Recitation, "Harold Rogers Talk on seed corn and testing of seed corn," by Prof. Rodegeb of Willmar. School children Recitation, "Gena Iverslie Solo, 'I may be gone for a long, long time,'" by Carl Gunderson. Talks by Mr. Thompson of Willmar on Live Stocks. He also made a few remarks about the "Home Army" pointing out the importance of each one to do their duty to win this war. Dialogue, "School children Song, 'America,'" by audience. It was decided to have a social and program at the next meeting for the benefit of the Red Cross. Date to be announced later.
There will be three farmers club meetings next week: New London, Wednesday, May 8; Crow River, Friday, May 10; and South Edwards, Saturday, May 11.
Outside speakers have been secured for each of these meetings and good programs have been arranged. You and your family will be welcome at any of these meetings.

Little Folks Help Red Cross.
A lunch served in Chas. Frost's playhouse by Helen and Leola Chard, Dorothy McLaughlin, Beatrice Eckwall and Charles Frost last Saturday afternoon brought in $5.25, which was donated to the Red Cross Chapter. The little folks are not behind the big folks in loyal support of America. Everybody's doing it.

You have got to clean and clear the bowels thoroughly to have good health after months of indoor life; you would do so now if you could see them as you do your face or hands. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea cleans and clears as nothing else. Start tonight. Carlson Bros. Adv.

It is said that the appetite may be almost immediately stimulated by taking a toothbrush soaked in a strong solution of salt and water and passing it over the tongue.

Wanted at the Magnet Inn

A woman to take full charge of kitchen. We don't need a regular cook, but we want someone who CAN cook and put up lunches and do all around kitchen work and do it right. The pay is no object with us if we can get the right party.

We also want a dishwasher to work evenings and we need a good waitress—one who has soda fountain experience preferred. We can use a couple of girls to wait on tables, evenings.

Reassuring a Visitor.
"I don't see why you didn't want me to say anything about Miss Miskley's age, mamma," said Tommy, looking at the guest. "She doesn't look nearly so old as grandpa—ouch! Who's that a pinchin' me on the leg?"

A Useless Strike.
Bill—I struck a man today in self defense.
Gill—You did?
"Certainly. I knew he was going to ask me for the loan of $5, and I struck him first."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Round World.
"I hear you have a brother abroad?"
"I have."
"Is he a long way off?"
"Yes; he could hardly get any farther away without coming nearer."—Boston Transcript.

In and Out.
"I hear you came into a fortune."
"So I did, but some lawyers started tampering with my deceased uncle's will, and the first thing I knew one of them was saying to me, 'This way out.'"
—Birmingham Age-Herald.

His Fishing Trips.
"Pa, where do you go fishing?"
"My son, I never go fishing nowadays."
"Well, Mr. Snarler said last night you were always throwing a sprat to catch a mackerel."

A man may be able to argue with a woman, but it never does any good.—Atlanta Journal.

Why is love always represented as a child? Because it never reaches the age of discretion.

THIS IS DIFFERENT

The action of the business men of certain South Dakota towns contrast very favorably to that of several Minnesota cities which have been so arbitrarily active against the National Nonpartisan League.

At a meeting of the Watertown Chamber of Commerce March 28 the matter of the treatment that has been accorded the League and League speakers at several places in North Dakota was discussed, and such actions were pronounced "inexcusable, uncalled for and un-American." The Chamber of Commerce went on record in favor of the farmers' organization making its headquarters in Watertown, and in a very courteous letter to Mr. Duncan said in part:

"The writer is instructed to say to you in the name of the Watertown Chamber of Commerce, that every courtesy, hospitality and good will is extended to the Nonpartisan League to make our city its headquarters. We most heartily invite you to consider our invitation in the spirit in which it is offered. We know the thousands of members you have with in our trade territory; we know these men are among the most loyal, industrious and desirable citizens of our state. It is with the very greatest pleasure that we say to you that we most cordially invite you to make yourselves at home with us."

His Tip on Taxes.
A great Frenchman, Colbert, once said that when lawmakers levy taxes they ought to so pluck the goose (the people) as to procure the largest amount of feathers with the least possible amount of squawking.

Speaking Softly.
"I'll demand a jury trial," declared the lawyer.

"Perhaps it would be better to request it in a polite manner," suggested his feminine client. "I fear I'm a trifle guilty."—Louisville Courier-Journal
