PRESIDENT BELT ISSUES STATEMENT TO PUBLIC

In connection with the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company's filing of an application with the U. S. District Court for relief, alleging confiscation of its property because of the recent denial of higher rates by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, President W. B. T. Belt has issued the following statement:

"On February 9, 1921, the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission issued an order denying any financial relief to the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company thus closing finally the hearing started with its order dated September 24, 1918, making no finding except that the present rates are reasonable for the service furnished.

"Pursuant to the order of the Commission, on its own motion to investigate our telephone rates, charges and practices, the Northwestern Company has spent in the last three years approximately $500,000 in making inventory and appraisal of its property in the State of Minnesota and in making and presenting to the Commission complete records of all of its operations, earnings expenses and justification of its varied rules and regulations now in effect.

"In its order the Commission makes no finding as to whether or not the Company is receiving sufficient revenue to properly operate and maintain its plants and make a fair return to the investors in the business. At the time the Commission issued this order there was before it in the record, and verified by its own employees, the facts which showed conclusively that the Company was not receiving adequate or reasonable revenues.

"The intra-state operations of the Company in Minnesota during the year 1920 resulted in a net deficit of more than $340,000 after paying the interest charges. Therefore, the stockholders not only failed to have any earnings on their investment but were compelled to stand this deficit.

"On account of these conditions and because the Commission, by its order, made final disposition of the entire rate investigation; as well as our request for emergency relief, we were compelled to resort to the courts, not only for relief to ourselves financially, but to enable us to properly protect the telephone service of the public in this State."
