BROWN CO. FAIR

Races are Chief Attraction. Friday's Attendance Large.

The Brown County Fair of 1910 can hardly be said to have come up to the standard of that of last year, although it proved a success when viewed from the amount of articles exhibited and the number of people that attended during the three days of the fair. When the managers have finished counting they will find that at least 6000-7000 people attended.

The success of a county fair, from the financial standpoint and that of attendance depends largely upon the attractions that are offered the people. And in this respect this year's fair fell considerably behind the fairs of previous years. The management, however, is not at all responsible for these conditions. Two companies with fine attractions and splendid entertaining features were booked for the Brown county fair, but owing to the murder of Joseph Wheeler, which occurred in Mankato on the opening day of our fair, all the members had to appear at the coroner's inquest, from this deficiency aside however, the buildings and grounds were fairly well supplied with a great variety of exhibits.

In some departments the number of exhibits was not as large as it might have been, the quality of the exhibited goods, however was very good. This is especially true of the ladies handiwork. In this department the following ladies drew first prize:

Ladies Handiwork: Mrs. Jos. H. Hofmeister; Mrs. R. Polter; Mrs. Thres. Boemler; Mrs. A. P. Boock; Mrs. W. F. Wendt; Miss Lucy Marti; Miss Frieda Gieseke; Mrs. Fred Meine; Mrs. Jos. Weisenborn; Mrs. Wm. Boettger, Milford; Mrs. Bees, Mrs. Jos. Hofmeister; Vivian Wright; Mrs. W. H. Stoll; Mrs. Chas. Hauenstein; Mrs. W. C. Miller; Mrs. Chas. Brust Sr.; Mrs. Rosa Franta; Mrs. Z. Johnson, Hanska; Mrs. A. W. Bingham; Mrs. John Dengler; Mrs. Joe Fiemeyer; Mrs. C. A. Mayer; Mrs. Herm. Dorn; Mrs. John Fritsche; Miss H. Dahl.

The following received first prize in the Manual training department:

Manual training: Elenor Cordes; Henry Dietz; W. Wicherski; R. Marti; P. J. Ritschell.

The Children's Handiwork Department was also well represented. Here prizes were given the following:

Children's Handiwork: Stonia Kunze; Aloysius Eibner; Veronica Eibner; C. Herzog; Adelheid Schapekahn; Francis Zeller; Mabel Kottke; Teckla Scheibel; Rosina Lipp; Lena Matsch; Tillie Berg; Fred Ross; Hy. Schnobrich; Elsa Retzlaff; Elvira Brandt; Wanda Gag; Carl Schroeck; Teckla Eibner.

The following New Ulm firms were represented by industrial and mercantile exhibits in the Exhibition building: New Ulm Hardware company, Aug. Schell Brewing company, Crone Bros., F. J. Backer, Brown County Woolen Mills, G. O. Gastler and F. Retzlaff. On the grounds were Joy-Wilson Sales company F. H. Retzlaff. Robt. Pesenmeier & Co., Deere & Weber.

As usual the live stock which was extensively exhibited from all parts of the county attracted great attention. The principal exhibitors of high bred cattle were:

Wm. Hoffmann, And. Backer and Otto Wiedemann, of Milford; L. E. Potter, of Springfield; Jos. Diepolder, of Lafayette; Ferd. Crone, of this city, and Theo. Thormodson, of Linden. H. G. Hillesheim of Stark; Ferd. Crone, New Ulm. The Springfield Farmers Horse Company; Evan Price, Cambria, had fine specimen of horses on exhibition. The poultry, sheep and hog departments showed up to a better advantage than in previous years.

The races, of course, constituted the principal attractions. Large crowds occupied the grand stand Friday and Saturday afternoon. Following we give the summary:

The Third Republic's Forty Years.

On September 4, 1870, Leon Gambetta, speaking for himself and other radical members of the Legislative Assembly, announced the deposition of the Bonapartist dynasty and the establishment of the republic. This was two days after the battle of Sedan, in the Franco-German war and the capture of McMahon's army and Napoleon III. The campaign entered upon so confidently by that potentate thus collapsed, and he was a prisoner in the hands of the Germans. On the evening of the 4th the government of national defense was established, with Gen. Trochu at the head. While this was being done the Empress Eugenie, disguised, fled secretly from Paris and entered Belgium, on her way to England, where she has resided ever since.

The first republic, which began in 1792, lasted in its various shapes, until 1804, when it gave way to the first empire, under Bonaparte, and that was subverted in 1814, in the war waged against Bonaparte by combined Europe. It was succeeded by the restored Bourbon monarchy under Louis XVIII in 1814, which went down in the revolution of July, in 1830, Charles X then being at its head. The Orleansist monarchy of the Citizen King Louis Philippe, which was created in 1830, was submerged in the storm of 1848, and the second republic was started, which gave place to the second empire in 1852, under Napoleon III., and this collapsed at Sedan, when the present regime came into being.

Thus the third republic has had a longer career than that of any two of its predecessors since 1792. For several years it was conceded to be only an experiment, which endured because a majority of the French people could not unite upon any other form of government. Along until the end of the presidency in 1879 of Napoleon III's old warrior, MacMahon, there was doubt as to whether it would weather the storms which seemed to be gathering around it. Even as recently as 1889, in the Boulanger scare, the advent of the Man on Horseback was often very confidently predicted. But it passed through the tentative stage before the death of President Carnot in 1904, and is now a permanency. Just four days after Gambetta proclaimed the establishment of the republic the United States eabled its recognition of the new regime, and welcomed it at the council board of the nations. Five months later it was recognized by the great powers of Europe. Its alliance with England and Russia and its ententes with other countries gives France a larger influence in the affairs of the world than it exerted previously since the days of Bonaparte's power in the first republic a century ago.

Government Geologist Can Always Find Water In Rock.

N. H. Darton is a government geologist who does surprising stunts in the way of finding water. The geological survey has carried on extensive investigations of underground waters, which make Mr. Darton's prophecies possible. One of his most notable successes was a well at Edgemont, S. D. Mr. Darton predicted that water should be expected in the Deadwood sandstone about 3,000 feet below the surface. Accordingly the boring was begun; but, meeting with many difficulties which caused great delay and expense, there was a disposition to abandon the work. The engineers in charge, having confidence in Mr. Darton's prediction, urged a continuance of the boring, and their faith was finally rewarded by striking a great flow of water at a depth of 2,695 feet. The well yields 500,000 gallons a day of tepid water, satisfactory for locomotive and other uses, and as there is not good water within sixty miles and much of the supply had to be hauled in tank cars the value of this flow is inestimable.

IS HUMAN DIVINING ROD.

In the same general section of South Dakota as well as in other western states many other wells from 1,395 to 2,135 feet deep have closely verified Mr. Darton's predictions and are furnishing a supply of excellent water. It is difficult to estimate the money value of a successful artesian well in an arid region, but where it obviates the need of long haulage $30,000 to $100,000 is a moderate figure.

Annual reports of the German chemical factories show continued high dividends and trade activity. Dividends ranged from 12 to 32 per cent. One concern claims to have perfected an artificial rubber.

Worth In Chemicals.

The pure food laws of Germany are operating successfully. Dealers now supply products that meet legal requirements in every way.

HEALTHOGRAMS EDUCATE CHICAGOANS IN HYGIENE.

Dr. W. A. Evans, Chicago's original health commissioner, has issued a new edition of "healthograms," as he calls some of his sanitary rules.

"Fifth, flies and fever are the three (dis)graces," writes Dr. Evans.

He adds these nuggets of advice: "If it's real estate you're looking for buy 'hokeypokey.' It's 15 per cent dirt."

"The typhoid chain of F's—filth, fingers, flies, foods, fever."

"Typhoid to prevent costs a few cents, to cure costs many dollars."

"Not every fly that comes along is carrying disease germs, but many of them are, and you can't tell which is which. Take no chances—swat all."

ENGLISH JUDGES CLAIM OVERWORK ON THE BENCH

Like Their American Brethren, Health Remains Good.

Like American judges, English judges complain that they are overworked. As a result Parliament is authorizing the appointment of two new judges to the high court bench at a salary of $25,000 a year, with $17,500 a year as pension after retirement.

The high court is composed of two divisions, King's bench and chancery. The judges of the King's bench are behind in their work and lawyers and clients are complaining of the delay in the adjudication of their cases. The chancery judges keep their calendar clear and there is no delay in their courts.

Four of the six judges on the chancery bench are under sixty, but over fifty. Justice Joyce is still active at seventy. Sixteen judges occupy the courts of King's bench, including Lord Chief Justice Alverstone. The appointment of the two new judges will give the King's bench eighteen judges, and will, it is hoped, obviate further complaints of delay.

The judges on the King's bench are on the average older than the chancery judges. Justice Lawrence at seventy is not contemplating retirement.

About 70,000 cases are filed annually in the King's bench. Not all of them of course, come up for hearing. Of these 70,000 about 3,000 are set down for trial, and of these about 2,000 actually are tried. Two-thirds of these cases are tried in London, the other third on circuit. It is estimated that each judge tries annually 120 cases. Twenty years ago the average was 151 cases.

While the judges complain of overwork it is a fact that they work only thirty-six weeks of the fifty-two. The judges sit only five hours a day for five days a week. Of course, their work is not wholly represented by those figures because all of them have more or less work to do in their chambers or their homes. The judges seem to be an unusually healthy lot of men; their absences due to illness average only four days a year.
