HELPFUL HINTS ON HOME CANNING

Simple Equipment For Preserving Fruits and Vegetables. GOLD PACK METHOD IS EASY

Long Used With Success by Thousands of Boys and Girls of Canning Clubs. Washboard Useful in the Process. Time Table For Sealing, Blanching and Sterilizing the Foods.

[From office of information, United States department of agriculture.]

CAN SURPLUS FOOD, BUT USE JARS AND CANS WISELY.

- Don't have an empty preserving jar in your home next fall. There may be some difficulty in securing cans and preserving jars. Reserve regular tight sealing containers for vegetables, concentrated soups, meats and fish. Concentrate products so that each jar or can will hold as much food and as little water as possible. Put up jams, jellies and preserves in glasses sealed with cork or paper and paraffin. Pack fruit juices in ordinary bottles. Don't can anything that can be kept just as well dried or in other forms. Dry navy and mature lima beans for winter use. Produce in your garden lots of cabbage, potatoes and root crops that can be kept for the winter without canning.

How to Can by the One Period Cold Pack Method.

Don't let valuable surplus fruits and vegetables go to waste. Adults and children in a very few hours with little other home-equipment than a wash boiler and cans and jars can preserve much valuable perishable food for next winter's use. Succulent vegetables and fruits are important to health the year round. See that your table is supplied.

The simple one period cold pack method described is that taught by the United States department of agriculture for the boys and girls of the canning clubs in the northern and western states. With this method thousands of boys and girls each season put up vast quantities of fruits and vegetables. With this method practically every vegetable and fruit grown in this section can be canned. The wash boiler method described below is entirely effective. Those who desire may purchase home size water seal, steam pressure or pressure cooker canning outfits, which save time and fuel.

Preliminary Preparations For Canning. Provide a false bottom of wooden lattice work, cross pieces of wood or coarse wire netting for your clean wash boiler or other large, deep vessel to be used for sterilizing. Fill the vessel with clean water so that the boiling water will cover the tops of the jars or cans. Begin heating the water so that it will be boiling violently by the time the containers are packed. See that all cans or jars are in good condition and absolutely clean. Scald them thoroughly. Use new rubber rings and seal them just before putting them on the jars.

Preparing Fruits and Vegetables. Start with clean hands, clean utensils and clean, sound, fresh products. Throw out all vegetables and fruits which are withered or unsound. Wash out all grit and dirt. If possible use only fruits and vegetables picked the same day, and never can peas and corn picked more than five hours. Prepare fruits and large-sized vegetables for blanching. Remove all spots from apples. Prepare beans and greens as for cooking. Be especially careful to remove all foreign plants from the greens. Blanch vegetables and all fruits except berries by leaving them from three to five minutes in clean boiling water. Remove the blanched products from the boiling water and plunge them quickly into cold water, the colder the

In the case of vegetables fill the containers with boiling hot water to which a little salt has been added. Place scalded rubber rings on the glass jars and screw down the tops. Seal the jars completely. Watch them for leaks. As the preliminary treatment has taken care of expansion, it is not necessary to exhaust the cans.

How to Sterilize or Process. Put the jars or cans as soon as possible into boiling water in a wash boiler or into your canning device. Let them process for the time specified in the table, counting from the time the water begins to boil again or the gauge on the canning outfit registers the proper pressure. Time schedule given is based upon the one quart pack and upon fresh picked products.

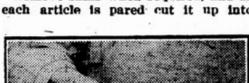

When processing fruits in steam pressure canners do not over five pounds of steam pressure should be used. When processing vegetables and meats do not use over fifteen pounds of pressure. After processing remove the containers.

Tighten the tops of jars immediately and stand the containers upside down in a cool place, being careful that better. Take them out immediately and let them drain. Don't let them soak in the cold water. From this point on speed is highly important. The blanched vegetables and fruits, which are slightly warm, must not be allowed to remain out of the jars a moment longer than is necessary. Remove skins when required, and as each article is pared cut it up into no draft strikes the hot jars. Watch for leakage, and screw covers down tighter when necessary. Store in a cool, dry place not exposed to freezing temperature. Use band labels for cans, being careful not to let the glue get on the can itself, as it may cause rust. From time to time, especially in very hot weather, examine jars and cans, making certain that there are no leaks, swellings or other signs of fermentation.

There will be no spoilage if the directions are followed implicitly and the containers are sealed up tight. Fruits which are put up with heavy sirups can be kept under cork and paraffin seal. Save all wide-necked bottles, glasses and jars for putting up fruit.

Vegetables, meats and fish, however, cannot be kept safely unless they are hermetically sealed. Reserve regular jars for products that cannot be packed in other ways. As there may be some difficulty in securing cans and jars, dry or keep in other ways everything that need not be canned.

MAJESTIC THEATRE. In "God's Law and Man's" the Metro-Columbia screen version of Paul Trent's novel, "A Wife by Purchase," directed by John H. Collins, will be seen at the Majestic theatre on Thursday, Aug. 2. Viola Dana, the star, plays the part of Annie, a little Hindu girl, and dances the native Hindu dances. Miss Dana's first appearance in public was as a dancer, and she is unusually proficient in the art.

Her Excellency, the Governor, the new Triangle play will show Wilfrid Lucas and Edna Miller, at the Majestic theatre Friday, Aug. 3. Lucas appears as the governor of the state, who is in the toils of a crooked politician. He is in love with Edna Miller, as Sylvia Marlowe, an attractive young lawyer, who has known him since his college days. She refuses to marry him, as she thinks that his political aspirations are characterized by expediency. "Fatty Arbuckle" in "The Roughhouse," is the show at the Majestic for next Saturday, Aug. 4.

The Garden of Allah. Helen Ware, America's most popular emotional actress, plays the leading role, that of Domini, in Selig's photoplay production of Robert H.icha's immortal love-story, The Garden of Allah, and she is supported by an extraordinary company of artists including Thomas Santschi, who plays Boris.

Those who see this exceptional picture will never quite forget the impassioned appeal to Domini of the haunted Boris, as he comes to say farewell, loses his self control in her captivating presence, and forgets the deadly secret which hangs over him—the pledge which separates him from other men, their love for women, their pleasures, their lives—as he falls before her in the garden and says: "Don't listen to what I say! You must not! You must not!" and she answers him with "Hush, Boris! You must say it—for I must hear it!"

Besides the incomparable strength of the story and the actual power acting in The Garden of Allah, there are caravans of camels, Arab tribesmen, and scenes presenting wonderful Arabian cities and the Sahara desert. Among the spectacular episodes can be mentioned a Sahara sandstorm, the fury of which cannot be aptly described; the charge of the savage tribesmen upon a defenseless caravan, the forecast of the Sand Diviner, etc., at the Majestic theatre, Monday, Aug. 6th.
