Dr. Marcellus, says the Sleepy Eye Herald, has purchased a farm near Charlottesville, Virginia, and will make that his home.

A masked party of friends pleasantly surprised Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brust last Wednesday evening. From all reports, it was a happy affair.

Representative Christenson of this county was one of those who voted against appropriating any money for a new capitol building.

John Backer was down from Echo over Sunday. He is now running a feed store, but expects to engage in the saloon business next month.

Mrs. Pollmann went to Chicago Monday afternoon to purchase her stock of spring millinery goods. She will be absent the remainder of the month.

Mrs. Huntress of Fairfax died at the home of Horatio Werring last Thursday of consumption. She was the daughter of Patrick McGowan of Home township.

Henry Meierding, who has for some time been employed in one of the Fairfax banks, has been relieved of a position owing to the recent consolidation and is now in this city.

N. Henningsen has rented his residence on Broadway to Chas. Heymann and Dr. Mueller. Mr. and Mrs. Henningsen will occupy the rooms over Mrs. Pfeifferle's millinery store which have been nicely fitted up during the past few days.

It was whispered to us this week by one who ought to know that Gene Gross-jean's visit to Iowa was for the purpose of casting off single cussedness and embarking on the sea of matrimony. There's some sense in making a visit of that kind, and we hope it's true.

The Otto murder mystery will be probed by the grand jury. County Attorney Miller was in Morton last Saturday and Monday getting pointers to submit to that body, and it is understood that one of the jurymen is in possession of some valuable evidence. Redwood Gazette.

The new time card went into effect Monday. The trains will hereafter arrive as follows: Passengers from the east at 4:28 p. m. and 12:30 a. m.; passengers from the west at 6:45 a. m. and 9:10 p. m.; freights from the east at 4:25 a. m. and 1:40 p. m.; from the west at 12:15 p. m. and 9:00 a. m.

The Chautauqua met with Mrs. Lind last evening. Next Tuesday the Circle will meet with Mrs. Newhart at which time Miss Herta Weschcke will give a review of the history of the sixteenth century and the decadence of Renaissance Architecture in the seventeenth century, and Mrs. Weiser will discuss the literary period from Pope to the French Revolution. Mrs. Newhart and Miss Vogel will sing a duet.

Mrs. Louis Riecke of Lafayette is seriously ill.

Henry Wankum will soon move into the Notehardt residence.

Jos. A. Eckstein transacted legal business in Morton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lind left for Chicago this afternoon to be gone a few days.

Adam Buck, a well-known politician in these parts in the early days, died at Henderson a few days ago.

The state school apportionment for the year, 1895, gives Brown County $3,887 and Redwood $3,335.

Theo. Rein had his shoulder blade fractured in a runaway last Friday. Dr. Schoch is treating the broken member.

Arrow heads and odd shaped bracelets are among the trinkets unearthed by the removal of the Indian mound mentioned elsewhere.

It will interest the New Ulm friends of Geo. Wurmstein of Springfield to know that he recently became the father of another son.

A. W. Bingham returned from his eastern visit last Wednesday evening. It was a visit that he claims to have enjoyed immensely.

Dr. Wheaton came up from St. Paul last evening to visit Theo. Crone, upon whom he operated a few weeks ago. He found him slowly improving.

Aug. Heymann, for such a long time beer driver for Hauenstein's brewery, will start a saloon in Echo next month. Henry Rolves takes his place here.

The entertainment to be given by the members of the Baptist church will take place at Union Hall next Friday evening. An elaborate program has been arranged.

Havemeyer's delivery team indulged in a spirited runaway yesterday morning. After flying through several streets, the horses finally fell over each other near Union Hall.

Reno, the magician and so-called spiritualistic medium, will give an exhibition at Union Hall next Sunday evening. He has with him a group of educated dogs and trained birds.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will give a Missionary supper at the residence of Rev. Baumgarten this evening. The price of admission for adults will be 25 cents and for children 10 cents.

Joseph Stotz, who lives on the Weisgerber farm, Cleveland, went to New Ulm one day last week and brought back with him Miss Mary Seitzer, who a few hours later in the day received everybody's congratulations as Mrs. Stotz. It does not take Jos. long to catch on to a good thing. St. Peter Tribune.

Mrs. Caroline Simmet, of Lafayette, was brought before Judge of Probate Peterson Thursday by her husband to be examined as to her sanity. Dr. L. A. Fritsche, of New Ulm, and Dr. G. F. Merritt, constituted the examining board. She was duly committed, and as her insanity is of a mild type it is hoped that she will get better in a few months.

The St. Paul Dispatch of Thursday says that William Eich was arrested Wednesday on a charge of assault in the second degree, having attacked his brother with a hammer and beat him on the head, causing severe scalp wounds. His hearing has been set for the 22nd and he has been released under $200 bonds. He had been drunk about six weeks. Young Eich used to work on the Sleepy Eye Dispatch.

Senator Peterson of Nicollet county has offered a bill to appropriate $10,000 to erect a bronze monument at Ft. Ridgely and to authorize the governor to name a commission to consist of two from St. Paul and one each from Nicollet, Renville and Redwood counties to purchase a site and erect a monument. The bill was read a second time under suspension of rules and ordered printed.

Mrs. Evans died at Courtland on Monday.

A Populist paper will soon be started in Fairfax.

Wolf. Schmid returned from the Hot Springs Monday evening.

Col. Pfaender was treated to a farewell reception at Turner Hall last evening.

Henry Vedder came over from Winthrop Sunday to attend the K. P. social.

Wm. Winkelmann was laid up several days of last week with an attack of the grippe.

The Turner Zueglingsverein will celebrate their 26th anniversary on the 21st of next month.

Wm. J. McHale has accepted a position as station agent for the Northwestern at Claremont.

Mr. Fred Seiter entertained a number of friends last evening in commemoration of his birthday.

Gene Koehler is busy mounting three fine deer for Otto Schell and a peculiar specimen of a calf for Reinhart.

Rev. Pinney who preached at the Congregational church on Sunday was one of the defenders of New Ulm in 1862.

The election at Courtland yesterday resulted in the defeat of Doty and the election of Schlottmann by only four votes.

The play which the Dramatic Section intend to present on a week from Sunday will be a translation from the Norwegian by Bjornsterne Bjornson.

Attorney Dalzell of Gibbon transacted legal business here on Monday. He informed us that a vote would be taken in that village yesterday on the issuing of bonds to build a town hall.

Charles Stuebe's youngest boy fell off of a mule which he was riding on Minnesota street Sunday afternoon, and was thrown directly in front of the animal, but fortunately without serious results. When the boy picked himself up, he cried at first, but soon launched into a triade on the mule's propensities that would have challenged the revengeful spirit of one many times older.

A horse with a history died in St. Paul last week. He is said to have been owned and ridden by an Indian chief at the battle of New Ulm. In the engagement he was captured by an old German volunteer, who took him to St. Paul, and finally disposed of him to Mr. Weick, who kept him till he died. At the time he was captured he was 7 years old, and has enjoyed perfect health until the past year.—St. Peter Tribune.

A lively debate occurred at Turner Hall last Saturday evening over the effects of the recent Chicago strike. Peter Scherer, Col. Pfaender, W. E. Koch, Hugo Fischer, Ernst Brandt, Lt. Louis Scherer and Wm. Hummel were the principal speakers and the interest waxed warm as they progressed. In addition to the debate there were musical selections, and Capt. Burg read some of his inimitable dialect verses. Col. Pfaender's address on the principles of the Turnverein was a masterly one, covering the ground thoroughly and with earnestness.

The farewell given to Col. Pfaender last evening was one that could not have failed to impress him deeply. All of his Turner friends, as well as others were present and speeches were made by Chas. L. Roos, Capt. Burg, Peter Scherer, Judge Brandt and Julius Berndt, Col. Pfaender responding in a happy manner. Songs were sung, and solos by Rudolph, Maltzahn and Hartmuth, while recitations in dialect were made by Mr. Boesch, Mr. Fischer and Capt. Burg, that brought forth repeated rounds of applause. It was an event that gave clear evidence of the esteem in which the Colonel is held by all.

While excavating near Hunter's Rest for Otto Schell's new residence, one of those peculiar mounds, that have so long attracted attention, was removed and the skeletons of human beings unearthed. Mr. Lind and Mr. Heideman made an investigation on Sunday and succeeded in discovering the fragments of a complete skeleton. The lower jaw and teeth were in good condition, while the remaining bones had partially crumbled. There can now be no doubt but what the peculiar mounds are not the work of nature but of Indians at a very early period. Two mounds still remained untouched and will, if properly removed, offer better results for research.

Geo. Oswald went to Gibbon Sunday on business.

Miss Kiesling has returned from a visit at Elbow Lake.

The children of Andrew Amann are afflicted with diphtheria.

Alb. Winkelmann paid Redwood Falls a business visit last week.

Miss Bertha Koch will celebrate her birthday anniversary with friends this evening.

Aug. Heymann and John Backer have formed a partnership in the saloon business at Echo.

A number of friends of Miss Olga Schleuder tendered her a surprise on Saturday eve.

B. S. Marti will retire from the saloon business in Fairfax and go onto the farm. Anton Brand will take his place.

The Fairfax Crescent changed hands last Saturday. Prof. Ray of Arlington is now the owner and Ed. Mahler of Le Sueur the printer.

The quarterly meeting of the Brown County Agricultural Society at Turner Hall Saturday afternoon was largely attended, twenty-nine of the members being present besides others. The report of Herman Pfaender, delegate to the state meeting, was read and approved. A resolution was adopted instructing our members in the legislature to pass some bill looking towards the eradication of the Russian thistle and other noxious weeds and expressing preference for a measure compelling the townships to look after the matter; also a resolution recommending the passage of the bill appropriating $5,000 to exterminate chinch bugs. A letter from the Breeder's Association asking the Agricultural Society to co-operate with them in case the city allows them to build a track was read, and the plan unanimously approved of. There was also a discussion of fir and fruit trees, and a decision to hold another fair during the present year.

The literary meeting at Turner Hall Sunday evening was the best held up to date. About two hundred people were present and all apparently enjoyed the entertainment as they seldom have before. The program was a good one, consisting of some splendid vocal solos by Miss Josie Pfaender, an essay on American poets of the present day by Miss Scherer and one on Riley by Mr. Johnson, a recitation by Miss Meta Seiter from Carleton and a flute and zither duet by Chas. Toberer and Max Burg that fairly made the audience go wild. The remainder of the program was in German. Albert Steinhauser read a criticism on Fred Douglas, Miss Bogen and Mrs. Albert Seiter recited, and Hugo Fischer gave several humorous dialect selections. A piano duet by Misses Hellmann and Schuetz and one-minute impromptu speeches by several of those present were also features of the evening's program. Another meeting will be held on Sunday, the 24th, in the afternoon and it is hoped that as many will attend as did at the last one.

The "Smoke Social" given by the Knights of Pythias on Monday evening was by all odds the most pleasant of the season. The boys had invited their friends to be present, and they came with every intention of passing an enjoyable evening, and in this they were not disappointed. Mr. Steinhauser presided over the affair and welcomed the guests, and then the K. P. Quartette sang a song. H. L. Blethen read from Carleton and Mr. McElhinney also read a selection, while it devolved upon Dr. Schoch to fire Pennsylvania Dutch literature at those who were present. Henry Vedder favored them with several zither selections and Mr. Koffund of St. Paul delighted all with his stirring "yodles". The writer was also fortunate enough to be present and was called upon to say a few words for the well-being of his Pythian friends. The lunch which was served by the boys was excellent, and at the conclusion the party became informal, enjoying themselves till a late hour. The boys can well be proud of their effort.
