Mrs. Frank Kober Jasper and Alfred Thompson, had an exciting and dangerous experience on the night of Sept. 5 while driving home from New Ulm. On the road between Gibbon and St. Cloud they ran up to a car standing across the road to halt. Thinking the men to be robbers the boys put on speed and went past when the men fired two shotgun charges at them. The first punctured the tire of the car and the second struck Alfred in the head and shoulders, thirty-two shots entering his flesh. Jasper was hit by two shots. The surprise is that the shots were fired by farmers who were watching for chicken thieves. An investigation is being made and it will go hard with the guilty ones if caught.—Olivia Times.

'WORK AND SAVE' IS MOTTO NOW

Slogan for Ninth District in Campaign to Destroy High Living Cost.

DETERMINED EFFORT

People Must Produce More Than They Spend Before Prices Can Come Down—Liberty Loan Organization Active.

October sixth, the first anniversary of the Fourth and in many ways the greatest Liberty Loan campaign, has been fixed for an intensive effort to sell $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificates in every county of the Ninth Federal Reserve District. The appeal a year ago was the destruction of Germany's fighting force. This year it will be the destruction of high prices. 'Work and Save' is the motto of the District War Savings Organization. Through its county and widespread society organizations, a determined effort will be made to convert this motto into action throughout the six states of the Ninth District. Those in charge are so firmly convinced that the putting into force of these cardinal principles of thrift is the most practical and effective way of combating general H. C. L. that they have decided upon an intensive campaign in an effort to focus public attention on these principles and, by a wide-spread sale of Government securities, to induce savings and popularize thrift. Produce More—Spend Less. 'The people of America must produce more than they spend before the law of supply and demand can operate to reduce prices,' said M. E. Harrison, District War Savings Director. 'In other words, they must stop extravagance, spend wisely and save. To pound home this point is at present the most important part of the established program of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. We will do this through the schools and industrial societies, through our personal workers and speakers in all parts of the district, through literature and the press.' Campaign to Be Intensive. 'We believe an intensive campaign to sell Treasury Savings Certificates,' continued Mr. Harrison, 'will do much to emphasize the importance of thrift, to popularize the idea and thus help to prepare the public mind to receive the benefits of the permanent campaign for Thrift education. Hence the October 6th campaign.' The old Liberty Loan County Organizations have been asked to take charge of the campaign. Governor Wood of the Federal Reserve Bank has approved the plan. A. R. Rogers, District Chairman for four Liberty Loan drives, has personally written each chairman, asking his active participation in the work. Mr. Rogers, in making this request, said: 'You and I, as stockholders in the United States Corporation, want to get our debts paid as soon as possible and with the least possible disturbance. We want to reduce the present high cost of living and to get things back on a substantial and prosperous peace basis with the least possible trouble and delay. 'In order to do these things, it is necessary for the people generally to change their present way of spending. People are still experiencing a reaction from the forced thrift of war times and as a rule are spending recklessly. I believe that one of the principal causes of the present high cost of living is, as someone has expressed it, 'the cost of high living.' If we are to pay our debts and get back to a normal basis, we must all practice economy of time, labor and money; we must save and invest wisely. I will not enter into an economic discussion of the subject. There are undoubtedly many other reasons for the present high prices, but I think you will agree with me in this—that the only way of permanently bettering our condition is by practicing thrift. Spend Wisely and Save. 'As you know, the Government realizes this fact and is conducting a nation-wide campaign of thrift education and the sale of War Savings Stamps and other Government securities. In order to make this campaign effective, it must be popularized. This can only be done by inducing a large number of people to spend wisely and save. You know the majority of people will not do this unless they are impressed with the necessity of it and are induced to join with their neighbors in investing in Government securities. In this way, they will prevent their surplus money from being spent for non-essentials and luxuries. For this reason, we are convinced that an intensive effort to sell Government securities should be made in every county of the Ninth District.
