C. B. Trowbridge, who was in jail here years ago for forgery, has been arrested in Mankato, again on a similar charge, coupled with that of selling other people's property. Of late years he has paraded in Nicollet county as a politician who supported candidates for what there was in it.

On the 29th Ft. Ridgely will be the scene of a picnic in which the Sunday schools of Fairfax, Golden Gate, West Newton, Ft. Bidgely and Lone Tree Lake will participate. A ball game between the Ridgely and Lower Agency Indian clubs will be one of the leading events of the day.

Foreman Gebser makes the statement that after the last fire previous to that of Saturday morning, the apparatus of the Hook and Ladder Company was left in the engine house in perfect condition. When the Company arrived there for duty on Saturday everything was in disorder. Who is to blame no one knows, but it looks decidedly intentional and when the Department is endeavoring to perform its duty, to throw stumbling blocks in its way is mean and contemptible.

Ludwig Dittbenner passed away at his home in this city last Friday. He was a very aged man, having passed his seventy-seventh year, and was one of the oldest, as well as earliest settlers in this vicinity. As a neighbor and citizen he was desirable and gathered to himself many friends. Seventy years had rendered him feeble of late, but he managed to move about until very recently. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Lutheran church, a large number of old acquaintances attending.

Fire broke out in Aug. Quense's barn early Saturday morning and had enveloped the building in flames before anyone was awakened. The flames also spread to the adjacent barn, that of J. Gabriel and soon rendered it a mass of charred timbers. The Fire Department arrived in season to prevent further devastation of the surrounding buildings and with three streams did some creditable work. In one barn was a valuable team, belonging to Chas. Roth the ins. agent which perished in the flames, the alarm being given too late to save them. There was no insurance on either building or horses, and the loss is therefore a considerable one.

This evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Laudenschlager there will occur the marriage of their daughter, Rita, to Mr. John Ziegler. The bride is a popular lady whose residence here and in Tracy as a teacher in the public schools has given her an enviable reputation in both towns. Accomplished and agreeable in her social relations, she has gained a circle of friends that is large and desirable. The groom, Mr. Ziegler, is by no means a stranger in New Ulm, having served with Richard Pfefferle in the grocery business years ago. From here he went to Marshall and then to Brookings where he is now engaged in business for himself. In his home town he is regarded as an exemplary young man of good habits and excellent business qualifications. The Review's relations with him have always been pleasant and we extend to him our best wishes for happiness in his present venture. May both live to thank each other for their happy wedding day.

TWO CHURCHES DEDICATED.

The Catholic Edifices of West Newton and New Ulm Dedicated During the week.

Bishop Cotter of Winona Attends Together With Several Other Priests.

Last Friday afternoon music filled the streets and the Catholic Bishop of Winona was escorted from the depot to the Catholic Church. He arrived on the afternoon train from the east and was met at the depot by the resident priest and several of his parishioners. The march through town was led by the Star Band, followed by the mounted members of the St. Joseph's Society and the priests in carriages.

After a short rest they left for West Newton where a celebration was to occur the next morning. Bright and early the Star Band and a large crowd gathered and at the appointed time the dedication ceremonies were performed. The Bishop made the English address and Rev. Schroeder spoke in German. Games and amusements followed till noon when most of the people returned to town to take part in the services at the New Ulm church where fully two hundred children were confirmed.

Sunday morning the splendid structure which has just been completed was solemnly dedicated. An immense audience was present, and Bishop Cotter's remarks were listened to with marked attention. He spoke eloquently and with clearness so that all could appreciate the bent of his sermon. Several other priests assisted in the dedication and added to the importance of the occasion. Among them were Revs. Braun, Koerber of St. Paul, Rosen of Fairfax, Haas of St. Peter, Tori of Springfield and Jansen of Henderson.

In the afternoon a picnic was held near the church.

Lawyer—Were you acquainted with the deceased?
Witness—Only in a business way. I was clerk in a large store at which the lady did much of her shopping.

Lawyer—Did you in that capacity notice in her any signs of insanity?

Witness—Well, no, not insanity exactly—merely eccentric. I was in the thread department, and I have frequently seen her buy a spool of thread and carry it home herself.—New York Weekly.

BUSINESS MEN PROTEST

As Insurance Payers They Resent the Attack Upon the Fire Department.

They Appreciate the Risk That has been Voluntarily Taken in Their Interest.

The Volksblatt Condemned for Its Ill-timed Criticism.

During the week certain business men have taken it upon themselves to call the local Volksblatt to time for its abuse of the Fire Department and the following resolution was drawn up and signed by them for publication:

We, as citizens and business men of New Ulm, owing to the fact that an uncalled-for attack has been made on the Fire Department of this city by the local Volksblatt, desire to protest, as far as in us lies, against any such abuse of an institution that has rendered us such valuable service without remuneration, and as insurance payers we can remember of no instance wherein the Department and its chief did not do their duty when the proper alarm was given. We regret, therefore that any paper of general news should maliciously seek to misrepresent them to the public and fail to appreciate the risk taken by every member in times of serious danger. The action of the Volksblatt along this line we emphatically condemn and ask that the sentiments of each of us as herein expressed be given to the citizens of New Ulm through the New Ulm Review, Post and Fortschritt.

The resolution bears the following signatures:

The following was circulated amongst the fire men:

Having served under our present chief, Chas. Brust, for many years, we as members of the Fire Department take this method of manifesting our regard for him and our contempt for the attack made upon him by the local Volksblatt. As a member and chief he has always been active, arduous and solicitous for the good reputation of the company, not only on dress occasions, but in the dangerous performance of duty as well. We stand with him, to a man, in denying every charge made by the said paper as to any desire or intention to shirk our duty.
Signed: All Members.

To Kill Chinch Bugs.

The destruction of chinch bugs by inoculation is not exactly a new idea. Some five years ago Prof. Otto Luggger, the state entomologist, at the state experiment station, discovered the existence of what in scientific phrase is denominated entomophthora. It is claimed that this is a sort of a disease that is fatal to destructive insects. It is infectious, but experience teaches that it soon dies out. Experiments have been made by inoculating the chinch bugs, and the effect has been marvelous. The disease spreads among chinch bugs like small-pox with the aborigines.

Prof. Luggger was at the capitol yesterday, and he confirmed the report made the day before by Col. Bobleter that chinch bugs are playing sad havoc in Blue Earth and Brown counties, as reported in these columns yesterday. Prof. Luggger goes further and states that the pests are spreading through the southern tier of counties, and the crops are menaced until the damage cannot be estimated should nothing be done to rid the territory of the devouring bugs. Through correspondence and reports he has ascertained that in Kansas, where the plague has been exceedingly bad in the past, the legislature made a large appropriation for the cultivation of entomophthora, and it is the purpose of the professor to visit Kansas at once with a large number of jars of chinch bugs, and there he will inoculate them, and, bringing them to the infected fields of Minnesota, turn them loose to spread the disease. If it works, as the professor has every reason to believe, according to his assurances, by another year the section will be entirely rid of the pests. Otherwise the crops are likely to be destroyed next year, for the bugs multiply with alarming rapidity. He does not apprehend that the chinch bugs will do much damage to the present crops, for the harvest will soon be on, although the corn fields may be stripped. Next year however, farming would become a losing industry if the experiment fails.

Prof. Luggger left last evening for Kansas with his catch of bugs, and he will return in a week or so, and then the experiment of spreading the disease will be undertaken in earnest, and the result will be eagerly watched.—St. Paul Globe of Sunday.

At the auditor's office there has just been completed the following statistics of the crop yield for 1892:

	Acres	Bushels.
Wheat	80,276	1,042,571
Oats	20,748	674,018
Corn	14,089	349,480
Barley	1,634	67,716
Rye	32	325
Potatoes	821	41,801
Flax	3,791	46,891

Of cultivated hay there were 1838 acres and 2339 tons and of wild hay, 53,323 tons. Timothy yielded 136 bushels and clover 8. There were 4572 growing apple trees of which 1546 bore fruit, the yield being 1,104 bushels. Fully 2,400 lbs of grapes resulted from 1036 vines and 595 sheep produced 2088 lbs. of wool. The butter production was 423,076 lbs, number of milch cows being 7,775. Of cheese, the report shows 2570 lbs. and of honey 510 lbs. from 45 hives.

This year the acreage is as follows:

Wheat	74,886
Oats	23,860
Corn	18,815
Barley	2,885
Rye	124
Buckwheat	28
Potatoes	903
Cultivated Hay	1661
Flax	5003

The wool product is placed at 1280 lbs. a tremendous increase over 1892. The number of sheep is 1991.
