If You Had Just One Wish WHAT would you ask for if the gods decreed that the one thing you wanted you could have? You'd want the greatest thing in life, wouldn't you? Well, what is the greatest thing in life? Victory? Money? Love? The Distinguished Service Cross? The Sight of home at the end of the war? Or is it—the glorious thing that an unenvied American youth found in France in the midst of battle, the thing that brought him all that's really worth while? Is it that? D. W. Griffith has that answer for you in his newest production. Lillian Gish and Robert Harron are in it and the great creator of "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World" and "The Great Love" with his magic has woven around them a motion picture story that takes its fit place among the photoplay masterpieces that will live forever.
