Arrangements are being made by the ladies of the Methodist church for an apron sale to be held on Washington's birthday, in the Jacobs building on North Minnesota street. Lunch will be served during the afternoon and all are welcome.

Peter J. Moe who recently died in Springfield at an age of 82 years was an old settler of Burnstown and quite well known all over the county. He took an active part in the county seat fight and greatly supported New Ulm. He will also be remembered by the veterans as he was an old soldier.

B. Gruenenfelder, who by the way is the successful leader of four bands, St. James, LaSalle, Echols and Gibbon conducted a concert which was given by the St. James Fire Department in that city, Friday of last week. Speaking of this concert the St. James Journal-Gazette says: The concert given at the opera house last Friday evening, by the St. James Fire Department Band was fully as good as anticipated. The music played was of a high class and it was executed in excellent shape. Under the able instruction of Prof. B. Gruenenfelder, the band has been doing some most excellent work and it is hard to find one which will make a better showing than will this organization of which the people of St. James are justly proud.

The Sharp Shooter's section of the New Ulm Hunters Club—better known as Jaegerverein—last Saturday evening held a jolly social meeting in the dining room of Turner Hall. The occasion having been arranged for the purpose of doing honor to the king of this section and present his majesty, Wm. E. Koch, with a gold medal, as a proper recognition of his ability of having gained the highest score for 1909. Lunch was served and the discussions on sharp shooting as well as on the art of telling yarns were very lively. We understand that in the near future a new office is to be created, which in rank will be higher than that of the king: the important office of "Munchhausen," which is an integral and most necessary department of hunter's clubs, especially the sharp shooter's section. A number of Munchhausens are eagerly aspiring for the position, but all indications point to the selection of Charlie or Cap., these gentlemen having so far demonstrated the best qualifications for becoming followers of that famous sharp shooter, Munchhausen.

Following is the annual report of births and deaths in Brown County during the past year:

New Ulm's School Superintendent.

At a meeting of the Board of Education held Saturday evening, Prof. H. C. Hess of Sleepy Eye was unanimously elected superintendent of the New Ulm schools to succeed E. T. Critchett, resigned. Mr. Hess has accepted and will enter upon his duties in this city next September, with a salary of $1,800 per annum. When the Board met there were numerous applications on file and most of the applicants expressed a desire to accept this position at a lower rate of salary, but in the opinion of the members of the Board it was not so much a question of dollars and cents as of ability and Prof. Hess appeared to be the man who is fully capable of taking charge of our schools and to meet all requirements. Mr. Hess is a teacher of wide experience and possesses marked executive ability. He took charge of the Sleepy Eye schools in 1891 remaining there for twelve years when he went to Glencoe and after four years faithful service in that place was again called to Sleepy Eye to superintend those schools. He has always given eminent satisfaction and the Board anticipates an advantage for our schools by having selected Prof. Hess. Supt. Critchett will have charge of the New Ulm schools during the balance of this school year.

George A. Fleisner, formerly of Marshall, Minn. and recently the guest of New Ulm relatives and friends, last Saturday left for Douglas, Arz., to accept a position as draftsman with a prominent iron sheet and metal firm.

Captain H. A. Hatcher, military store keeper for the state of Minnesota last Wednesday afternoon was in the city checking up the military property of company "A" and the Second Regiment Band.

The Review is in receipt of several souvenir postal cards, showing views of the good old city Ulm, Wuerttemberg, Germany. The sender is K. D. Klemm, Lieutenant, 4th cavalry, who, it will be remembered, was in New Ulm last fall with the cavalrymen on their practicing march. Mr. Klemm says: "I am sending you a few views of Ulm, because it calls to mind a very pleasant evening last fall in New Ulm. They will do to remind some of you of their Fatherland."

Max Pfaender is rapidly coming to the front as a landscape artist whose services will be employed for designing and arranging a park in Mankato. On Monday Mr. Pfaender met with the citizens committee of that city who will engage him to prepare plans for the improvement of a park which is expected to be a beauty spot. He offered a number of suggestions as to how that plot of ground could be beautified, and illustrated his remarks and suggestions by pencil sketches. The outcome of the meeting was that Mr. Pfaender was engaged to draw up plans and a landscape scheme for the laying out of the grounds. Just as soon as the weather will permit the grounds will be leveled off and a start made to beautify the park. It is understood that there is now about $300 available for this purpose, the most of which was subscribed by private parties.

Obituary.

Miss Lizzie Roesch, 57, died last Tuesday, at the state hospital for the insane at St. Peter. Typhoid fever was the cause of her death. Deceased was born in Kanton Bern, Switzerland in 1854 and came to America with her parents at the age of seven years, settling on a farm in Lafayette township. Miss Roesch had been an inmate of the state institution for thirty years, during which time her parents both died. Two brothers and one sister remain to mourn her loss. The remains were brought to this city Tuesday afternoon and the funeral took place Friday afternoon from Buenger's undertaking rooms.

Hermann Lemke, 66, last Wednesday died at the County Poor Farm. His death was caused by paralysis. Deceased was born in Germany in the year 1844 and became to America in 1880 making New Ulm his home where, for a number of years, he followed his profession as a tailor. Reverses in business and the fact that he had no relatives induced him to go to the county house for the balance of his life. He became an inmate in 1902. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon from Buengers undertaking rooms.

City Council.

At the last regular session, F. H. Retzlaff registered a complaint in regard to the careless manner with which the Northwestern railroad takes care of the crossings. Mr. Retzlaff states that the crossing of the railroad tracks on South Third St. is very dangerous, for the reason that the gates and warning signals are not properly handled. Many other citizens are also in a position to enumerate instances where their lives were endangered at this same crossing. City Attorney Somsen is gathering all evidences regarding this matter and will request the superintendent of the road to provide for a better service. In the matter of W. W. Green, who on his departure from this city apparently refused to pay the electric light and water bills, City Attorney Somsen was instructed to act according to law and force payment of said bills.

The city entered into a contract with the Sterling Mfg. Co., Warren, Ohio, for furnishing incandescent and Tungsten lamps. The snow-plow heretofore operated and owned by Mayor Graff was bought by the city. The city clerk during the past month collected $2,577 for electric lights and $23 income from the city scales. Jos. F. Groebner had qualified as city fire marshal. Louis Kunz, Jr., on the request of the secretary of the fire department was granted an honorable discharge from the department.

J. J. Green last week shipped his household goods to St. Paul where he will make his permanent home with his daughter. Mr. Green left last Saturday on the noon train.

As stated in last week's Review the Anti-Tuberculosis Exhibit, under the direction and auspices of the Minnesota State Board of Health was not only instructive and interesting regarding sanitary matters, but carried with it important lessons for the prevention and cure of diseases, especially consumption. The two day's sessions were well attended. Tuesday evening Supt. E. T. Critchett presided and Andrew J. Eckstein read an interesting paper on "Breeding Places for the Tuberculosis Germ." Wednesday evening Dr. G. B. Weiser presided over the meeting and instructive discourses were delivered by Dr. C. C. Pratt, Dr. O. C. Strickler and Dr. H. Longstreet Taylor. The members of the State Board of Health regretted very much that no arrangements had been made by the local management for afternoon sessions.

Last Wednesday afternoon St. Joseph's Society of Holy Trinity Catholic church held its annual meeting. The reports show a decided increase in membership and a splendid financial condition. The organization has 458 active and 14 honorary members. 32 new members were admitted during the past year, two withdrew from the society and 2 were suspended. The total receipts for the fiscal year were $2622.45; $870.40 were paid out for sick benefits and $511.68 are in the treasury. In the evening the members, their families and friends to the number of about 400, enjoyed a social "Kommers" at which occasion Joseph Matt, editor of the "Wanderer," St. Paul, delivered an appropriate address. This was followed by a comedy: "Die Lustige Hochzeit." The following officers were elected: Pres., Willibald Eibner; vice pres. John Floetl; cor. sec., Rud. Marti; treas., Christ Sprenger; board of managers, John Henle; Mich. Schmitt and Joseph J. Dietz; directors, of the life insurance dept., Alex. Ranweiler, John Henle, Jos. J. Dietz, And. Saffert, And. J. Tauer, Christ Sprenger; marshal, And. J. Tauer; doorkeeper, Philip Lange, Jr. The new proposition of an extra assessment of 5 cents per member was adopted by a vote of 174 to 78.

Annual Inspection.

General order No. 1, for 1910, was issued to the Minnesota National Guard by Adj. Gen. Fred B. Wood. The order deals with the dates and places of inspection of the companies.

The state and government inspection of the infantry branch will be made by Lieut. Col. William Gerlach, U. S. A., retired, on duty with the M. N. G. The battalion of artillery will be inspected by an artillery officer detailed by the department for that purpose.

Inspection of Company A and Band of this city will take place April 18. Other companies in the Second Regiment as follows:

Company G, Austin, April 11th; Company I, Owatonna, April 12th; Company B, Faribault, April 13; Company D, Northfield, April 14; Company C, St. Peter, April 19; Company H, Mankato, April 20; Company F, Werthington, April 21; Company E, Fairmont, on April 22

Gen. Wood says that there is a keen competition on between the guards of the various states to secure the lowest percentage of absentees. For two years Minnesota has held the record in that line, having 1.92 per cent in 1908 and .92 per cent in 1909. New York was second with 2.16 per cent in 1908 and 1.92 per cent in 1909.

Mrs. Leibold returned from an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. F. Taylor, Aberdeen, S. D.

A number of New Ulmites last Sunday drove over to Cambria where they were royally entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pfaender, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brust, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nagel, Dr. and Mrs. Emil Mueller and daughter, Miss Anna Dobrenz and Miss Elfrieda Toberer.

R. Pfefferle on Monday passed the 70th milestone of life's journey's in the best of health and humor; closely behind him follows John F. Neumann, who on Tuesday celebrated the 69th birthday. Here's to the health of the good old boys, may they stay with us many more years.
