size would indicate that they came from the muzzle of an old 45 calibre Springfield rifle. How, when or why they were there is a mystery. Perhaps they were put there by some body shooting at a target, a deer, or perhaps an Indian, who was skulking behind the tree for protection. At any rate the piece of wood is a curio, and no telling what tale it might tell, could it speak.—Paynesville Press.
