Chief of Police Adolph Henle has received a letter from the deputy warden of the United States Penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., on the subject of fingerprinting. The deputy warden says that a fingerprint system is used at the fort more than photographs in tracing down escaped prisoners and thinks as a means of identification it is superior to any other system invented.

Charles Wellner and August Dirks drove over from Fairfax Wednesday on business. Mr. Wellner says that an effort is being made to rebuild the mill which was burned down in that village last year, and the plan is to interest outside capital in the project. Nicholson, the former owner, is not financially able to re-establish his business. Mr. Wellner believes the proposition is a promising one to men with money to invest.

Word from Hanover, Germany, received by Henry Rolwes, the court-house janitor, brings the sad news of the death of his mother after a short illness. Mrs. Rolwes died November 26th, at the time her son was sick with erysipelas, and what made the news especially sudden was that he received word just a few days before the last letter came that both his father and mother were in the best of health. Mrs. Rolwes was 78 years old.

The Fairmont News, published semi-weekly, was sold today to Charles Mitchell, formerly editor and publisher of The Alexandria Post News. This latest prize is from the Spiro Powder company of Niagara Falls, N. Y., for a window display of their goods. Mr. Pfefferle's display chosen as one of the best for its artistic features and because of its strong points as a business getter. He sent in a photograph of his window and this was in competition with more than a thousand others.

It is refreshing to know that Brown county finds itself able to prosecute the murder case at the county seat without the assistance of the Chicago attorney, who for the past month or so, has to all appearances, been instrumental in stirring up unnecessary strife at the county seat, and even causing a reflection on the Brown county officials. His actions, since he has been at New Ulm, according to all reports, have not been in keeping with a lawyer who would conduct himself according to the rules of honorable conduct which self-respecting lawyers observe.—Comfrey Times.

CALUMET Baking Powder

complies with the pure food laws of all states. Food prepared with it is free from Rochelle salts, lime, alum and ammonia.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this emblematic price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

These meetings are conducted by Sunday, the ex-base ball player and his corps of assistants. At the meeting on Wednesday evening fully 1500 people attended. The above named gentlemen have about completed arrangements for a special train next Wednesday evening to carry up a number of people from here and the adjoining towns on the Redwood branch.—Sleepy Eye Herald.

The subject of the discourse at the Congregational church for the first Sunday of the new year will be "The Pathway of our coming year; Is it in sight or not?" Taken from the text, "I Being in the Way the Lord Led Me." The text for the evening discourse will be, "Thou shalt remember all the way the Lord hath led thee these forty years, that he might humble thee and prove thee, to know what was in thine heart." The morning service will be at 10:30 and the evening service at 7:30. Rev. D. O. Bean will preach. All are welcome.

The pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades of the public school gave a very pretty little entertainment in the high school auditorium Wednesday evening before an audience that taxed the capacity of the room. It was in the form of a cantata and was called "King Winter." The parts were all taken by children, both boys and girls in the two grades, and with the singing and speaking parts furnished roles for practically all in both classes. The singing was very sweet and the lines were spoken with a great deal of intelligence. Misses Mary Fitzpatrick and Florence Eggleston had charge of the entertainment.
