ANNOUNCEMENT

We are pleased to announce that Mr. Otto Mankell of New London, one of the most reliable insurance men in this community, has been successful in procuring the appointment of district representative of one of the oldest and most desirable farmer's mutual insurance associations for the handling of crop insurance. His duties will not only be to procure the applications for insurance but to assist with the adjustment of losses as well, which will be greatly to the advantage of the policyholders.

One of the strong features of this association is to give special attention to the wants of its members and it makes a practice of following the same course in settling losses as is followed by old line or capital stock companies, in requiring the local agents to assist with the adjusting. This method assures the Association's losers of a fair deal.

The rate of premium of this association each year has been so reasonable and the treatment of its policyholders so fair that it seems to be the logical association to place your crop insurance with. See Mr. Mankell at once and get your valuable crop protected in this exceptionally good association before the amount of insurance permitted in your locality has been secured.—Adv. 4:6-13-20-27.
