

September is here. Now what are the Fall Styles?

The New York Sun says: "Men's dress this Fall is to be loose fitting, coats long, shoulder's broad, but not exaggerated padding. Opening deep at collar of coats and waistcoats. Trousers full, but no foolstrim extremes."

This sounds all right to the ear — now see how it looks to the eye. Come in — the sample lots are here — get your pick.

owns a tract of 160 acres and every inch of it may be work. All but five acres lie east of the Northwestern main line and the deposit is well nigh inexhaustable. Although it has been quarried in a small way for thirty years, it may be said to be practically untouched and the present generation will not live to see it worked out.

New Ulm crushed stone promises to become a very marketable article. Its extremely hard, granite-like substance makes it impervious to usage that would grind the softer Kasota and Mankato lime stone to powder and it will be able to compete with any similar product on the market. A strong point in the quarry's favor is that the ledges lie absolutely exposed, and as the company is thus relieved of the first expense of stripping, they can afford to go to greater cost in breaking up the output. Already the fame of the stone has gone abroad. Large consumers are making inquiries concerning it and, although the local men are now compelled to put about $10,000 into their industry, the time will come when it will be a very valuable property and give them good returns on their investment.

Courtland Boy Lucky.

Wilbur Doty of Courtland, seems to be more fortunate than the average mortal. While in Minneapolis a short time ago he heard that a $1,200 automobile was being raffled off and purchased six chances on the machine. The drawing was held last week and Mr. Doty was the winner, thus getting a powerful automobile at practically no expense to himself. When this paper raffles its benzine buggy it will bar Mr. Doty from the contest.

NO PUMPKIN SHOW THIS

County Fair Taking on Lively Proportions.

Demand for Space for Exhibits Larger than Anticipated.

Entertainments to be Something Worth Price of Admission.

As the time approaches for the opening of the county fair, there is every prospect that it is to be something worth coming to see. Secretary Pfaender informs us that he is in correspondence with several attractions besides those that he has in hand and when the 15th of this month comes Brown County will be given the best fair it has had in many years.

He has the promise of good exhibits from the county, as the new premium list is large and liberal, sufficiently so to make it an object for farmers to bring their products in. The Second Regiment band has been secured for the purpose of furnishing music during the three days of the fair, there is to be a balloon ascension each morning and evening, there will be class exercises in gymnastics by some of the members of the Turnverein, a tug-of-war, wagon races, galloping races, and farmers races. This much of the program is certain and then the association is about prepared to announce that it will have speaking at the opening or on the second day, and that there is to be an exhibition something on the order of the illustration in this article. The old time merry-go-round will also furnish pleasure for young and old.

There need be no fear but that the fair will be worth every cent it costs to see it, and the management will appreciate every effort that is made to bring people to the city on that day, and also if any person has an article to exhibit, covered by any of the premiums offered they will be glad to receive it. The Woolson Spice Co., of Toledo, Ohio, has arranged with the management of the fair to have an exhibit and to serve coffee and rolls free, as an advertisement of their coffee. A working separator exhibit will be an attraction that will please all who are interested in machinery and Fuller & Johnson of Madison, Wis., will also be there with an exhibit.

The annual premium list which is a very neat piece of printing done by the press of the New Ulm Post, is in the hands of the secretary and will be given to all who are interested in making an exhibit.

Secretary Pfaender is making an earnest effort to have the fair something that will be pleasing to all and bring in people enough to make it a paying proposition, and there is no reason why he should not succeed. Each year the hope is expressed that the next will be better, let us make this so near a success that the management will feel warranted another year to expend money and time in giving the people the best fair ever held in the county; it can be done.

HUNTING IS RATHER DAMP

Heavy Storms on Opening Day of Season.

Nimrods Drenched Frequently and Thoroughly.

They Find a Great Scarcity of Prairie Chickens.

With water dripping from their guns and clothing and the rain falling in torrents, New Ulm hunters tramped over the stubble fields Thursday in a practically vain search for prairie chickens. Many of them sickened of the sport on the opening day of the season but those who did persevere were not rewarded for their pluck, as the second day was raw and rainy and the weather conditions very disagreeable. Not a good bag was made by any of the local men and, without exception, they report a great scarcity of game.

General Joseph Bobleter and his party, consisting of Lieut. Col. Geo. S. Whitney of Faribault, Major L. G. Vogel and "Capt." Albin Carlson, did their hunting near Comfrey. The latter was detailed as director of the commissary and the commander had his forces on the ground early. Pickets were thrown out, but shortly after breaking camp a furious rain storm was encountered, making infantry movements very difficult. After the onslaught of the elements Gen. Bobleter found his army badly demoralized. The chief of subsistence absolutely refused to leave the buggy and the two staff officers repeatedly missed easy shots. Thus it devolved upon the commander-in-chief to do the real execution of the campaign but in two days he was unable to bag more than seventeen chickens.

W. E. Koch, Dr. G. R. Koch, Prof. Richard Fischer of Madison, Wis., and Dr. Pultz of Milwaukee, were out through Lafayette. Drenched and chilled, they tramped through the fields all day and brought back seven chickens.

County Treasurer John Schneider, Dr. J. P. Graff and Thos. J. Kretsch drove over the major portion of Cottonwood township on September 1st. They got wet and three chickens, while A. J. Vogel, Hjalmer Hoidale and Albert Stuebe caught ten chickens and four ducks in two days spent in Sigel.

Geo. Zickrick did as well as any of the local men. He brought back a dozen chickens from Vesta, while Sheriff W. J. Julius, Julius Krause and Gus Goetsch could not do better than five on the opening day. F. W. Johnson and Anton Wiesner endured their discomfort in Lafayette and West Newton, getting two chickens, and John Hauenstein, W. J. Herrian, Frank Nenko and Fred Grebe went over the same district and succeeded in slaughtering seven. Several parties returned empty-handed and we have yet to learn of the number allowed by law being exceeded.

INCREASE THEIR SALARY

Uncle Sam Adds to the Salary of Mail Carriers.

There are five rural mail routes going out of this city and there are five men who are affected by the recent decision of the postoffice department affecting their salary. There should be universal rejoicing among them on account of the raise in salary that has been given them by the department.

Every rural mail carrier in Minnesota is to receive the maximum salary of $720 a year. Orders to this effect were issued a few days ago from the office of the fourth assistant postmaster general in Washington. There are in Minnesota about 1,000 rural mail carriers, and of this number about 750 have for some time been receiving the maximum salary, so that the number affected by the order received Saturday is 250. The men up to the present time have been receiving from $612 to $684 a year.

As the rural mail carriers are among the poorest paid employes in the post-office service, the notice of increase in salary comes not altogether unexpectedly, especially as efforts in this direction have for a long time been in progress at Washington.

The notices of the increase in pay will be forwarded immediately to all postmasters who have charge of rural routes, and the change, it is understood, will take effect immediately.

A Store You'll Appreciate!

We've tried to run a store that people like to come to. You know that no matter where you trade, you like to come to this store. You can depend on the goods and you are sure of fair treatment and good service.

This fall we intend to keep a better store than ever. We'll endeavor to make you feel at home here and you are always welcome whether you buy or not. Part of our stock is here and we think we've surpassed previous efforts in making selections you'll like.

As to prices—you will find them very reasonable and easily within your reach. Look up this list of good things and if you find them right in every way, start your season's business here.

EARLY AUTUMN HATS.—For men and boys. Our hat purchases are here. Our success in past seasons in picking the right styles is a guarantee that we have made no errors this time. We've made a little improvement in quality. You may not see this at once, but the wear will show it.

GROCERY SPECIALS EVERY DAY. You may not come to the store to see the new styles. These grocery specials will bring you and while you are here you can see the new goods also.

PRICES ON FARM PRODUCE. You'll see that all produce is priced here just the same as other stores. But at the same price, your produce will buy more here in style, in quality, in satisfaction and our prices are so low that even in quantity your produce will do more than its regular duty.

FUR COATS. Our Fur Coat counters have been replenished with new goods. You've often been surprised at the number of things we could offer at such a price. You'll be more pleased than ever if you come soon before all the rest have a chance to pick out the best things.

NEW THINGS IN CHINA. We believe that we have the best China for the price and that ever came to this town. The ware is fine, almost transparent and the decorations are lovely. You can buy one piece or a full dinner set. These "dish" prices will not give you much of an idea until you see the goods.

CRONE BROS.

CRUSHING MACHINERY HERE

Local Stone Company Gets Its Rock Breaker.

Powerful Contrivance Arrived in City Saturday.

Carpenters Will Now Begin Erection of Building.

On Saturday the New Ulm Stone company received the first carload of machinery for the new rock crusher which will be installed at the Redstone quarries this fall. All of the lumber for the big building that will be erected is on the ground and today the representative of the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee, who will superintend the construction of the plant, will reach the city. His arrival will be the signal for active work to commence and before the snow falls the crusher will be in operation. The site of the plant will be near the new sidetrack, completed a few weeks ago, about 500 feet east of the river, the main building will be 36x60 and the engine house 24x36 feet. The excavating necessary has been done, but before the structure can be built concrete foundations will have to be put down beneath the crusher, engine and boiler.

It has been planned to begin taking out rock from a ledge about 15 feet in height close to the building. A steam drill will be used here and, from the peculiarly brittle composition of the stone experts believe that the labors of the crusher can be lightened greatly by shattering the rock with heavy blasts of power. After this is done it will be conveyed in tram cars up an incline thirty feet in height, dumped into the crusher and then hoisted fifty feet in an elevator to the screens at the top of the building. From this point it will drop into bins built above the track and then can be loaded into cars for shipment.

Persons who have never visited the Redstone quarries cannot conceive of the immense amount of rock they contain. The New Ulm Stone company
