A Survey that Business Men Must Admire

For more than a year hundreds of workers have been quietly engaged in making a scientific survey of the mission fields, and of America county by county.

The facts developed are startling. No such picture of America's religious situation has ever before been drawn.

On the basis of these surveys thirty Protestant denominations are uniting in a Nation Wide Cooperative Campaign

Each of the thirty denominations has its own "Forward Movement" organized and officered. The Interchurch World Movement is the clearing house for all of these.

It is the agency which the churches have created to avoid duplication, to foster cooperation and make sure that every man and dollar render the utmost service possible.

The month of April will be devoted to making the facts of the survey known to America; in the week of April 25th - May 2nd, will come a united simultaneous financial campaign.

Whether You Are Inside the Church or Out

To every man and every woman who loves his country, these 2000 county conferences are vitally important.

For the facts developed by this great survey show vividly what forces are at work in America—and what kind of a country this country is to be.

See that the pastor of your church appoints delegates. Any pastor can tell you the conference place and date. Or write direct to the Proceedings at the Meeting Held Last Saturday Afternoon.

About fifty men gathered in the hall at Sunburg Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Farmers Co-operative Creamery Association. Upon request County Agent Rodegeb called the meeting to order and asked that a temperary chairman and a temporary secretary be elected for the meeting. Julius Sandvig was elected the meeting.
Julius Sandvig was elected chairman and presided throughout the meeting.
G. L. Fingerson was elected temporary secretary. The committee reported on soliciting for shares stating that more than 100 shares at $50 each had been sold. The names of those taking shares was read. This showed that the committee had performed its duty as instructed by the last meeting which was held January 15th and that everything was in readiness for permanent organization.

The chairman called upon County Agent Rodegeb to read suggested by-laws and Articles of Incorporation as gone over and approved by the committee that did the canvassing. was voted that the capital stock of the Association should be placed at $20,-000 and total amount of indebtedness at any one time should not exceed $5000. The governing body of the Association it was decided should be placed in the hands of five directors to be elected at large by the share holders and these at large by the share holders and these directors then should elect their officiers. It was voted that name of the Association should be known as the Sunburg Farmers Creamery Association and that their annual meeting should be held the fourth Tuesday in January. Upon motion duly carried it was shown that the By-Laws and Articles of Incorporation met with the approval of those tion met with the approval of those present. In accordance with the By-Laws the directors were elected by ballot. Julius N. Sandvig and S. J. Halverson were elected directors for three years, Chr. Ronholdt, Thomas Ogdahl were elected directors for two years, and Louis Paulson was elected director to serve for one year. director to serve for one year. Motion was made and seconded that the Association proceed to buy the old creamery including the business, building, the machinery and all that is necessary to continue the business. The committee not feeling com-petent to judge the condition of the creamery and equipment secured Mr. J. A. Fisk of the State Dairy and Food Commission to inspect the cream-The chairman then called upon Mr. Fisk to make a report regarding his findings. Mr. Fisk started in by saying that he was not in a position to state a price or set a value upon any-thing in connection with the creamery of the property of others. He did, however, state that from his 17 years experience in creamery work and from his inspection of many other creamerno reason why the creamery could not be operated successfully for three of four years at least by simply making a few changes and repairs. It was brought out that these were necessary and would be made whether the Assoand would be made whether the Asso-ciation bought the creamery or not and that the business would be con-tinued anyway. Mr. Fisk stated that the only conditions or requirement that State Dairy and Food Commission de-manded was that the creamery should tion.

The chairman then called upon Senathe chairman then called upon Sena-tor P. A. Gandrud as spokesman for the present owners. His statement was very clear, frank and fair. Mr. Gandrud stated that to satisfy certain farmers he had helped to issue the first call for a meeting to consider a Farmers Co-operative Creamery Association and had invited or requested the County Agent to attend the meeting. He said that the present owners were not anxious to sell as the creamery has been making good, in fact the present owners would not consider selling to private parties but if the farmers as an Association wanted to buy, the building and machinery could be bought for $3,000. This price was determined after an inventory of the equipment and they felt that it was a very fair and reasonable figure. He also stated that they were not anxious to sell and if the farmers did not care to buy, they would continue to run the creamery until the farmers had their building constructed and the equipment install-ed ready to start business. It was ed ready to start business. It was stated that the lots on which the creamery stands is owned by Mr.

Moen but that he was willing to release to the Association or sell to them lease to the Association or sell to them in case they wished to buy.

A general discussion regarding the buying of the creamery followed in which several of the farmers took an active part. Mr. Fisk answered a number of questions regarding the equipment and some other repairs necessary ment and some other repairs necessary.

Some of the farmers present argued that they were buying the business as well as the creamery. The Association would be ready to start operating at once, money could be saved for the next three or four years to form a sinking fund for building purposes and that about three years from now at least a part of the funds will be available for constructing a new building. Chances are it will not cost more to build then, than now. The The Association might as well operate the creamery as the present owners. It was brought out during the discussion that to build and to buy new equipment would cost, at least in the neighborhood of about $15000 and they would not be able to start operating for a year. An Association can never start operating any cheaper than by buying the present creamery and busi-ness. In this way it will be possible to start operating at a small expense. At the end of two or three years the Association will know more about the business and what can be done. A vote of the share holders were taken on the proposition the vote being 19 to 6, which decided the Association to 6, which should buy. Motion was made that the shares should be paid on or before April 20th, so that, if possible the Association could take over the creamery and start operating the first of May. A genera discussion was entered into regarding paying cash or the monthly payment plan. It was decided that all regular patrons of the creamery should be encouraged to accept the monthly pay ment plan as is in operation in practically all of the Co-operative Creameries. This will enable the Association to carry on the business with less actual cash involved as returns for butter are received before payment of the cream. Again it will permit of a better price for cream as the officers will know what the butter brings on the market. Cash will be paid on de-livery of cream to those who demand or to irregular patrons who wish.

The question of delivering cream at the creamery on certain days during the forenoon only as is practiced in a number of our best co-operative creameries was discussed. It was brought out that this was the best plan as the cream could be processed and made into a better grade of butter which would bring a higher price. This could be done with less labor as the work of the buttermaker could be systematized. It was, however, decided as not advisable to make this change at the start-but keep it in mind that it may be ac-complished at some future time. Another change that is contemplated by the new Association is to grade the cream as soon as vat capacity and other necessary arrangements can be made. After adjournment of the regular meeting the directors met and organiz-ed, electing Julius Sandvig as presied, electing Julius Sandvig as president, Thomas Ogdahl, vice president, and S. J. Halverson as secretary-treasurer. The Articles of Incorporation were signed up, sworn to, and scaled to be sent to the Registrar of Deeds.

Bank to receive the payment of shares for the Association. The secretarytreasurer was instructed to issue a call for the payment of shares on or before the 20th of April. The next meeting of the Board of Directors is set for April 24th. It is expected that money enough will be on hand at that time to warrant going ahead with business.

Inquired About a Windmill

Not long ago a man who had been born and raised in one of the large eastern cities and who hadn't been far enough away to learn that horseradish has nothing to do with a horse, was compelled to take a business trip which carried his West to the prairies of South Dakota. He was amazed at the things he saw and his ignorance caused him to ask some foolish questions of his fellow passengers who were uniformly respectful until the city man, spying a windmill, exclaimed, "What under the sun is that big whirlgig up in the air?" That was too much for a Sioux Falls traveling man who solemnly answered, "Oh, some farmers are so kind hearted they cool their cows with an electric fan, and that is one of them." A Minneota Story.

They tell a good one on a certain doctor in some hospital that we will not name. A Minneota woman went to this hospital for examination and after having X-rayed, and otherwise thoroughly examined her, the doctor stepped back, and with wisdom written all over his face said: "Madam, it will be necessary for you to have all your teeth removed." The woman smilingly replied: "That's easy, doctor," and suiting the action to the word, she placed her hand to her meuth and handed the doctor a set of perfectly good store teeth. THE Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders a vital service by giving multiplications of value to that portion of the crude oil left, after gasoline, kerosene, and lubricating oils have been extracted, through the production of innumerable by-products, each supplying a definite need.

Thus have been developed products such as Parowax, which serve such useful purposes as a protective coating for cheese, meats, and sausages; for match ends; for water-proofing milk bottle caps, ice cream pails, and paper drinking cups; and for sealing preserved vegetables, fruits and jellies against bacteria, ferments and mold.

These are but a few of the uses of one of the more than 2000 products manufactured by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), covering needful commodities from asphalt to candles.

So vast a program could not be carried out except by a highly specialized organization, developed to maintain numerous contacts with the world of production on one hand, and with the consuming public on the other.

It was the need for such a specialized organization which led to the great development of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). No single function of this great organization has come into being without a definite call to service.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big only because the need of its service is great; because the ways in which it is able to serve are continually multiplying as the complexities of modern industrial life increase.
