The H. W. Gossard Co. makers of the world-famed

GOSSARD FRONT LACING CORSETS

have been persuaded to make a GOSSARD QUALITY corset to sell at

$2.00

GOSSARD quality guarantees you what you have never before been able to buy: a $2.00 corset guaranteed by a name and reputation that must be safeguarded.

If you have never worn a Gossard, $2.00 is surely a small sum to find out a becoming style and graceful comfort such as you have never known before.

If you have that this gentlewoman's corset cost more than you cared to pay, you now are offered the opportunity to know its refinements at a price heretofore unthought of for garments of such superior quality.

Model 200

A truly remarkable corset for the average to stout figures. The comfortable top graduates to a slightly higher back to care for excess flesh at the shoulder blades. The medium length skirt has ample fullness to insure comfort thru hips and thighs and is characterized by those very flat back lines every fashionable woman of today seeks. Made of pink or white coutil.

Model 202

A very modern corset fashioned for the slight to medium figures. The low top curves under the bust to a slightly higher support at the back. The skirt slopes to medium length over hips and thighs, to give long graceful lines and graduates to a medium length, unusually flat back. Made of a dainty pink fancy batiste.

A Long Wait

Father (as he starts to carve)—By the way, my dear, I've got to attend a bankers' dinner tomorrow. They expect over a hundred.

Tommy—Gee! I'd hate to be the youngest where there's that many to be helped.

Flowers Help Turkish Remeos.

The language of flowers in the Near East is no simple form of speech that anyone may understand. Long and elaborate communications may be sent by bouquet if the lady is not too lazy to learn a complicated code. There is, say those Turks who claim to understand it, a direct and an indirect form of flower message. The indirect message goes by words that rhyme either with the name of the flower or with the meaning of the name of the flower. They go to lengths in selecting and collecting posies for bouquets and to be sent singly and in series that would be quite too much trouble to the average American.

Eyesight of Birds and Bees.

I think we would be safe in saying that, on an average, birds see one hundred times better than man, writes L. E. Eubanks in Our Dumb Animals. By watching each other's actions birds will go a hundred miles to a carcass; and under favorable atmospheric conditions a bird can see a worm on freshly plowed ground at a distance of 300 feet. The bee, though the strength of its sight is not remarkable, has a wonderful ocular equipment—five eyes, a cluster of three on top of its head, and one on each side. Zoologists say that the compound eye on top is so made as to be specially adapted for detecting moving objects; and this seems reasonable, as the bee has many enemies that fly above it.

Every wardrobe demands a Knockabout coat

This model steps forth to fill the demand.

It's a Wooltex; it's expertly tailored, out of polaire cloth.

It performs every service you ask of it; keeps you warm, well-dressed; goes motoring or traveling with you.

And the price is only

A remarkable value indeed.

Smallpox Virtually Overcome.

Much less than two centuries ago smallpox was more prevalent than its messes today. In Europe those who escaped it were a minority. George Washington caught it when seventeen years old, in Barbados, and bore the marks of it through life. Of all the great epidemic diseases, smallpox was the most terrible enemy of mankind. Conquest of it may be regarded as one of the most remarkable of human achievements. Vaccination, supplemented by the practice of isolating sufferers, has wiped it out so thoroughly in this country that since 1904 (according to a statement of the public health service) deaths from smallpox have been less than one in 100,000 of our population per annum.

Concerning Fashions.

Where, and by whom, asked M. de Montferrier, any fashions set? The question is never satisfactorily answered. Women are told, and tell each other, that "they" say this or that fashion will be worn. No closer promise is ever given. The name of some dressmaker is attached to a certain model, but whence came the inspiration to make that model is not specified. Desire for change is at the back of all fashions. No woman loves her clothes a little and for a long time. She is ever demanding something new and never has "a rag to put on her back." This is a classic tag, not peculiar to the women of any one country. Yet clothes have a national voice, as M. de Montferrier pointed out. It is easy to distinguish French, English or Italian, though they all may dress in Paris.
