Thousands of Central States Farmers in California.

If you want to continue farming in your late ears, why do so in this cold climate, where there crops and live stock?

We have several ten acre tracts and larger, that make ideal farms, located four to eight miles from Sacramento, where the State of California is expending four million on additions to Capitol buildings;
other expenditures being made of $100,000 on golf and country club; and coment boulewards that d country club; and cement boulevards that run rough our land. In addition to big profits raisthrough our land. In addition to big profits raising oranges, olives, nuts, grapes, grape-fruit, etc., and general truck farming, this will make you a perfect home. If you wish to retire and yet do a little outdoor work, this is the place to locate. Our average temperature year around is 60 to 68 degrees, a climate that adds vigor and long life in the plant as well as the planter. It is an acknowledged fact that the California climate has benefitted thousands of people from the Northwestern and Central States, adding ten years to their lives, particularly the women. You have good neighbors, schools, churches, raifroads and interurban cars. We invite your inspection when you will find all statements we make are true. This is our own property, owned by Minnesota business men.
