Vig-Pievka A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mrs. George O'Neil on Second St. W. when her sister, Miss Martha Pievka, became the wife of Mr. John Vig of Fosston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jesper Holmquist of the Bethel Lutheran church at high noon, Tuesday, June 28, 1921. Miss Ruth Norling played the piano as the bride party entered the parlor. Little Bernice Nelson carried the ring in the heart of a rose. Her frock was of pale blue chiffon. The bridesmaids were Miss Beatrice Nelson attired in white organdie over white satin, and Miss Jennie Johnson in a dress of embroidered organdie. Both wore picture hats. The groom's attendant was Mr. John W. Staska of Dassel. The bride was prettily gowned in a combination of white organdie and pink georgette. She wore a picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses, babies breath and maidenhair fern. A four course dinner was served after the ceremony to about twenty guests. Roses were used as centerpiece and decorations about the rooms. Many pretty and useful gifts were received.

The guests from out of town were Mrs. L. Hoekie and Mrs. Ed. Lowen, mother and sister of the bride, both of Zumbrota. The happy couple left Tuesday evening for Fosston, Minnesota, where the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

The bride has been employed at Willmar for the past two years and has made many friends who wish her and the man of her choice much happiness.

WHERE FROGS ARE CHICKENS

Tariff Laws of the United States Say They Are Same and Alike "In Three Counts."

To one not versed in tariff law, or familiar with the devious and tortuous channels of reasoning followed only by customs legal luminaries, some of the decisions at first appear to be rather odd. Frogs have become chickens for tariff purposes, venison has been held to be beef and live snails have soberly been decided to be nonenumerated unmanufactured articles, remarks the San Francisco Chronicle.

Reason begins to totter on its throne and completely tumbles off when one learns that a firebrick weighing under five pounds is a firebrick weighing over five pounds. Reason, however, can pick up its scepter and climb back to its easy chair with a sigh of relief after reading a wonderful paragraph in the law known as the similitude clause. If an article is not provided for, either by name or material, and has one of four characteristics of an article that is provided for, it takes the same rate of duty. If the homeless article resembles any other article either in material, quality, texture or in use to which it may be applied it becomes that article for tariff purposes. Frog meat is similar to the white meat of chicken in three counts, venison scores on one for the reason that both venison and beef are eaten and firebricks weighing under five pounds are used in exactly the same manner as those weighing over five pounds.
