Collins, who at one time was a teacher in the New Ulm public schools but who for a great many years has held a responsible position in the postoffice department in Washington, arrived in the city last week and will remain until after election. It is with deep regret that the Review is compelled to chronicle this week the death of Mrs. Wm. Julius, wife of the Brown county sheriff. For many months she had been a sufferer from that dread disease, consumption, and on Saturday she died, leaving a husband and five small children to mourn her loss. Mrs. Julius was born on May 9th, 1870, and was married on Nov. 23, 1881. She was a woman of estimable traits, a faithful wife and a kind mother. Her death will be generally regretted.

Adjutant General Fred B. Wood and Major R. H. Holcomb came down from St. Paul Thursday evening and on the following day drove out to Fort Ridgely to take the preliminary steps towards improving the monument grounds. The Park Commission has had a legislative appropriation of $3,500 at its disposal for over two years and both Wood and Holcomb are of the opinion that this sum should be expended on improving the five acres already owned by the state rather than in purchasing additional ground as suggested by other members of the commission.

In the government land drawings in Tripp County, South Dakota, last week for the opening to settlement of the Rosebud reservation, Ernst Hughes of Cambria ranked well up among the lucky ones. Of the many thousands who competed only a few hundred could expect to reap any reward, and of these Hughes was fortunate enough to draw 34th place. In other words he will be the 34th to pick his choice of the immense tract of land, some of which is valued at $50 an acre.

There will also be elaborate costumes, pretty girls and an abundance of instrumental music.

William Ruenke Sr., one of New Ulm's most respected citizens, died Wednesday evening after an illness lasting several months. He was born in Germany seventy years ago and came to America twenty years later. At first he settled in Cincinnati but in 1864 New Ulm became his home and it was here that he spent the most energetic and useful part of his career. Here too he gained the reputation of being a valued and substantial citizen, one who enjoyed the confidence of his neighbors and the good will of nearly everyone who knew him. Two sons and three daughters survive him.

Senator LaFollette in a speech at Milwaukee the other day had this to say of Speaker Cannon: "It is my hope and prayer that Joe Cannon will be defeated. If there is a man who is a traitor to the government and who deserves to be defeated it is Cannon. The voice of the people is strangled by this man. His is a tyranny that makes men cringe, that makes men cowards."

And it is this man whom McCleary says he will vote for if nominated by a republican caucus.

GOVERNOR LIND BOOMS JOHNSON

Confident that Present Chief Executive will have at Least 30,000 Plurality.

John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, in an interview at Omaha conceded the electoral vote of his state to Taft, and also admitted that Bryan had little show in Illinois and Wisconsin, but expressed the conviction that Johnson would defeat Jacobson for governor by at least 30,000 votes. He said:

"In the three states mentioned Bryan will make a big inroad on the normal republican majority. Even republicans concede this, and if there were a better organization in Wisconsin we might carry that state. Johnson will defeat Jacobson by at least 30,000 votes, but we do not look to see Bryan beat Taft at home."

Wright's Rites

If Wright should meet a meteorite
On the broad aerial plain,
And neither turn to left or right
With his aeroplane;
Or if his motors failed to moté,
Or the flim-flam failed to say,
Would that careering meteorite
Give Wright the right of way?
Or if the whizzle-te-whiz got gay
'Way up among the stars,
Climbed right up through the Milky way
And landed Wright on Mars—
Then would the giant Martians there
Give Wright the right to write—
Would it be right for us to write
The last sad rites of Wright?
—W. P. Lockhart, in the Muskogee Phoenix.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore required constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for testimonials and circulars. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
