METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
Luther C. Benson, pastor.
Morning service next Sunday at ten thirty o'clock. Preaching in the evening at eight o'clock. The Sunday School will meet at eleven forty-five o'clock.

The Centenary movement of the Methodist Episcopal church is in full swing in some of the eastern states, and is now getting under way in Minnesota. Two training conferences will be held this week for Litchfield district, one at St. Cloud and one at Montevideo. The Centenary seeks to marshal the forces of Methodism. It undertakes (1) to deepen and intensify the spiritual life of the church; (2) to raise within the next five years eighty-five million dollars for missionary and educational purposes. This amount must be over and above all regular offerings and ordinary running expenses. The call of God has gone forth to make the world a new. The old system and ideals of the world have failed. God calls the world to a new and better day. Four million members working, praying and giving is Methodism's answer.

SAYS LEMON JUICE WILL REMOVE FRECKLES
Girlish! Make this cheap beauty lotion to clear and whiten your skin.
Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.
Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

Come in and see us—we want to look you over and shake your hand—size you up and tell you that we're proud of what you've done, and how glad we are that you're back.

Of Interest to Insurers.

Some months ago it was seriously proposed by a prominent Life Insurance company that, in view of the anticipated heavy war mortality, the Mutual Commission of this country should omit, or at least largely reduce, the dividends of 1919.
The war is over, it is true, but the war mortality, which is greater than was at first supposed, will lessen the earnings of 1918. This means an extra drain upon the surplus which all companies must be prepared to meet.
Then comes the epidemic of influenza, entailing upon the country a far heavier mortality than the war itself, with no defensive reservation in the policies, such as the war clause in use by all the companies during the year. The two calamities combined will increase the life insurance death claims of 1918 by many millions. The situation will prove such a test of legal reserve life insurance as has not been experienced in the past.
In the case of The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York it is anticipated that the mortality from the influenza alone will approximate if it does not exceed two million dollars.

The Mutual Life is undisturbed. It wisely made provision in the prosperous years of the past for just such an emergency as this by steadily strengthening its contingency reserve, year after year, instead of distributing all accruing surplus in the form of dividends. It will not reduce its annual dividend scale for the coming year.

The same big dividends that have been paid in the year 1918 will be maintained during 1919. And this the Company will accomplish without the slightest inconvenience or embarrassment.

One of this Company's attractive policies is advertised elsewhere in this issue.—Adv.
