Our merchants are preparing their spring stocks and the windows are beginning to look very fascinating again. Advertising is a part of the business and our paper this week is full of new ads which contain much interesting reading. Mr. Metzinger has great faith in advertising in his home papers and this week uses a full page of space to tell the readers what bargains he is offering. He declares that he has proved to his entire satisfaction that advertising does pay and those who saw the vast crowds at his sale must agree that to advertise big does reach the people and does result in increased business. Many of our advertisers have new ads this week. This means extra work for the printer but for the sake of the good it does the advertiser and because new ads make better reading than old ones we are always pleased when we get orders to change. Note the list of changes for this week and then turn to the ad and see what each advertiser has new to offer.

An Epidemic of Coughing

Is sweeping over the town. Old and young alike are affected, and the strain is particularly hard on little children and on elderly people. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a quick, safe and reliable cure for all coughs and colds. Contains no opiates. O. M. Olsen.

ARSON, $300 REWARD:

A cash reward is offered for the arrest and conviction of any incendiary in any of the associated towns as stipulated in section 4 of the article of association, not exceeding $300. Property Owners Federation

Why continue paying rent when we can furnish you the money with which to build and you can repay us the same as paying rent? Did you ever stop to think what a nice home you could own with the money you have paid out in RENT.

Think it over - then come to us and let us explain how we can help you own a home.

Social Events.

The birthday party of Mr. J. L. Siegel has come to be an expected annual event. The custom of celebrating the day by a dinner party began some sixteen years ago. At that time the dinner party numbered eight guests. This year covers were laid for sixteen four of whom, Mr. and Mrs. N. Henningsen and Mr. and Mrs. Critchett, were members of the original party. The other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Strickler, Dr. and Mrs. Weiser, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Krook and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bingham. The table was prettily decorated and place favors were bunches of cherries in honor of Washington's Birthday which happened to be the same day as Mr. Siegel's. After dinner the guests were enjoying a game of cards when strains of music from out of doors greeted them. Investigation proved it to be a serenade for the host by Bauer's Band. The players were invited in and the guests spent the rest of the evening dancing.

Mrs. O. C. Strickler entertained a small party at cards Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Critchett. There were twelve guests. Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Siegel received the prizes.

Mrs. L. G. Vogel and Mrs. L. B. Krook gave a thimble bee to thirty friends Monday afternoon at the home of the former. The decorations were pink and green and carnations were used to carry out the scheme. The ladies were required to make paper flowers without the aid of scissors, using only their deft fingers to tear the material the required shape and size. Prizes were awarded for the best work to Mrs. Lienhard who made a calla lily and second prize was given Mrs. Otto Seiler for her double tulip.

Mrs. N. Henningson is giving a large whist party to night in honor of Mrs. E. T. Critchett.

The ladies birthday club of the Turner Frauenverein celebrated Washington's birthday with one of their monthly birthday parties. The "birthday children" were Mrs. J. Hauenstein, Sr., Mrs. Klesling, Mrs. Kunze, Mrs. B. Williams, Mrs. J. Schapekahn and Miss Dora Schmidt. Tables were set for fifty in the Social Hall. They were decorated with groups of flags and paper hatchets were found at each place, and the guests of honor wore bouquets of cherries. The hatchets were used later in the game of the cherry tree wherein the blindfolded ladies were required to fasten their hatchets in the cut in the tree George Washington was supposed to have chopped down. Mrs. Louise Aaron won the prize, a box of Maraschino cherries, by hitting the mark exactly and Miss Ida Hauenstein who tried to bury her hatchet under the fallen tree was given another in place of it as the booby reward. There was a program consisting of patriotic songs, a trio by the Misses Wanda and Estella Gag and Rosebud Engel, a piano solo by Miss Henrietta Hauenstein, a recitation by Mrs. Volquardsen, a Washington essay by Miss Louise Schrodt and Mrs. L. G. Bell extended the birthday congratulations.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. spent a most enjoyable social evening together Tuesday at the Woodmen Hall. Only the members and their husbands were present. Dancing was the amusement of the evening and refreshments were served.

"The Military Air-Scout."

Far above the ordinary drama is the novel and modern means of warfare employed by the "Air-Scout" and his flying machine and the aeroplane gun introduced by the enemy to offset his attacks. They bring the "bird-man" down, but he bobs up serenely, defeating the foe and winning his commanding officer's daughter. The "Military Air-Scout" will make a brilliant flight on the screen of the Princess Theatre Tonight and Tomorrow and everybody will learn what the aeroplane will mean in matters of war.

Obituary.

Edward Hopp, Sr., a respected pioneer died at his home in Nicollet township, Friday morning, Feb. 23, at 3 o'clock. His death was due to heart trouble from which he had been a sufferer for the past two years. The deceased was born in Dolgen, Pommern, Germany, February 8th, 1845. He came to America in the spring of 1862, coming direct to Nicollet county where he has resided ever since. In June, 1871, at old Nicollet, he was united in marriage to Sophia Annim, who with the following children mourn his loss: Herman, Fred, Edward, Otto, Emil, Julius, Arthur, Louis, Mrs. John Stolt, all from Nicollet, Mrs. Emil Magers of St. Paul and Mrs. Albert Struck from near St. Peter. The funeral was held Monday forenoon at 11 o'clock from the home, with services at the Lutheran church at old Nicollet, Rev. F. Koehler officiating.

Mrs. Anna Brandl, for nearly 47 years a resident of the Town of West Newton, died at the home of her son John Brandl last Wednesday at the age of 87 years. Death was due to old age and an attack of pneumonia and she was sick but a few days. The deceased was born in Bavaria, Germany April 17, 1825 and came to this country in the year 1855 settling in New York, where she resided until the year 1865 when she came west and settled in West Newton living there ever since. She was married to Jos. Brandl in the old country in the 1846 and lived happily with him until his death which occurred 12 years ago. She is survived by three sons, Wm. of New Ulm and John and Joseph of West Newton. She is also survived by a brother, Geo. Inhofer of New Ulm, and the following sisters: Mrs. Barbara Marti and Mrs. Mike Muber of St. George; Mrs. Geo. Bastian of Ridgely; Mrs. Frances Eckert of Gibbon and a sister in Bavaria. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Catholic Church of St. George and interment was made in the church cemetery. Rev. Pozek conducted the funeral services.

With the words "My hat is in the ring" Teddy Roosevelt practically announced his candidacy for the Presidency of the United States, and the letter to the Governors made public Monday confirmed the rumor that was precipitated by this rough-rider style announcement. Mr. Roosevelt is without question the best politician this country has ever produced. The words above quoted, to our mind, sound undignified, to come from one aspiring to the highest office in the gift of the people, but they appeal to the fighting instinct of the average citizen and the "Tremendous Roarer" will immediately, in the minds of many, be transformed into a hero, one who must be supported at all hazards. We are glad to note that the announcement of his candidacy has not met with that spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm that he himself and his admirers figured on. It is well that the American public should show some hesitancy in throwing past traditions to the wind. By advocating the re-election of Roosevelt for a third term we would admit that we are unable to fight and win our own battles and that we are ripe for a "Dictator" to order us around and tell us what to do.

Minnesota Day

There are fifteen names from the Dakota or Sioux languages, eight of which are in their original form, or have been translated into English and one into French. The Ojibway language has given names to twelve counties. Six of these are nearly in the original translation and four have been Anglicized.

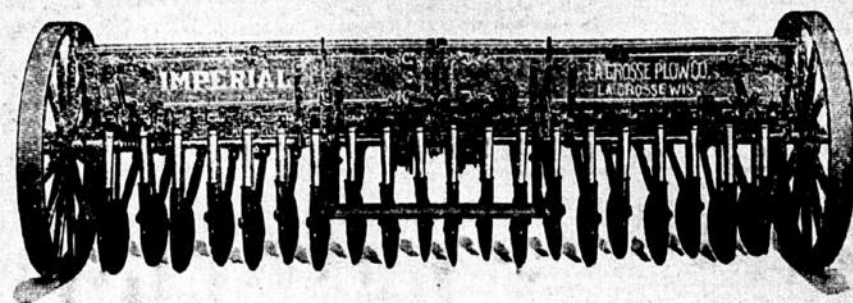

The white settlers, noting the natural features of the country, have given six of the names which have since been applied to counties.

Fifty-two counties bear personal names and commemorate various groups of men. Many of the men after whom they were named have been forgotten; but the entire group could tell a very complete and interesting story of Minnesota life. Seven early explorers of this area, four fur traders of the early half of the last century, twenty-seven citizens of Minnesota as a territory or state and fourteen citizens of other parts of the United States complete the list.

The Indian words are particularly interesting. From the Sioux language there is Anoka, which means "on both sides", and was applied by the founders to the city laid out on both sides of the Rum river.

Dakota signifies an alliance or league and the Dakotas called themselves collectively by that name although they were known more frequently as the Sioux. The former name, now obsolete, of a large division of the Dakotas or Sioux is Isanti. The tribe lived 200 years ago in the

"I paid that bill once."

"You must be mistaken."

"Indeed, I am not mistaken."

"Have you a receipt?"

"It seems to me I have, but I don't remember what I did with it."

"We have no record of payment, and unless you can produce our acknowledgement in the way of a receipt, we must insist that you pay the account."

But it might have been a different story had the bill been paid with a bank check. No chance for argument or dispute when the canceled check is produced. Better pay your bills but once-with a check on this bank.

region of the Rum river and Mille Lacs. These were called by Father Hennepin the river and the lake of the Isanti, which means the "Knife Indians", because these were the earliest French traders in the winter of 1659-60.

Kandiyohi was the Dakota name for a lake, Kand, meaning buffalo fish and ohi, to arrive in. The reason for the name has been found in the fact that there are two species of buffalo fish which at spawning season leave the upper Mississippi River in which they live during the greater part of the year and come sometimes in immense numbers to lakes at the head of small streams.

Wabasha is a corporation of Wapashaw, which was the name in three generations of the hereditary chiefs having the most influence among the Mississippi River bands of Dakotas. The word signifies "red leaf". Thence red hat or cap and red battle standard. It was applied to the first chief of this name because he received from the English governor in Quebec presents of a soldier's uniform with its red cap and English flag.

Rich, especially in provisions is the English translation of Waseca, and was first applied to the earliest farming settlement in 1855 near the present city of that name because of the fertility of the region.

Watonswan County was named after the river by that name, which means in the English language fish bait or where fish bait abounds.

A Dakota woman, cousin of the last chief named Wapashaw, was Winona. Both of them were prominent in the events attending the removal in 1848 of the Winnebago Indians from Iowa and the Wabashaw prairie, the site of the present city of Winona. The name Winona is applied to the first born in any Indian family if it is a girl. It is the diminutive of wino, woman.

The six counties which bear English translations of the Indian names of rivers and lakes are Big Stone, from Big Stone lake, alluding to the conspicuous outcrops of granite and gneiss in the valley below the foot of the lake; Cottonwood, from the Cottonwood river; Blue Earth, from the river so named because of the bluish green earth used by the Sisseton Indians as
