Sunday afternoon about six o'clock, as a young boy from the country drove away from Krook's store on a sulky, Rev. Meske accidentally drove so close to him that the two rigs struck each other and started the young fellow's horse on a runaway. The boy was thrown under the sulky and whirled around several times, but fortunately was not injured. The horse tore loose from the rig and started towards the north end of town where he was finally caught.
While John Gierg, a farmer in the town of Leavenworth, was cutting flax last Friday morning, a sod became attached to a sickle bar, which he asked his sister, a young girl about 13 years of age to remove. She stepped in front of the machine, which the young man had neglected to throw out of gear, and stopped to remove the obstruction when the horses started and her right leg was caught between the guards of the sickle bar, and one or two movements of the knife almost amputated her foot. The large bone of the leg, the muscles, all but one, and the principal veins and arteries were severed about four inches above the ankle, making a fearful wound. The left leg was also cut into the bone but not so seriously injured. She was placed in a wagon and brought to Anton Steffin's farm without any attempt to stop the flow of blood, and was unconscious from the loss of blood when Dr. Wellcome and son arrived to dress the wound. She stood the operation well, being too weak to administer chloroform to. They expect to save the limb and at the present writing indications are that they will succeed, for which, if they do, they will deserve great credit.—Sleepy Eye Herald.

Republican Club Meeting.
A meeting of the New Ulm Republican club was called for Friday evening to arrange for the reception of Hon. Knute Nelson and Hon. R. G. Evans on October 1st. A good number were present and from general appearance there was good reason to believe that the Republican workers of New Ulm propose to make their work tell this fall. Hon. John Lind was in the audience and when called on by Chairman Schmidt for a speech he made one that forefett resembled the Corbett blows. J. C. Peterson, Republican candidate for the legislature, was also called for and made a few remarks.
Towards the close, officers were elected as follows: President, Peter Scherer; vice-president, G. Schmidt; secretary, A. F. Reim; treasurer, T. Crone. Committees were also named for special work and from now on there will be weekly meetings (every Friday) for the purpose of keeping the ball rolling. C. R. Davis of St. Peter, who by the way is a pleasing speaker, will address the club and all others who may desire to turn out at the next meeting.

The public schools opened with about the usual number of pupils in attendance. Supt. Hess, assisted by nine teachers, will train the young ideas during the current year. The political atmosphere has remained quite clear thus far, but bids fair to become more or less disturbed in the near future. On Wednesday evening Hon. Geo. W. Somerville will unmask the Republican battery at Harmony Hall. The Dems. and Pops., also, are taking account of stock with a view to getting ready for the quadrennial fray.

It is about time our board of health gave evidence of increased activity, or rather, got over its "suspended animation." A glance through some of the alleys with their steaming manure piles, filthy garbage heaps, and malodorous pig-pens, will convince the most skeptical that immunity from disease under present sanitary conditions is a rather uncertain quantity. With a regularly constituted board of health and a salaried health officer, such a state of affairs ought not to exist, least of all at this time with the cholera at our doors. O. B. Server.
