FARMER BOY ACCIDENTLY SHOT

Burton Sandbo Killed by the Acci- dental Discharge of Shot Gun—Funeral Monday.

A very sad and tragic accident shocked the community last week. It was the accidental death of a young boy near Willmar, Burton Sandbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Sandbo, living on the old Thorpe farm north of the city.

Last Wednesday, September 17th, Burton Sandbo and Christian Korsmo, who was working at the Sandbo place, took a gun and went out to a nearby pond to look for ducks. Not discovering any they left for home and decided to go by the way of Harold Sandbo's place, an uncle of Burton, to inquire if a skunk that had recently been seen about the place, had taken any of their chickens. After leaving the uncle's place, the two boys started north towards a culvert located on the public road where they discovered the hiding place of the animal. They succeeded in scaring him out, but in order to prevent him from re-entering on the other side, Burton picked up the gun that had been laid aside and grabbing it about the barrel, he intended to hit the skunk with the butt of the gun. But in so doing the weapon discharged, the shot taking effect on the right side, entering the abdomen through the liver.

His terror stricken companion picked him up and tried to carry him away. The poor boy said, "I am dying." Upon asking him how everything was, he was understood to say, "All right, Chris." Mr. Korsmo had started to carry the wounded boy away towards the uncle's place when Burton's younger brother, Olof, arrived. He placed his arm about his dying brother's neck and attempted to utter words of consolation. There were still signs of life but he was unable to speak. His spirit soon passed, ending the short earthly career of one of the most obedient and faithful of sons and kind brothers, respected and admired by all his acquaintances for his Christian character and exemplary life.

Julius Burton Sandbo, was born at Hills, Rock County, Minnesota, December 6th, 1900. At the age of five years he came with the family to Willmar. He had attended the public schools finishing the grades. He was a bright and faithful boy, assisting his father on the farm when not at school. This fall he was to have entered Augsburg Seminary, the Divinity School of the Lutheran Free church. The day fixed for his leaving became his day of burial, Monday, the 22nd day of September. His sudden and untimely taking away is bitterly mourned by his parents, five sisters, Mrs. C. T. Birkeland, Martha, Magna, Delpha and Esther, one brother, Olof and many other relatives among whom are an aunt, Gustava Arnborg of Palmero, N. D. and an uncle, Harold Sandbo of Willmar, Olof Skyberg of Luverne, Minnesota, Neil Nelson, Carl and Ruth Moe and Oliver Noy of Hills, Minnesota, besides a large circle of distant relatives, friends and neighbors.

The funeral was held at the Eagle Lake church. The officiating clergymen were: Revs. L. O. Larson, E. E. Gynild and Elias Pederson who spoke words of comfort as well as admonition to the near ones and other friends of the brevity and uncertainty of life and the necessity of being ever ready. Beautiful music was furnished by a male quartette from Willmar. A vocal solo was rendered by Ingvald Rykken. Interment was made in the Eagle Lake cemetery. Those who carried their companion to his last resting place were: Elmer, Walter and Benjie and Edwin Rykken, Arne Gynild and Walter Carlson. The floral tributes were many and very beautiful, from friends and organizations at Willmar and Hills, Minnesota.

Blessed be Burton's memory.

1919 COUNTY FAIR SMASHES RECORD

8000 People, Friday. Exposition Building Full of Interesting Ex- hibits. Splendid Program.

The Kandiyohi County Fair for 1919 went down in history as the best one ever held. For once, the weather man gave us the fair shake. The total gate receipts passed the best previous year, 1916, beat by $2000. Friday was a record breaker, and will go down as a red letter day in the history of the Fair. On that day there were 7000 paid admissions, or $2,842 in gate receipts. Figuring all soldiers and children under six, who were admitted free, ground employees who entered on season tickets, bought on the first day of Fair, it is conservative to estimate the crowd at eight thousand. The day that held the record before, was Friday last year with $1,500.35 gate receipts. This year the gate receipts were as follows, with a comparison of last year's figures:

Wednesday	1919	1918
Thursday	153.30	63.15
Friday	2,842.00	539.70
Saturday	1,253.00	382.95
Season Tickets	349.50	194.25
Total	$5,677.50	$3,370.40

The exhibits were splendid; the program a good one; the weather was fine throughout the week and the spirit of it good will prevailed throughout the Fair.

The auditorium which is used for an exhibition hall during Fair time, was full of interesting exhibits. No question but that this year is the banner year for corn in Minnesota, and it goes without saying that the corn display was the best ever shown at the county fair. The basket corn exhibit was a revelation. The corn display occupied the honor place in front this year.

The apple exhibit, which occupied the center of the floor and was fully up to the standard. Some mighty fine fruit was shown. One shelf was devoted to grapes. A special feature was a plate of Apples, which was a gift from Atwater, which was so large that the judge would not admit them Okebenas.

The fruit department was in charge of J. B. Boyd and Gunder Osmundson. The other exhibit was the best for some years as was also the honey display.

The cooking department under the supervision of Mrs. James Sanderson, contained some mighty fine things in the culinary arts, and was about as large as usual.

The fancy goods' department occupied the stage and contained a large variety of most beautiful specimens of women's handkerchiefs. The exhibit was in charge of Mrs. M. T. Sandbo and Alvirra Jacobson.

The flower show occupied the space just inside of the main entrance and was a beautiful sight under the supervision of Mrs. Eben E. Lawson.

The vegetable entries under the supervision of John Ahlstrom, formed a splendid display. Special mention might be made of the fine line of watermelons and the mammoth squash.

The Svea Farmers' Club and the Green Lake Community Club were represented by eight booths, both of which were beautiful and a credit to the clubs and to the community which had produced their contents. Green Lake took the first prize, though in scoring, Svea was a close second.

The Kandiyohi County school exhibit under the superintendency of O. O. Ulvin was a fine one and contained some interesting things.

The Willmar High School was represented with an exhibit of manual training work and domestic art.

A display of war relics in a booth arranged by Herbert Hengstler attracted a good deal of interest.

The W. C. T. U. had arranged their booth as a cozy rest room in charge of Mrs. Forsell and Mrs. Stromseth.

The Red Cross booth was in charge of Mrs. Jorstad. 300 tickets on the Red Cross quilt were sold. It was drawn by Mrs. G. Kennedy.

Olson Brothers, photographers, had arranged a beautiful display.

Andrew Peterson, the furniture dealer, had a neat booth in which demonstrations were made of the Brunswick phonograph.

Victor Klingenberg, harnessmaker, had an interesting booth as did Thune & Johnson, the vulcanizers.

Mr. Witte of Spicer exhibited the Witte automobile radiator in a prettily arranged booth.

Raynold Munson and William Johnson, two boys, exhibited a number of baby aeroplanes of their own manufacture.

Other industrial exhibits on the grounds were those of E. F. Johnson, the Keystone Silo agent; Nels Quam, cement works; A. E. Anderson, bar equipment and milking machines; Peter Person, Delco-Lighting system; Minnesota Implement Co., manure spreader; Dodge Service Station, automobiles; Peterson Implement Co. and the Farmers Co-operative Implement Company also had exhibits of machinery.

A more thorough review of the cattle, horses and poultry show will be given next week as will also be the list of prize winners, etc.

Mother Dies at Milan.

Mrs. Strunness had attained a very old age. She had been on invalid for a long time. Her husband died last July. She was the mother of ten children, all of whom are alive to mourn her departure.

A Year Ago Today.

It is just one year ago today since Otto was wounded in the St. Mihiel drive. The bones in his elbow have not yet properly knit and still another operation on the arm may have to be performed by the surgeons.

Birthday Anniversary.
About fifty guests gathered at the home of Leonard Johnson last evening and tendered him a surprise. Mr. Johnson was presented with a rocker as a remembrance. John Monson was the speaker for the occasion and presented the gift, after which Mr. Johnson responded with thanks. A program was rendered which consisted of several musical selections. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

DENIES THAT HE HAS SOLD MILK BELOW TEST

Editor Tribune: Willmar Tribune for September 3rd an article about that the dairy men selling milk in Willmar are furnishing milk below grade. As I am one of them, I wish to say that this is not true in my case. I have sold milk in Willmar for the past eighteen years and never had my milk too thin according to test, and it exceeded the test this time. Also on August 1st, 1919, I advanced the price of milk from 25 to 28 cents per gallon and coffee cream to 28 cents per quart and said I could not guarantee coffee cream to be 20 per cent at that price because the high price of feed made it impossible. For selling this cream as agreed with the purchaser they saw fit to impose a fine on me.
