SCHINDLER'S END CAME SUDDENLY

Photographer Succumbs Unexpectedly to Stroke of Apoplexy.

Max Schindler, the photographer who came to this city two years ago and established a studio in the Henle building, died suddenly Sunday morning as the result of an attack of heart failure. He felt the attack coming on in time to summon medical aid, but in spite of this precaution he lived only a short time. His wife was visiting relatives in Janesville at the time of his death.

Mr. Schindler was born in Bavaria in 1868 and came to America about fifteen years ago. He was an excellent workman in his profession and in New Ulm was just about reaching that stage which betokened ultimate prosperity. His wife, to whom he was married in 1886, always assisted him in his labors, and to her his unexpected taking-off is indeed a sorrowful one.

The funeral was held yesterday morning, the Knights of Columbus attending in a body and the Second Regiment band furnishing music. Rev. Fox of Janesville preached the funeral sermon.

Albert Koch of Echo who visited with their aged father on Monument hill, Roy Seiter of Minneapolis who brought with him his bride of last summer and introduced her to New Ulm friends, and Jos. Everling of Canby and Albert Everling of Granite Falls who came here to see their parents.

The project for a bridge across Lake Hanska will not down. At a meeting of Hanska citizens the other evening it was decided that this proposed bridge was of far more importance to the business interests of the village than the improvement of the state highway through Lake Hanska and Linden, and a committee consisting of O. A. Johnson, Geo. Brand-void, G. W. Chambard, Alfred Helling and Christ Moe was appointed to interest Representative Pfaender in an effort to secure an additional appropriation from the legislature. At present there is $2,500 of state aid available, but this, it is figured, will not go very far. The bridge would have to be several hundred feet long and would cost, according to estimates already made, approximately $10,000.

Frank Friedmann Jr., of St. Paul called on his parents here Sunday.

M. Lehrer and A. C. Ochs of Springfield and Martin Klein and Alfred Kayser of St. Peter, all members of the Knights of Columbus, attended the funeral of their deceased brother, M. J. Schindler, yesterday forenoon.

Samuel Marti, whose death was briefly reported in last week's Review, was born in Switzerland on the 6th of July, 1828, and was therefore in his eighty-first year. Although he came to America as early as 1845 he did not settle in Brown county until 1861 and New Ulm did not become his home until 1890. He was twice married, first in 1855 to Anna Sahle, and again in 1888 to his surviving widow, Barbara Dau. From the first union eleven children resulted and of these five are still living. They are Ben Marti of Fairfax, Mrs. Henry Hauser of Minneapolis, Mrs. Robert Tester of Gibbon, John Marti of Excelsior and Jacob Marti of Seattle.
