During Wednesday's storm lightning struck and killed a horse belonging to Jos. Schroepfer of "Wallachei," a horse belonging to Claus Jungquist of Lafayette and three head of young cattle owned by C. J. Bonderson of Bernadotte.

A son of Wesley Miller is nursing a sore toe as a result of trying to duplicate some of the feats of the strong man who exhibited on the streets a few nights ago. The dumb-bell wouldn't work just the way young Miller would have liked to have it.

Representatives of various Brown county Woodmen camps got together at Sleepy Eye Thursday and reached an agreement to endeavor to induce all of the camps of the county to join in building a "county tent" at the Woodmen Sanitarium in Colorado.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the picnic of the Brown County Breeders' association did not attract the crowd of visitors that was expected of it, and little more could be done by those present than indulging in informal talks and discuss plans for the future. Prof. Bass of the state experimental station was unable to be present, but was represented by Mr. Gamlitz.

Dispute having arisen over the advisability of holding the next biennial saengerfest of the Northwestern Saengerbund in Omaha, owing to the application to that city of the Nebraska "daylight saloon" law, which compels all saloons to close at eight o'clock in the evening, the question was submitted by the executive board to the various societies participating in the saengerfest. The New Ulm Maennerchor is one of these and at its regular meeting Friday evening the members voted in favor of holding it, at Omaha, law or no law.

Prof. Herman Hein will take with him to the Cincinnati turnfest a class of eight.

R. W. Scherer transacted business in the Twin Cities Monday for the Minnesota Flint Rock company.

The annual convention of the Minnesota Firemen's association opened in Cloquet yesterday morning. The New Ulm department is being represented by John Herzog, Jos. F. Groebner, Frank Niemann, Math. Pederson and Anton Simmet.

An elaborate program of entertainment is being prepared by the Hanska fire department for the picnic which they are to give at Fort Hill next Sunday. Races, boating, roller skating and a ball game between Hanska and New Ulm are included in the offerings, as well as addresses by Attorney Ellsworth of St. James and F. W. Johnson of New Ulm.

The alumni of the New Ulm high school will meet at the high school building Saturday evening of this week and after a light lunch and a few addresses will hold the annual election. The alumni includes graduates since 1886, but all those who completed a course in the school prior to that time are invited to attend this meeting.

One of the finest catches of fish reported in this vicinity since the opening of the bass season was made Sunday forenoon by W. B. Mather and Foster Fischer. They claim to have caught, with hook and line, below the Cottonwood dam, five pike and ten fine bass, some of them weighing over four pounds apiece, and what is better, they have photographic evidence of the veracity of their story.

On Sunday the Linden friends of John Larson, the former clerk of court, gathered at his farm and welcomed him back to their midst with open arms, even going so far as to present him with a fine leather rocker. The presentation speech was made by Hon. S. D. Peterson of New Ulm and kindly words of greeting were spoken by Ole Jorgenson and A. F. Knudson. It was a day that John will long remember.

The Minneapolis papers record the death on Monday, May 31st, at Fern Hill, St. Louis Park, of A. E. McCarthy at one time a resident of New Ulm. Mr. McCarthy came to New Ulm in 1870 and for several years conducted a livery and sale stable. He was also active in Masonic circles, joining Charity Lodge in 1873 and serving as one of its officers until 1876. In 1880 he removed to Minneapolis and engaged in the hay and grain business. The Minneapolis Journal says he was one of the original members of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE FOURTH TO BE CELEBRATED

Preparations Now Being Made for an Old Time Demonstration.

Independence day is not to go by unnoticed in New Ulm, and for that let us all give thanks.

It will be celebrated, however, on the 3rd instead of the 4th, the 4th falling on Sunday.

A self-constituted committee, composed of some of New Ulm's most enterprising business men, co-operating with several of the city's military organizations, has set to work to raise the necessary funds, secure speakers and arrange a program. They may be depended upon to give New Ulm as good as anything to be pulled off in the neighborhood.

A son was born last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hagedorn of Courtland.

The annual "mission fest" of the Lutheran congregations of this vicinity will be held at Nicollet next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Entrup of Minneapolis visited over Sunday with the family of N. B. Neumann. Mr. Entrup is now a traveling salesman for the Minneapolis Drug company.

Judge Ross, in probate court last Wednesday, heard the petition of August Matter for the appointment of a guardian over the estate of Catherine Liesenfeld, a Sleepy Eye woman over eighty years of age. Although there was considerable opposition to the petition on the part of certain relatives of the aged woman the court finally appointed Michael Seidl of the Steinke-Seidl Lumber Co.

One of the happiest gatherings of the social season occurred Monday evening when the friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Blauert assembled at their home on North Washington street and assisted them in celebrating the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. In addition to congratulations which were showered upon them the happy and popular couple were made the recipients of many fine presents.

The Sleepy Eye gun club defeated the Springfield club in a match shoot at Sleepy Eye Wednesday, the score being 278 for Sleepy Eye and 250 for Springfield. On the following day the crack shots of Mankato tackled the Sleepy Eye champions and defeated them with a score of 281 to 264. The highest number of birds broken in either contest was 24, made on the first day by W. R. Hodges and on the second day by E. C. Remmele.

John C. Rudolph received a telegraphic dispatch from Washington Monday evening informing him that the secretary of the interior had rendered a decision in a land case in Utah, in which Mr. Rudolph's son-in-law is vitally interested, in Mr. Atkinson's favor. The case has been hanging fire over a year and Mr. Rudolph had given it a great deal of attention, even going so far as to enlist the aid of Senators Nelson and Smoot. His victory is one not easily gained in these days of graft and chicanery.

The male choir and orchestra of Dr. Martin Luther College will give a public concert at the Turner Theatre next Monday evening. As this concert will practically mark the opening of the festival week in New Ulm, and as it is really the first time the college students have ever appeared in a public hall in this city, unusual care has been taken in the preparation of the program and our citizens may look forward to a treat, the equal in every respect of many of the high-priced outside attractions offered here in the past.

Hippolyt Klingler, one of the earliest settlers of western Nicollet county, but for the past eighteen years a resident of New Ulm, died at the St. Alexander's home for aged people Sunday morning, the funeral being held from the Holy Trinity church yesterday. Mr. Klingler was eighty-two years of age. He came to this country from Germany in 1854 and after a brief residence in Brown county settled on a farm in Lafayette township in 1855. Retiring from active work nearly twenty years ago, he moved shortly afterwards to New Ulm and in 1908 he, with his wife, became an inmate of the home for aged people conducted in connection with St. Alexander's hospital. His wife died about four months ago and it was plain then that Mr. Klingler was not destined to long survive her. He leaves four children, John and Joseph Klingler, Mrs. Xavier Wendinger and Mrs. Kraus.
