One of County's "Seventy-One" Writes of the Trip to Camp Lewis.

Camp Lewis, Wash June 10, 1918. Editor Willmar Tribune:

Dear Sir:
From the attitude of a person of more or less at leisure to one ushered into a position where commands are law is a vicissitude that is very apparent and not to be passed into without notice. Such, however, was my experience as one of the "71" that left Willmar on May 25th miles away.

However the glad handshakes and farestimulant and encouragement to resolve to go and do the duties that had been imposed upon us with a strong-The trip to our training camp at Camp Lewis, Tacoma, Washington was one full of thrills and pleasure.

A mountain range is very elusive and misleading. One is very apt to think that the mountain you are viewing is much nearer then in reality is the fact.
As an illustration, at Leavenworth,
Wash., a town at the foot of the Cascade mountains, we made a short stop and to me it seemed that those gigantic mountains were but a couple of city blocks away but was told by the resi-

We arrived at Tacoma early Tuesday morning the 28th, a few hours ahead of our schedule. After a few hours wait here we were taken out to Camp Lewis. at the place that we are sojourning at. Literally speaking the camp is a beehive of humanity where every thing is executed with speed and snap, in fact in vogue with the officers and it is being lived up to in every respect. We got as we got here and were immediately

The officers tell us that we are to do work in a months time that took three months for the men to accomplish that were here before us, and 1 pelieve they mean it for we sure are working hard.

We are in strict quarantine so we have had no opportunity to explore the amp as a whole. They however, took in what is known here as "no man's cinds of shape and manner and every thing else imaginable to the essence of Willmar, 4th W. 8

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn or callus the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn or cal-

Freezone dries the moment it is applied, and simply shrivels the corn or callus without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. A small lattle of freezone will cost very little bottle of freezone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but will posi-tively rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or hardened callus.
