SAY CERTIFICATE IS BOGUS

O. D. Green Held For Falsely Obtaining Money.

Is Alleged That He Has Uttered "Queer" Paper.

Placed Under Arrest Monday and Hearing Continued.

With the allegation that he has uttered fraudulent paper and thereby obtained money under false pretences resting against him, Oliver D. Green, youngest son of James J. Green, the veteran editor of the New Ulm News, was arrested Monday morning. The complaining witness is Reinhold G. Mueller, young Green's brother-in-law, and he asks that the latter be punished for defrauding Mrs. Emma Green of the sum of $400.

The trouble dates back more than a year, when Oliver Green and his wife became involved in domestic difficulties. She started an action for divorce and filed a complaint in which she alleged that her husband had maltreated her upon various occasions. At that time Green is said to have been the possessor of $500 worth of bank stock in the State Bank of New Ulm and to smooth over the trouble with his wife he agreed to transfer the securities to her.

This was not done actually, but in lieu of the bank stock Mrs. Green is said to have been given two certificates of deposit in the State Bank of Lambertton. One was for $350 and the other for $100 and both drew interest at the rate of 5 per cent. This arrangement, according to the complaint in the criminal action, continued until about June 5, 1903, when Oliver Green represented that he had $400 deposited in the Citizens Bank of Staples, Minn., and offered to exchange it for her $350 certificate at Lambertton.

One argument his wife claims he used was that her money at Lambertton was drawing only 5 per cent, while if sent to Staples she would be given 6 per cent. She agreed to the transaction and was given a certificate of deposit on the Staples bank, made out in the following form:

CITIZENS BANK OF STAPLES.

No. 1704
Staples, Minn., Jan. 10, 1903. $400
Mrs. Oliver D. Green has deposited in this bank Four hundred no-100-Dollars in current funds payable to herself on return of this Certificate properly endorsed. C. F. May, a 6 per cent interest. Cashier.
This deposit is not subject to check.

About a month ago Mrs. Green suffered a severe attack of lung fever, from which she has not entirely recovered. For a time it was feared that she would not survive and while she lay in this condition her relatives made an investigation of her affairs. They then learned of the transfer in which she had acquiesced and were shown the certificate. It would seem that the latter is a sample, as occasionally sent out by banks, for three holes are punched in the paper on the line reserved for the signature of the cashier. The name C. F. May is written between these punctures.

Scouting something queer in the transaction they caused the certificate to be sent to the Citizens Bank of Staples and a letter received from the president of that institution stated that no such amount was on deposit there in the name of Mrs. Oliver D. Green. Incidentally, the name of the cashier is not May.

On this authority a warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Wm. J. Julius Monday morning and O. D. Green taken into custody. When haled before Justice N. Henningsen he asked that his preliminary hearing be postponed and the court adjourned the case until February 25th at 2 p. m. His bond was fixed at $500 and J. J. Green signed as his surety.

If bound over to the grand jury and convicted in the district court, the accused is punishable by a term of not more than five years in the penitentiary or one year in the county jail, or may be fined a sum not exceeding $500.

Monday morning, also Oliver D. Green was named as the defendant in a civil action brought by Mrs. Emma Green to recover the sum of $400, the face of the Staples certificate, and the case will be tried in Brown county. Deposits in his name in the State Bank of New Ulm and the Brown County Bank, which aggregate $75, were attached, he having transferred his bank stock to his brother, James Green.

SUNDAY HERE IN AUGUST

Noted Evangelist Will Labor in New Ulm This Year.

Six hundred converts secured in four weeks is what Evangelist William A. Sunday has just accomplished at Marshall. The noted exhorter, himself an ex-professional base ball player, literally carried the western city by storm and the spiritual revival has been of a nature hitherto unknown in this section. Speaking of the furor he created the Marshall Messenger says:

Marshall never has and probably never will again experience such an upheaval and uprooting of established habits and self-complacency in its business and social life as it has had this past month. Wherever two or three were gathered together there has for four weeks been but one topic—Sunday: The evangelist and his sermons have been discussed at the breakfast table, the dinner table, the tea table, in every household in town; across the counters, the card tables, the pool tables, between drinks at the bar and on every street corner, and the atmosphere is still surcharged with Sunday and his work, and will be for some time to come. Never was man so well advertised, never were meetings so largely attended, and never were results so astonishing in the history of this county.

It is said that while Sunday was at Marshall dances had to be postponed for the lack of patronage, saloon keepers complained of the poorest business in their experience and there was a disposition on the part of everyone in the town to conduct themselves along the lines of strict morality. Immense crowds turned out to hear him preach and at the last meeting he was tendered a free will offering of $2,200, in addition to $700 which had been raised during the month to defray current expenses.

New Ulm people are to be given an opportunity to see and hear this wonderful man, for Rev. D. O. Bean is arranging to have him come here in August of this year. Rev. Bean worked with him at West Pullman, Ill., where a very successful series of meetings were held. While there is nothing definite about the arrangements as yet, the local pastor is planning upon putting up a monster tent and holding revival meetings on a big scale.

Mileage For Each Juror.

Sheriff Wm. J. Julius was in St. Paul Friday and Saturday in attendance upon the annual convention of the Minnesota Sheriffs' association, which he reports was very largely attended. During the sessions W. J. Donahower, first assistant attorney general, read an opinion in which he held that the state laws allow officers to collect mileage for every grand and petit juror summoned, even though but one trip is required. He also stated that it would be impossible for sheriffs to collect for the service of tax warrants and citations where the persons against whom assessments are made cannot be found. Sheriff Julius says that the social features of the convention were very enjoyable, particularly the banquet given Friday evening at the Merchants hotel.

MAY GET BIG FIELD MEET

High School Superintendents Like New Ulm.

Would Hold Spring Track Contests in This City.

Program of Events Will Attract Many Young Athletes.

There is a possibility that the second annual field and track meet of the Southwestern Minnesota Interscholastic Athletic League will be held in New Ulm. At Sleepy Eye Friday evening a meeting of the public school superintendents of Southwestern Minnesota, including all the institutions south of Redwood Falls and west of Lake Crystal, was held and it developed that the league was in favor of coming to this city. Last year the meet was held at Mankato but the fact that this town is easier of access to the greater number of the western places influenced their delegates to vote for New Ulm.

At the session Friday evening the New Ulm high school was represented by Prof. E. L. Dills. Prof. A. J. Jones of Redwood Falls, president of the league, was in the chair and there was a good representation of the schools in this district. The president stated that the prospects for the track meet were excellent as all but five or six of the fifty-five high schools in this section had expressed a willingness to send teams to compete.

When it came to selecting a city in which to pull off the events Mankato and New Ulm were proposed. For the reason that the former entertained the league last year and also because New Ulm offered better railway facilities, the majority favored this city. Prof. Dills was given to understand that his town could have the meet if it wished it and the matter will be considered by the local school.

Should the meet come here the different schools will defray the traveling and other expenses of their teams. These will consist of from five to ten men each and as they will be accompanied by their admirers it will mean that between 250 and 300 students will come to New Ulm for the sports. Upon the local school will fall the expense of preparing the track for contests and advertising the meet, but it ought to be possible to defray these from the gate receipts. This is all the support which will be asked and if the New Ulm merchants and business men will guarantee a good attendance the young athletes will be invited to New Ulm.

Saturday, May 21st, was the date decided upon for holding the sports and it is expected that teams from the high schools at Mankato, Redwood Falls, New Ulm, Sleepy Eye, Marshall, Blue Earth, Fairmont, St. Peter, St. James, Springfield, Pipestone, Tracy and other cities will enter. A list of events was formally adopted by the superintendents and the program is as follows:

1. 50-yard dash.
2. 120-yard hurdle (preliminary).
3. Shot put.
4. 100-yard dash.
5. High jump.
6. Hammer throw.
7. 120-yard hurdle (final).
8. Broad jump.
9. Discus throw.
10. 220-yard dash.
11. 1/4-mile run.
12. Pole vault.
13. 220-yard hurdle (preliminary).
14. 220-yard hurdle (final).
15. 440-yard dash.
16. 1/4-mile relay race.

* Peanut Taffy, the kind that is good. We get it fresh twice a week. Try some, 20c per lb. at Max Burg's Corner store.

Analysis Made Without Charge.

Adulterated blackberry brandy and port wine proved a stumbling block for six local saloonkeepers Friday. That day J. G. Fowler of Mankato, state dairy and food inspector, was in the city and collected fines amounting to $25 apiece. These sums, however, do not come out of the pockets of the retailers, who are really guiltless, but are paid by the concerns manufacturing the liquors. Mr. Fowler informs the Review that there is no necessity for selling impure food products in Minnesota. Any merchant or dealer may have samples analyzed free of cost by the food commission and receive replies from the inspection within a week or ten days. Thus impure goods could be held until their ingredients were known and, if unlawful, shipped back to the manufacturer.

* Now is the "Orange Time." Delicious and healthful fruit. And as we are making a specialty in oranges this week, they sell even cheaper than apples. Take a dozen home with you. 15c, 20c, 30c and 40c per dozen at Max Burg's Corner Store.
