BAD WRECK ON WATERTOWN LINE

Engineer and Fireman On Passenger Train Found Covered With Coal.

A head on collision occurred last Friday evening about six thirty o'clock on the Watertown branch of the Great Northern, half a mile west of LaBolt, S. D. The trains to collide were west bound passenger No. 185, which connects with the afternoon passenger at Benson, and eastbound freight No. 330. The accident happened but half a mile from the LaBolt station, and this probably prevented a great loss of life, as had the passenger been traveling at full speed, nothing could have saved the crew and passengers.

The freight was endeavoring to make LaBolt for a meeting point, and when almost there, the crew discovered the passenger train leaving that place. The freight was stopped, and it is claimed a flagman sent out to warn the approaching train of the danger. Neither engineer or fireman on the passenger were on the lookout, as there was some trouble with the grates in the frebox, and both men were attending to that, so the presence of the flagman was not noticed. Neither did they hear the shrieking of the whistle on the freight locomotive. In fact it seems the only person, either passenger or member of the crew, on the passenger train to hear the whistle, was the express messenger, and he escaped with slight injuries.

When the engines crashed, the boilers were telescoped, and the engines practically demolished. That neither of the engineers or firemen were killed seems a miracle. The engine crew of the passenger were the most seriously injured. George Pelton of this city being badly burned and scalded, while engineer Clarity of Watertown, who was badly hurt he was taken to a hospital at that place. Gus Kagel was the conductor on the passenger and he was severely shaken up, as were the mail clerk and brakemen.

The cause of the collision has not been determined yet, as no investigation can be held until engineer Clarity and fireman Pelton are able to be up and around. W. E. MacNeese of this city was the conductor on the freight. Carelessness more than anything else would seem to have been the cause, as there does not seem much excuse for two trains to meet head on, on a straight stretch of track in broad daylight.

A shower was given at the W. E. Boyd home last Friday evening, in honor of Miss Jennie Olson, a bride of this week. The evening was spent in contests of various kinds, delicious refreshments being served at a late hour. The honor guest was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts.

WHOLESALE FRUIT HOUSE FOR WILLMAR

E. P. Stacy & Co. Of Minneapolis Are Negotiating For A Site.

E. P. Stacy & Company of Minneapolis have made application for the lease from the Great Northern of the right-of-way opposite the Co-operative store for the purpose of the erection of a wholesale fruit house. That is all that is public as yet about what will likely be Willmar's next acquisition for the wholesale distribution of products. It has long been the talk that Willmar would make a good point for the wholesale distribution of fruit, and E. P. Stacy & Co., have acted on the idea.

A pretty home wedding took place at the J. Markus Olson home in this city last night, when the daughter, Miss Jessie Olson, became the bride of Mr. Axel Nord, a young farmer from Milbank, S. D. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Hallin, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, at 8:30 p. m., in the presence of relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in white crepe de chine and wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Nord, sister of the groom and Miss Mary Olson, sister of the bride. The former wore embroidered crepe de chine and the latter pale green crepe de chine. The groom was attended by his two brothers, Messrs. Alfred and Oscar Nord. The rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers and cut flowers, and the ceremony was performed under a large bell of sweet peas. Music was furnished by an orchestra. A wedding dinner was served after the ceremony. Guests from a distance were, Mr. and Mrs. John Nord, parents of the groom, Miss Agnes and Messrs. Alfred and Oscar Nord of Milbank, S. D., and Miss Lina Olson of St. Paul. The newlyweds will be at home on the groom's farm near Milbank after August 1, whether they will go after a wedding motoring trip to various points. Many Willmar friends of the bride extend cordial congratulations.

The Landlord of The New Nevis. The Tribune received an interesting letter dated at Nevis, Minn., the other day from Martin Olson, a pioneer resident of this county who is now in the hotel business at Nevis. His hotel is The New Nevis, a practically fire-proof structure with twenty good rooms. They cater to outing parties, hunters and fishermen. Nevis has a fine school, an electric plant, a good bank, and is right up to date. The Olsons have now been there nearly a year and like their new home very much. Kandiyohi folks when out motoring in northern Minnesota, would find a hearty welcome at Nevis.

Trades Farm for City Property. A real estate deal of some importance was made last week, when F. G. Handy became the owner of the Andrew J. Dahl farm located 2 1/2 miles south of town. The Handy residence on Seventh and Becker and the former Severn Benson residence on Fifth street were taken by Mr. Dahl as part payment. The farm comprises two hundred acres and was figured at $125 per acre.

Little Damage to Crops. Hon. Marcus Johnson is in the city looking after business interests. He is optimistic in regard to the small grain crop. He has examined many fields in the Red River Valley and other places where black rust and blight had been reported as having destroyed the grain but actually found but very little of it. The cooler weather of the last few days has helped the grain in the filling.

New Telephone Directory. The new Willmar telephone directory issued this week departs from the previous custom of listing names of patrons, in that the names on rural lines adjacent to Willmar appear in alphabetical order among the other patrons, instead of being placed in a separate list.

Long Lake Ladies' Aid. Long Lake Ladies' Aid will meet at the G. J. Bratberg home, Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 2. A cordial invitation to all.

Heat Damaging Crops. John Wicklund of Kandiyohi reports that the grain crops are blighted bad, especially the marquis wheat. Oats will make only a half crop.

RINGLINGS DRAW RECORD CROWD

Willmar Remains On Circus Map By Immense Attendance Given.

Ringling Brothers' circus last Saturday drew the largest crowd Willmar has ever seen. The estimates of the crowd run from 20,000 to 30,000. There were about 3,500 autos in the town, and the pennants on the same indicated that they came from a radius of a hundred miles or more. Everywhere you might go in the city you would see autos parked in the yards and they lined the streets down town and near the circus grounds at the south end of Fifth street. The large garages were packed to the doors. Handy-Lewis Co., stored 95 cars. Mr. Downs of the pennants on the town indicated that they came from a radius of a hundred miles or more.
