

TAFT, JOHNSON AND HAMMOND

Bryan Buried in Republican Landslide, but Johnson Wins in Minnesota.

His Plurality Over Jacobson Estimated This Morning at 20,000 to 25,000.

Greatest Personal Victory in the History of American Politics.

Hammond Trenches the Little Schoolmaster to the Tune of 3,000.

Brown County Alone Gives Him a Majority of Approximately 1,200.

Capt. Pfander Wins an Easy Victory Over His Opponent, Eckstein.

Every Democratic Nominee Elected With the Exception of Bastian.

Mayor Haynes Carries Minneapolis Over Huhn by Less than 500.

Returns were slow in coming in last night and likewise this morning, but of the following facts the Review has information that may be considered reasonably authentic.

Taft has been overwhelmingly elected. He carried all of the doubtful states, including New York by more than 150,000, Ohio by 60,000, Indiana by 15,000 and Illinois by 100,000, thus giving him the election by nearly 500 votes in the electoral college. Minnesota went for him by something like 100,000.

In New York Hughes is an easy winner over Chanler, but in Illinois Stevenson, the democratic nominee for governor, seems to have the best of Deneen.

For the democracy Minnesota is the bright particular spot.

Gov. Johnson is re-elected for a third term and that, too, in spite of the most vicious campaign ever waged in this state.

The Pioneer Press, his bitterest opponent, concedes his election this morning and the very latest returns indicate that his plurality will be from 20,000 to 25,000. This must unquestionably be regarded as the greatest personal victory ever won by an American politician.

Congressman Hammond, too, is triumphantly elected over McCleary, his plurality in the district being in the neighborhood of 3,000. He carried Brown county by close to 1,200.

In the county there was a sweeping democratic landslide, the democratic victors being Pfander, Berg, Ross, Erickson, Cutting, Schramm, Robertson, Fritsche, Eckstein and Tauer. Bastian was the only one on the county ticket to suffer defeat, Vogel winning over him easily. A detailed summary of the votes as far as they could be obtained up to the hour of going to press appears in another column. Precincts unheard from will not be able to change the result.

Death of Mrs. Jacobs.

Early yesterday morning Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs, wife of the well-known citizen, George Jacobs, died at the hospital following a surgical operation for dropsy.

Mrs. Jacobs was born in Bremen, Germany, on the 11th of July, 1846, her maiden name being Elizabeth Storch. At an early age she came to this country and on the 5th of June, 1869, she was married to Mr. Jacobs at St. Louis. Nine years later she removed with her husband to New Ulm and has resided here ever since, enduring all manner of hardship, but always bearing up with fortitude and ever making a faithful wife and loving mother. Only two children were born to her during her wedded life and of these only one survives her, the other having died during a smallpox plague in St. Louis. One sister also survives her, Mrs. E. H. Mueller of Germany.

Mrs. Jacobs first contracted her illness while attending a funeral in the winter time several years ago. At that time she was thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident and sustained severe internal injuries from which she never recovered. Dropsy developed and it was in the hope of checking the disease that she submitted to an operation a week ago.

Her funeral will be held next Thursday forenoon.

Nearly all of the New Ulm boys attending the University and other schools in Minneapolis were home the most of this week, the schools having closed in order to give the elder students a chance to go home and vote.

Frank A. Brady, chairman of the Nicollet county democratic committee and Attorney Dailey of Mankato were in the city Sunday having come up from Nicollet where Mr. Dailey addressed a political gathering the night before.

GROUND TO DEATH BY TRAIN

Mangled Remains of Man Found Along Railroad Track Near Comfrey.

No Clue Whatever as to the Stranger's Identity.

Charles Tomshine, a Bashaw farmer, when walking to Comfrey last Saturday afternoon, was astonished to find strewn along the track at the railway crossing about two miles north of town, the mangled remains of a man.

He immediately notified Dr. Prim, deputy coroner, who in company with Joseph Hettler, section foreman, went out and viewed the remains. The man had been literally ground to pieces and for some distance articles of clothing and portions of anatomy were scattered along the track.

He had black hair, heavy, sandy eyebrows, wore a dark-colored shirt, a vest of striped cloth, overalls, coarse shoes, a dark coat and a black ulster overcoat. He had a heavy cap of dark cloth, with red lining.

The little finger of each hand was deformed to the extent that they were bent inward. This was especially noticeable of the little finger of the left hand. The last joint of the index finger of the left hand was also deformed. Seventy cents in silver was found near the remnants of clothing; also a pocket-book containing $2.50 in silver. The pocket-book, money and a sample of each article of clothing was kept. There was absolutely nothing to give immediate identification of the body. A piece of the man's overalls was found at a crossing south of where the accident happened. His vest was found about two miles beyond where the remains were found. It was thought that the man had been dead about twelve hours and that he had probably been killed the previous night by a north-bound special freight. It was shortly after two in the afternoon of Saturday when Tomshine discovered the remains of the fellow who had either fallen from a train while stealing a ride, or who had been run over at the crossing. It is presumed that the article of clothing found south of the place of the accident may have been carried there by a south-bound train.—Comfrey Times.

KILLED WHILE GOING TO VOTE

Election Day Tragedy in Wright County of Interest to New Ulmits.

A special to the Minneapolis Tribune from Buffalo Lake says that while en route from their home in Rockford township to Dickinson's Spur to vote yesterday, William Wandersee, Herman Krause and the latter's son Emil were almost instantly killed as a result of attempting to cross the Soo Line track ahead of the morning west bound passenger train. Wandersee was killed outright, Krause lived about thirty minutes and the boy survived only about two hours after the accident. All were farmers and all had relatives in New Ulm.

Judge Nethaway's political meeting at the Turner Theatre Wednesday evening was very slimly attended. He devoted most of his attention to singing the praises of Jacobson.

James T. McCleary, candidate for congressman against W. S. Hammond addressed a fairly large audience at the Turner Theatre Monday evening. The same evening the democrats held an informal meeting at the opera house at which there was some excellent music by a quartette of male singers and short, but good, speeches by Capt. Albert Steinhauser and Prof. Jedlicka.

ROISING IS UNCONSCIOUS

Prominent Democratic Leader in Critical Condition at St. Paul Hospital.

Ran for Governor in 1902 and was Private Secretary to Gov. Lind.

L. A. Rosing, a member of the state board of control since 1905, is reported to be in a critical condition at St. Joseph's hospital in St. Paul.

Mr. Rosing ruptured blood vessels in the brain and was thought to be recovering, but suffered a relapse yesterday.

He became unconscious Saturday and with the exception of a few short intervals continued in that condition during the day. Saturday night he was still unconscious, although every effort was made to restore his sinking vitality.

Mr. Rosing's health has been poor for more than a year as the result of a stroke of paralysis. He appeared to be recovering from the effects when he suffered a second stroke. Last summer he took a trip down the Mississippi river and up the Ohio and Tennessee rivers and appeared much stronger when he returned, although he had contracted malaria during that time.

Although he never fully recovered from the paralysis he continued for a large portion of the time to attend to his duties on the board of control until taken sick a short time ago.

Mr. Rosing has been a prominent figure in Minnesota politics for many years. Originally a Republican he went over to the Democratic party in 1890 because of dissatisfaction with the McKinley tariff bill. Four years later he was a candidate for the state senate as a Democrat and from 1899 to 1900 was chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

He was Gov. Lind's private secretary in 1898 and 1900 and in 1902 was his party's candidate for governor, but was defeated by S. R. Van Sant.

He was a delegate to the national Democratic conventions in 1900 and 1904, and chairman of the Democratic executive committee in 1904.

Mr. Rosing is also a member of the Municipal and Commercial league and of the National Association of Corrections and Charities.

Three deaths within his family in less than a year, a wife and two sons—General Bobleter is of a certainty having more than his share of grief and sorrow. The last to pass away was his eldest son, Edward J. Bobleter, who died during the night of Wednesday, the 28th, after an illness, of more than two years duration, which started at first with a slight cold and gradually developed into consumption. Edward Bobleter was born in New Ulm on the 7th of November, thirty-four years ago. For a number of years he lived in St. Paul, but on being mustered out of the Twelfth Minnesota in which he had served as battalion adjutant, he remained in New Ulm until he was appointed military storekeeper under Gov. Lind. This position he held for a little more than a year, during which time he was married, a marriage from which one child resulted, a little boy who is now eight years old. In 1904 Mr. Bobleter was elected city clerk by a surprising majority, but only served in that capacity a little over six months. Following that he worked with a ditching crew until, about two years, he was compelled to abandon labor entirely on account of his health. He was always a generous-hearted and loyal friend, a good fellow and a popular companion. Especially in the militia, to which he was devotedly attached for twenty years, was he popular, as few others were, and many are the boys who will be pained to learn of his death. His funeral was held with military honors Saturday morning, Company A and the Second Regiment band accompanying the funeral cortege to their comrade's grave.

Beware of the man who cheats himself in a game of solitaire. When a man shouts his virtues from the housetops it is time for the people to sit up and take notice.

No matter what the outcome of yesterday's contest, the fight against Joe Cannon will go on just the same. The people will never rest until that man has been removed from the speakership.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Whisky by any other name would tangle men's feet just the same.

A woman's notion of superiority is to be able to pay for things by check.

Some men would do almost anything for a woman—except go to work.

Fools are always dreaming they would be happier in other places or circumstances.

It is easier, cheaper and generally pleasanter to get married than it is to get unmarried.

Rather than start a rough house many an otherwise truthful man tells his wife fairy stories.

It sometimes happens that two women are apparently good friends because they are bitter enemies.

Perhaps the worst thing that can be said about liquor is that it makes some men imagine they can sing.
