PLEGDED SUPPORT TO LOCAL BIBLE SCHOOL

Local Residents Attend Free Church Convention at Fargo, N. D.

At a recent convention held by the Lutheran Free churches at Fargo, N. D., it pledged an undivided support of the Bible school at Willmar. This school was organized in this city last fall. Among those who were in attendance at this convention were Rev. N. Nilsson, Rev. and Mrs. B. P. Farness, C. A. Baklund, O. N. Elgros, Ole Johnson, Peter Gilbertson, Hans Hendrickson, Paul Freeberg, all of this city. A visitor, Nels Stengeland of Lismore, also attended. The convention was in session from June 6th to June 12th.

INJURED FOREFINGER

Wm. Plinck, local machinist at the roundhouse, had the forefinger on the right hand badly bruised on Tuesday afternoon. He was on duty when the chain slipped the piston and dropped on the finger. The wounds were dressed by the Willmar-Clinic. Mr. Plinck will be unable to return to his duties for two weeks or more.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The American Legion was on duty bright and early this morning. The Legion assisted in bringing Ingvold Sletten to the depot on a stretcher to be taken to a tuberculosis hospital. His brother Peter Sletten accompanied him to the hospital. He has been suffering from this dreaded disease for some time. It is believed that he contracted this while serving in the World War.

SLIGHT FIRE DAMAGE

A slight fire damage occurred at the Home Lunch restaurant shortly after six o'clock last Saturday afternoon. The fire started from defective stove pipes. The flames were extinguished by the fire department before any damage was done.

P. H. FRYE

Newly Elected President of the Kandiyohi County Old Settlers Association

BACK AT FIRST NATIONAL

Einer Forssell returned to his duties at the First National Bank last Thursday morning. He returned on Wednesday from St. Paul where he attended the Bethel Theological Seminary the past year. Einer will hold the position of the First National Bank during the summer months and will return to St. Paul in the fall to resume studies at the Bethel Seminary.

WET CORN

In an interview with Manager Sandin of the Farmers Elevator it was learned that many farmers are bringing in wet corn which it is difficult to shell and bin. Wet corn is often due to wet fields. Cribbs should be taken care of and kept dry. Mr. Sandin stated.

MOVED TO MINNEAPOLIS

Mrs. A. E. Anderson and son Erwin left Friday for Minneapolis where they will reside during the summer months. Mr. Anderson has a position as printer in that city. He has been employed there for over a year.

ACREAGE ABOVE AVERAGE

Washington, D. C., June 15—The area of durum wheat in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, is estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture to be 5,276,000 acres, or 35.2 per cent of the total spring wheat acreage in these States. This compares with 4,890,000 acres of durum wheat in these states in 1921, or 30.4 per cent of their total spring wheat acreage, and with an annual average of 3,644,000 acres of durum wheat for the five years 1917-1921, or 22.9 per cent of all spring wheat in the same states. This wheat has gained in popularity because of its resistance to rust and the trying weather conditions of these four spring wheat States and also because of its higher yield per acre than that of other varieties of spring wheat.
