HOT STREET FIGHT STIRS ORTONVILLE

Citizens Rout Army of Four Hundred Transients With Guns and Base Ball Bats.

There was a hot time in the old town at Ortonville Thursday night when an army of four hundred unemployed men evidently on their way to the harvest fields swooped down on the village. One of their number was arrested for begging whereupon his companions went to the jail and compelled his release. Then the business men organized a posse of about 350 men and started in pursuit. Several shots were exchanged but nobody was injured.

After the arrest of the man who did the begging fifteen of his companions thronged about the jail and warned the authorities of dire results should the incarceration of their member continue. When little attention was paid to the threats a mob of about 100 men moved in from the jungles west of town. Aroused by this display of boldness, between 350 and 400 citizens, mostly business men, armed themselves with everything from guns to baseball bats and set out on a determined expedition. When they encountered the "army" one of the transients drew a revolver and threatened to shoot should the citizens advance. No heed was paid and the shot rang out. Then the citizens opened fire and about twenty-five shots were fired over heads of the invaders.

When base ball bats began to flash in the evening sunlight, supported by a display of other weapons, a determined invasion lost heart and retreated. Similar troubles were experienced at Redfield, S. D., on the same day when three of the invaders were wounded, one seriously, after a battle in which 150 shots had been fired. Both at Ortonville and Redfield the invaders claimed they were members of the I. W. W. Many of their number were negroes.

Reports circulated through the southern states regarding the bumper crops in the northwest and the alleged shortage of men for the harvest because of the enlistment for the Mexican troubles, has caused a migration of unemployed men. So far Morris and this branch of the Great Northern have escaped the men because of the crop shortage in a large area of this city, and the men are sticking to the Milwaukee railroad and other lines coming up from Iowa and Nebraska. It is reported from Kansas City that several thousand idle men were there last week headed for western Minnesota and the Dakotas.—Morris Tribune.

FINAL ATTEMPT IS BIG SUCCESS

Others Failed But When Peterson Tried Tanlac He Improved.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 9.—Peter Peterson of 3047 Hennepin avenue, told the following story recently during one of the many daily discussions concerning Tanlac, the new medicine: "I have suffered from rheumatism for a long time. I had severe pains in my neck and shoulders. I couldn't sleep at times because of the severe pains. In the mornings I'd be so stiff I could hardly get around. "I have taken two bottles of Tanlac now and the severe pains in my neck and shoulders are rapidly disappearing. I'm not a bit stiff in my shoulders and neck when I get up in mornings now. Tanlac helped me where other medicines failed and it truly deserves the credit I give it." Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, the nervous system, rheumatism, nervousness, loss of appetite and the like. Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Willmar at A. E. Mossberg's drug store. (Paid Advertisement.)

Bums Get Reception.

There has been less trouble with "bums" and transients stealing rides and being put off at the Great Northern station, but Saturday night three knights of the road were inclined to get a little nasty when ordered to forsake their stolen ride and remain in Morris. The conductor and brakeman had been chasing them from one end of the train to the other and they ended up by riding on top of the express coach. The express messenger told them he didn't want them on his car when the train left Morris. They were inclined to be sassy and asked what would keep them from riding there if they wanted to. A repeating rifle lay across a package of express in the doorway and the intimation on the part of the messenger that he knew how to use it, caused the belated gentlemen to change their minds. They didn't ride further on that train.—Morris Sun.

I. W. W.'s at Breckenridge.

I. W. W. tourists are on their annual pilgrimages these days. Last week on train No. 409 a band broke a seal on a freight car, and then dared the crew to put them off. Finally they forced the crew out of the car. Officers met the train at Breckenridge and four men were arrested. They were given twenty-five days at hard labor.

I. W. W. warnings in the shape of posters placarded in various places of the country conclude with "we want $6 for ten hours or no work."

Retailers Should Heed Tip.

The disclosures of Mr. Rosenthal go to show just what an efficient organization the mail order house has, and also bears out the contention of The Interstate Grocer many times repeated in editorials and in special articles, that about the most effective way to meet mail order competition is for the retailer to advertise in the local paper, through the use of a store paper and by other means of a legitimate character which may be at hand. The advertising manager of Sears, Roebuck & Co., has, perhaps inadvertently, handed out an extremely valuable tip to retail merchants of the smaller towns as to how to combat mail order competition, although reputable trade papers have been pointing on this very subject for some time. When an official of a big catalog house admits, however, that he finds it hard to meet local competition in localities where the merchants advertise, it is about time that merchants generally woke up to the situation and took advantage of it.—From the Interstate Grocer, June 24, 1916.

The Young People's District convention of the Baptist churches of this district will be held at the Fahlun Baptist church Friday evening, Aug. 25, Saturday evening, Aug. 26 and Sunday, Aug. 27. Following are some of the papers who will be present: Rev. O. Feith of Maynard; Rev. Paul Hallin of Willmar; Rev. A. Paulson of Lake Elizabeth; Rev. C. E. Bergahl of Grove City and Prof. Henry Wingblade of St. Paul. A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. E. O. Erickson last Wednesday evening when Miss Bertha Benson was united in marriage to Charles L. Grover, a contractor of Olivia. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Erickson. Miss Carrie Benson, a sister of the bride, was a bridesmaid and Sam Hageman was the groom's attendant. The young couple left for a wedding trip to Detroit, Mich., in a Studebaker car, the terms of which they will make their future home in Goodhue county at the groom's former home. We all join with their friends in wishing them joy and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Christ Mattson and baby motored to Milaca, Bock and Mora, Saturday a week ago. They made the trip in a Ford car. The trip was made a last seeking trip. When at Milaca, they visited at Mrs. C. Peterson's home. Mr. Mattson has eighty acres of land in the vicinity of Milaca. He expects to move with his family to that place this fall. The farm is being rented here now will be rented to Emil Person next season. Mr. Johnson will make another trip in two weeks to the plieries, where he expects to purchase eighty acres of land. He has already sold and chopped their wheat off with axes; the same idea was carried out with barley cutting on Danger Lane farm. On Picnic Scene farm, the corn grows so large that Ole has to hoist the ears into the cribburg, all such a job for the boys. There will also be an egg race and a boys' foot race. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds, and also lunches. The Sunburg people extend a general invitation to people to attend.

The annual picnic of the Sunburg Cornet Band is a notable event that always draws a big crowd. It will be held this year next Sunday, Aug. 13.

The exercises will begin at eleven o'clock by a band concert by the Sunburg Band and visiting bands. This will be followed by addresses by Senator E. E. Lobeck of Alexandria and Judge R. T. Daly of Renville, and others. More band concerts will follow. There will be a contest at tug-of-war by two teams of men from north and south of Sunburg, all such a contest for boys. There will also be an egg race and a boys' foot race. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds, and also lunches. The Sunburg people extend a general invitation to people to attend.

LOCAL SPORT DOPE

Hutchinson fell before Litchfield at the latter place Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 4 in eleven innings. Hutch won two of the series of three games. The Renville ball team broke into the "won" column of the percentage table for a minute last week, when the team defeated Danube by a score of 11 to 3. Ted Shirley, Hutchinson's star left hand pitcher shut Litchfield out without a hit or run last Wednesday afternoon, at Hutchinson. The score was three to nothing. Spicer and Broten played at Spicer last Sunday. The game ended in the fifth inning in a dispute, the Broten manager calling his team off the field. The score was 1 to 0 in favor of the visitors at the time. For the third time this season Litchfield shut out the fast Stewart team, when they welded the white-wash brush last Wednesday and finished with two markers against a row of goose eggs for the opposition. Lake Lillian defeated Willmar in a good game of base ball Sunday, July 30th at Harding's pasture by a score of 10-8. Renstrom and Johnson were the battery for the winning giants. Following is the score by innings: Willmar . . . . . 0 0 0 3 3 1 1 0 - 8 Lake Lillian . . . . . 3 0 0 3 1 0 8 - 10 Litchfield was compelled to break loose from the league games in competition for a chance at the state title in the games to be played at the state fair next month. It became absolutely necessary for them to hire another pitcher or two in order to secure games with teams capable of drawing crowds. The Willmar ball park is no more. Last week the grand stand and what was left of the fence and bleachers were sold, and the new owner proceeded to take possession at once, tearing down his property and erecting a home for future use. This without doubt means the passing of base ball as an active sport from this city until such time as the slough over at the fair grounds is filled in and put in shape for athletic contests. The following notice sent out to all managers of ball teams entered in the race for the state championship, the games to be played at the State Fair next month, shows that the committee will stand pat on their rules and regulations in regard to eligibility of men composing the teams: "If rumors have been true within the last few days that some teams are so eager to win the independent championship of the state that they are playing other players than those named in their eligibility lists. It may be said unqualifiedly that any team in the Minnesota state fair independent base ball association found guilty of violating the eligibility rule will be expelled from the league. There are no strings attached to this regulation. Any club believing that another club is using ineligible players has the right to ask for the roster of that team. The player lists will be furnished by the director of base ball on request. If the protesting club proves that ineligible players have played with the opposing team, the violators will be dropped without further consideration. It is absolutely necessary, however, for all protests to be filed with the director of base ball, Minnesota state fair, Hamline, Minn., within three days after the game in question. This ruling on eligibility becomes effective Thursday, July 27, 1916, no protests on eligibility prior to July 27th being acceptable. The Minnesota state fair independent base ball association will stand by the eligibility rule even though the state championship series be played between second-rate but honest players."

TWO AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE HEAD-ON

Too Much Booze Causes Accident. Driver of Car Arrested for Being Drunk. As a result of too much booze and figuring in an automobile accident Sunday evening, Christ Lesterberg of Kerkhoven township, had the pleasure of spending the night in the county jail and paying a fine of $5 in the municipal court the following morning. In addition to the fine, he will have to pay the costs of having two automobiles repaired. Lesterberg, in company with George and Theo. Ellingboe and a man named Carlson were in Benson Sunday evening with an automobile. They were coming toward him in a zig zag way, thinking all was not well with the driver, he drove his car off the road to the right, and seeing that a collision was unavoidable, set his brakes. The fact that neither parties were driving fast is the only thing that saved a more serious accident. As it was the front end of both cars were badly damaged. Mr. Teiford estimates the damage to his car at over $100. The accident was reported to Chief of Police Van Slyke, who hurried to the scene and placed Lesterberg under arrest. Monday he was taken before Judge Collins, where he pleaded guilty to being drunk and driving a car while under the influence of liquor.—Swift County Monitor.

Near Cyclone at Morris.

Morris people were given a cyclone scare last Wednesday afternoon, when ominous looking clouds gathered in the northwest, and seemed to be approaching that place at a rapid gate. In speaking of it the Morris Sun says: "At two in the afternoon the heat was very noticeable and then the heavy cloud began to form. People were looking for rain, and hoping for it. About 2:30 the bad clouds appeared in the northwest. It was the first sight for many of what is known as a cyclone cloud. The horizon was a mass of purple and blackness, light grey spiral clouds resembling the smoke of an engine, arose from different points northwest of Morris. This peculiar phenomena excited the interest of many and there seemingly was only one answer and that was a cyclone. A new spiral would form, meeting the surface and the apparent cloud line then would dissolve. Old weather observers say that that might mean a cyclone and no one would have been ready to dispute it. The wind shifted and in a few minutes was in the east. A heavy rain fell, accompanied by a little hail. Shortly the entire storm was in the south and everyone could breathe freely. Some damage was done by the storm near Herman and Donnelly.
