

THE reason Kaiser William doesn't beat his sword into a running hook is the fact that his majesty is himself full of prunes.

"The small boy now gets tanned by the sun instead of the father," remarks a facetious exchange. The small boy will testify that he gets tanned by both, and that it is a case of sun-burn either way.

AFTER a few nights out with the boys in Paris, Rev. Parkhurst will be able to furnish valuable new wrinkles to the people of New York who may be conceited enough to think they are tough.

ANDREW CARNEGIE has contributed a wad of boodle to the British Liberal campaign fund. Just what the Cobden club will do about this is not known, but it ought to be something dreadful, in view of the raps the Yankees have given them for meddling with American politics.

RIGHT on the heels of the marriage of E. Burd Grubbs comes the announcement that he has shaved off the lambskins that used to adorn the sides of his countenance. In this enlarging the kissable area of his fascinating visage this diplomatic worm gives evidence of his increasing domesticity.

THE Canadian Conservatives are said to be cooking up a blooming gerrymander to perpetuate their political grip. Just then a little bit of inquiry in this country will show them a lot of politicians who will solemnly swear the gerrymander is a cruel delusion and an unfeeling boomerang.

THERE is a usage, general in France that bread before being cut must be marked with the sign of the cross. The neglect of so marking the bread is supposed to involve misfortune. In Lille, to step on bread is a blame-worthy act. It is a common superstition that the falling of a piece of bread on the butter side is fatal to luck.

THE new law of Massachusetts, forbidding the sale of drinks without the simultaneous sale of food, is denounced by the prohibitionists as a hopo-critical bait for gudgeons, whereas it is simply an elegant way of securing red liquor without too much trouble. Half a strawberry and a Massachusetts mouthful of whisky for fifteen cents isn't bad.

THERE is an old saw to the effect that all things come to those who wait. After several years of most touching reliance upon that declaration, New York has been rewarded and the money for the Grant fund has been raised. But it looks as though, if Gen. Horace Porter hadn't done a little lively hustling, Gotham would still be waiting, hat in hand, for the country to fulfill the saw.

It is no longer good form in Missouri to shoot the passenger on the cars who declines to remain aboard until all who are to begin the journey where he quits have taken seats in the cars. It is held by the supreme court in the case of the State vs. Blunt that the debarking passenger has the right of way when the train stops, and for not being aware of this principle, Blunt, who shot a man, will hang by the neck in due time.

The word "Kanaka" is now used freely in connection with the labor question and the traffic in blacks in Queensland. According to certain colonists, the original word was "tamata," which in Fijian means a "human being." It then suffered corruption, by apparently as roundabout a process as that which changed "Noah" into the Chinese "Fohi." These "Kanakas" have no common language. The dialects are innumerable, and each is only understood by a few.

MARTUS was the first Roman to wear a gold ring, and no one, unless he had been an Ambassador, could wear one except on state occasions. Gradually the ring came to be the badge of knighthood, and finally all restrictions as to its being worn were cast aside and the ring was adopted generally as an ornament. The Roman "dudes" finally became so enamored of the jewelry that they put one on every joint of both hands. Then they had "weekly" rings and summer and winter rings, and some never wore the same ring twice.

HARRISON AND REID

Selected by the Republican Convention as their Standard Bearer.

Short Resume of the Proceedings of the Minneapolis Convention.

FIRST DAY. The tenth Republican National Convention was called to order in Minneapolis, Tuesday morning, by Chairman J. S. Clarkson of the Republican National executive committee. After prayer by Rev. Dr. Brush, the call for the convention was read by Hon. H. De Young of California.

SECOND DAY. The convention was called to order by temporary chairman Fassett. Bishop Whipple of Minnesota opened the proceedings with prayer. The committee on credentials announced that they were not ready to report, and were granted further time.

THIRD DAY. The proceedings were opened up with prayer by Dr. Brush. The committee on credentials announced that they would be ready to make a report at 8 o'clock in the evening.

THE PLATFORM. The following is the platform: The representatives of the Republicans of the United States, assembled in general convention on the shores of the Mississippi river, the ever-flowing stream of our national life, whose most glorious chapter of history is the record of the Republican party, congratulate their countrymen on the majestic march of the nation under the banners inscribed with the principles of our platform of 1856, vindicated by victory at the polls and prosperity in our fields, mines and mines, and make the following declaration of principles:

THE AMERICAN DOCTRINE OF PROTECTION. We reaffirm the American doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the prosperous condition of our country is largely due to the wise revenue legislation of the Republican Congress.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FROM TRADITION AND INTEREST FAVOR Bimetallism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver for the purchase and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other money throughout the world.

THE FREE AND HONEST BALLOT. The just and equal representation of all the people, as well as their just and equal protection under the laws, are the foundation of our republican institutions, and that they may be maintained, it is the duty of every citizen to exercise his right of suffrage in the freest and most intelligent manner possible, and to see that the rights of the minority are protected in every state.

FOREIGN RELATIONS. We favor the extension of our foreign commerce, the restoration of our mercantile marine by home-built ships and the creation of a navy for the protection of our national interests and the honor of our flag, the maintenance of the most friendly relations with all foreign powers, engaging alliances with none, and the protection of the rights of our fishermen.

or nationality. It sympathizes with the cause of home rule in Ireland, and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia.

THE ultimate end of every republican government is the intelligence of the people and the maintenance of freedom among men. We therefore declare our devotion to liberty of thought and conscience, of speech and press, and approve all agencies and instrumentalities which contribute to the education of the children of the land; but while insisting upon the fullest measure of religious liberty, we are opposed to any union of church and state.

THE YOUNG AND ARDENT LEADER who has guided his party through countless battles and that his youth could be renewed like the eagle's, he will be able to lead the young element of the party who are content to follow and not lead, but only to bear their share of the burden and heat of the day, he stands as our ideal.
