New Ulm Review

Wednesday, April 27, 1904.

Hearst seems to have made himself pretty well known throughout Minnesota and the Parker men will have to get busy and keep busy to defeat him.

As expressed by the city council there is every effort on the part of the aldermen being made to act in harmony with the mayor, but it is principally acting; there is very little of the real thing about it.

All arguments to the contrary, it shows that the great Christian Endeavor society of this country draws the color line when it announces in advertisements of its hotel at St. Louis: "This hotel is for white people only."

The gates of the World's Fair will be formally opened to the public on Saturday, April 30th. It is one of the most stupendous undertakings in the history of mankind and they who miss seeing the fair will miss one of the wonders of the world.

It looks very much as if Parker is to be the democratic nominee for president. He is said to be great at harmonizing disgruntled factions. He will have his hands full before he gets through with the party he represents, especially in this state.

People even in this section of the country were hardly prepared for an eight-inch fall of snow on the 20th of April, but when it covered the territory as far south as St. Louis there must have been some vigorous language used by those southern gentlemen.

The democratic St. Cloud Times is more strenuous in its defense of Bob Dunn for governor on the republican ticket than our own Brown County Journal. But the Times is located on the Great Northern road and that explains its actions but down here—well, it's just to be contrary.

Sleepy Eye is congratulating itself over securing the establishment of one of the state inspection bureaus at that place to handle the southern part of the grain business. Sleepy Eye people went after the office and got it. They are not so slow up there, but the advantage in having the inspector there will extend to all points along the line and will be an added convenience to all milling industries in this part of the state.

There may be some humor in the joke Mr. Nagel played on Fred Johnson in the matter of having him ask for the appointment of successor to Mr. Amann, but we believe Fred will be sometime in seeing into the joke. It is very evident that those who ape a jumping jack and operate when someone else pulls the string had their wires crossed a while before the time to decide upon an alderman. Well, jumping jacks are all right in their places.

The people of this state should be interested in keeping Knute Nelson and Moses E. Clapp in the senate as long as they prove efficient. They are both capable men. The election of Mr. Dunn is the first move on the political chess board to defeat one or the other of these men. Mr. Nelson is from the country and so is Mr. Dunn and it will be argued that Minneapolis is entitled to the senate if the country gets the governor. Let the cities have the governor by giving them Collins; the country is better off with a representative in the senate.

VOGEL IS IN TO WIN.

The St. Peter Free Press in commenting on the candidates for state treasurer says: "The New Ulm Review fails to confirm or deny the story of Mr. Vogel's withdrawal from the race for state treasurer and that is the only point of interest to the people in this controversy. If Mr. Vogel is not a candidate against Mr. Block and probably likes to see his neighbor get another term, it is not very clear why he should object to Mr. Block getting all kinds of support, no matter from what source. An explanation seems to be in order."

Mr. Vogel has never intimated to a single person that he had withdrawn from the race for the nomination for state treasurer. On the other hand he has carefully protected his interests and as the days pass is pleased to find that his strength is increasing. He will enter the convention with a good following. The idea that he is out of the race comes from friends of the other candidates and not from any reliable source.

SERVING MANKIND.

The government of this state has wisely provided a day for planting trees and shrubs, recognizing that the tendency of man is to destroy rather than create. It is a thing to do that of planting a tree, but for most men it probably will be the most enduring act of their lives.

The premises about a man's home is a sure index of the character of the occupants. One struggling flower, tended with solicitous care tells of a kind and loving heart that cherishes more than the selfish interests of this life and expects to blossom from this desolate world, so often choked about with the weeds of selfishness and hatred, in the sunshine of a more beautiful existence.

Arbor day is not alone for the planting of trees; let it have a wider meaning and bring into it the decoration of the yard about your house. At most we are given but a few summers to live; let us live them surrounded with the perfume of beauty and the fragrance of disinterested friendship. This is the high meaning of Arbor day.

Representatives of the Dunn faction of the state visited the city last week and sounded the people of the city on the matter of governorship candidates. They found very little to encourage them here and even went so far as to suggest to the leaders of the party that if it was best for Mr. Dunn's interests they would have the Brown County Journal change front and work for Collins. They were informed that the opinions of the people could not be changed, but the remark was rather significant and shows what force is directing the editorial opinions of the Journal, and will answer all future questions should the Journal see fit to cease its efforts in behalf of the Princeton statesman.

There is some newspaper talk of the "passes" that are being sent to papers throughout the state to the World's Fair. As far as this paper is concerned, it does not consider the tickets it has received as passes. When the matter of advertising the fair was considered it was proposed to pay in cash for advertising but it was found that this would be too expensive and letters were sent out asking if the papers were willing to take admission tickets for pay for advertising. The papers, as a rule, realized that to pay for advertising the fair would require more money than the association could afford to put into it, and they agreed to the proposition. This paper has done more than $50 worth of advertising and the non-transferable tickets it has received amount to about $10. If this can be called receiving passes then we can figure that if we go to the fair we will be paying for admission more than twice as much as any other who pays to get into the show. It can only be said that those papers which have done no advertising and secure tickets of admission, are receiving passes.

Paul Dehn editor of the Detroit Free Press is out with a petition to start a young men's Republican league of the state, with the object in view of bettering politics. The object is a worthy one for the Lord knows politics is bad enough in most places but the fact remains that the political status of a people will never be higher than the people themselves. The best way to reform politics is to reform men. All the young men's leagues in the world, if they are made up of the average young men of today, will not change political tactics or put one better man in office. The principle of honor must be born outside a political party. It cannot be manufactured anywhere except in the house. In this respect the child is father of the man. Honor may not from any condition rise but it has its surest foundation in youth and surrounded by proper influences. Political trickery and dishonorable practices are more often the work of party leaders rather than of the men who aspire to office, herein lies the fault and all the state leagues of all the states in the country will never change it.

TOLD TROUBLESOME TRUTH

Mayor Silverson Was Frank With Aldermen.

Council Meeting Wednesday Night Slightly Stormy.

Executive Expressed His Views Upon City Depository.

Financial matters were the absorbing topics of discussion at the special council meeting held last Wednesday night, and upon several occasions the session was quite stormy. Mayor Silverson gave the aldermen several heart to heart talks. All of them were beautifully concise and directly to the point but some did not coincide with the views of Ald. Nagel, Flor and Richardtz.

When the meeting was called to order the resignation of Andreas Amann, as alderman from the second ward, was taken up. It had been reported during the day that Ald. Nagel would propose the name of Emil Wicherski for the vacancy and that the latter would be railroaded through and this program was carried out to the letter. When the Amann resignation was accepted Nagel made the nomination as per schedule and then Ald. Gieseke nominated F. H. Retzlaff. At this point L. J. Buenger presented a petition from residents of the second ward asking that Mr. Retzlaff be appointed. It contained upwards of a hundred names but it was not allowed to interfere with "instructions" and Mr. Wicherski received three votes to two for Mr. Retzlaff.

A communication from Treasurer Wm. Frank was read. In it he stated that the State Bank of New Ulm had offered him desk and vault room and that he had accepted. His office would be in the rear room of the State Bank building and until the city depository is named that institution will pay 3 per cent per annum upon deposits.

Mayor Silverson was called upon and declared that he had invited Treasurer Frank to be present at the meeting. He understood that the city was heavily indebted to the Citizens bank. Corporations need credit just the same as private individuals and he questioned the wisdom of the policy of borrowing money from one bank and depositing it in another. In his opinion the Eagle mill had better credit than the city. When it needed money it borrowed from certain banks but its balances were always deposited in the same banks. "This city," said the mayor, "will soon be pretty hard up—it needs money now. Therefore we should stand by the people who have made loans to us in the past."

Defining his own standing in the matter Mayor Silverson stated that he had sold his stock in the Citizens bank, and followed up the declaration with a thrust at the practice which has been indulged in by some city officers of furnishing goods to the city in violation of the law. Said he: "I am not interested, and I will not sign vouchers in which any alderman is interested."

The mayor expressed the belief that the Citizens bank was still the city depository and criticized the removal of the funds to the State bank. One thing which the aldermen should consider in this connection was the fact that neither the Brown County nor the State could loan to exceed 15 per cent of their capital stocks. Thus the maximum sum obtainable from them would be $6,000 and the city now owed the Citizens more than that.

Ald. Nagel said that his idea of the matter was that if the city treasurer had the keeping of the funds it was his right to deposit them wherever he chose.

A second communication from Treasurer Frank explained that there was an overdraft of $9,649.53 at the Citizens, and that the interest on it amounted to $42.57. This could not be

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Pe-ru-na is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

HON. DAN A. GROSVENOR, OF THE FAMOUS OHIO FAMILY.

Hon. Dan Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."—

DAN A. GROSVENOR.

In a recent letter he says:

"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I receive numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, yes."—Dan A. Grosvenor.

A County Commissioner's Letter.

Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner, of 517 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease and I feel that it is my duty to speak a good word for the tonic that brought me immediate relief. Peruna cured me of a bad case of catarrh and I know it will cure any other sufferer from that disease."—John Williams.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. H. W. Ogden, Congressman from Louisiana, in a letter written at Washington, D. C., says the following of Peruna, the national catarrh remedy:

"I can conscientiously recommend your Peruna as a fine tonic and all around good medicine to those who are in need of a catarrh remedy. It has been commended to me by people who have used it, as a remedy particularly effective in the cure of catarrh. For those who need a good catarrh medicine I know of nothing better."

paid without an authorized voucher. Pres. Eibner thought that the overdraft should be taken up, as the city cannot afford to pay interest at 6 per cent while its own money is practically lying idle and drawing only 3 per cent.

Mayor Silverson begged to differ with the statements of Mr. Nagel. He might think the treasurer could do as he chose but Section 11 of the charter would tell him exactly what he could do.

Attorney Albert Pfander addressed the meeting on behalf of Treasurer Frank, who, he said, had asked him to appear. Mr. Frank wanted to know how to run the office. In the past it had been conducted rather lax. (Here Mayor Silverson interrupted with the remark: "That is just what I am trying to prevent.") He had been unable to find anything in the charter showing that the Citizens was still the city depository. That bank was named in 1901 for two years but there was no charter provision for its holding over. He said that Mr. Frank had endeavored to find out about the overdraft and closed by inquiring why the meeting had been called.

The overdraft statement brought forth the sarcastic rejoinder from the mayor that every business man in the city knew of it, and then the executive explained that he had called the meeting because there was a wrangle over the money and he wanted it settled. He thought the Citizens bank was the depository.

Treasurer Frank reported having deposited all of the city's funds in the Citizens and City Attorney Somsen passed an opinion on the matter. He defined Mayor Silverson's statement as correct and held that section 11 of the charter covered the point. Its construction indicated clearly that the Citizens was the depository.

Clerk Bobleter was authorized to draw a warrant for the payment of the overdraft and interest but Ald. Flor could not let the discussion stop and expressed his views on the action of the treasurer. One treasurer placed the money in the Citizens and another in the State. One bank paid only 1 per cent and the other 3 and he had no fault to find with the arrangement.

The mayor reiterated his assertion that the treasurer was without power to select a bank and Ald. Flor replied that it would be necessary to go to Sleepy Eye or Hanska, as they could not do business with any of the local banks. Pres. Eibner explained that a depository was not named last year for the reason that different city officials were connected with all the banks and Attorney Somsen informed the aldermen that they could not name a depository without advertising for two weeks. Ald. Gieseke introduced a resolution to advertise for bids which would stipulate the rate of interest paid for deposits and also that charged for overdrafts and it was adopted.

Capt. Albert Steinhauer's resignation as a member of the board of health was accepted and John Korbel appointed in his place. The salary of the assessor was fixed at $200, a plumber's license was granted to Chas. Stoll & Son and Poundmaster John Nun reported having leased an inclosure in the rear of Schilling & Baer's place of business.

Pres. Eibner said that he had been requested to ask for an increase in salaries for the marshal and night patrolmen. Mayor Silverson thought the city could well afford an increase of $5 per month for each man but Ald. Flor objected and no action was taken.

Pres. Eibner brought up the telephone matter and suggested that the council meet as a committee of the whole to take it up. Mr. Silverson expressed his approval of the conference, saying that the council did too much of its business on the street and not enough in the council chamber, where it should be done. He favored getting all of the concessions possible out of the present company as their franchise would in time become very valuable.

Ald. Richardtz returned to the subject of the exchequer by asking if the treasurer could not leave his money in the State bank until after bids had been advertised for. Ald. Flor offered to loan the city $10,000 but the mayor remarked that he would not care to loan $10,000 under the present conditions. Were he to do so it might develop that certain things had been done illegally and the experience would not be pleasant. Ald. Richardtz thought that if their action was illegal the money should be taken back to the Citizens. Ald. Gieseke made a motion to this effect but it received no second before adjournment.

When the majority of the council pledged themselves to Fred Johnson and assured him a unanimous election as successor to Mr. Amann, and even urged their support upon him, they undoubtedly acted from their own unbiased motives, but when someone whispered that he knew too much for them, that is, he was wise enough to put some sense into his administration and too wise to be "worked," the very men who were most persistent in getting him into the race were first to oppose him. More honor than is given credit for belongs to the two aldermen who failed to make Mr. Wicherski's appointment unanimous.

W. E. Griffith, Concan, Texas, writes: "I suffered with chronic catarrh for many years. I took Peruna and it completely cured me. I think Peruna is the best medicine in the world for catarrh. My general health is much improved by its use, as I am much stronger than I have been for years."—W. E. Griffith.

A Congressman's Letter.

Congressman H. Bowen, Ruskin, Tazewell county, Va., writes:

"I can cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy, Peruna, to any one who is suffering with catarrh, and who is in need of a permanent and effective cure."—H. Bowen.

Mr. Fred. D. Scott, Larue, Ohio, Right Guard of Hiram Foot Ball Team, writes: "As a specific for lung trouble I place Peruna at the head. I have used it myself for colds and catarrh of the bowels and it is a splendid remedy. It restores vitality, increases bodily strength and gives a sick person well in a short time. I give Peruna my hearty indorsement."—Fred. D. Scott.

Gen. Ira C. Abbott, 906 M street, N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I am fully convinced that your remedy is an excellent tonic. Many of my friends have used it with the most beneficial results for coughs, colds and catarrhal trouble."—Ira C. Abbott.

Mrs. Elmer Fleming, orator of Reservoir Council No. 168, Northwestern Legion of Honor, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes from 2535 Polk street, N.E.:

"I have been troubled all my life with catarrh in my head. I took Peruna for about three months, and now think I am permanently cured. I believe that for catarrh in all its forms Peruna is the medicine of the age. It cures when all other remedies fail. I can heartily recommend Peruna as a catarrh remedy."—Mrs. Elmer Fleming.

Mrs. Elmer Fleming, Minneapolis, Minn.

Treat Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the time to treat catarrh. Cold, wet winter weather often retards a cure of catarrh. If a course of Peruna is taken during the early spring months the cure will be prompt and permanent. There can be no failures if Peruna is taken intelligently during the favorable weather of spring.

As a systemic catarrh remedy Peruna eradicates catarrh from the system wherever it may be located. It cures catarrh of the stomach or bowels with the same certainty as catarrh of the head. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
