Mrs. E. C. Steinhäuser and son Armin, who have been visiting at the Steinhäuser home since Christmas, returned to Lambertson Sunday afternoon. Miss Clara Steinhäuser, who was keeping house for her brother Emil during that time, returned home yesterday afternoon.

Twenty two couples marched in on Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Backer Monday evening the 13th, to remind them of their 15th wedding anniversary. It was a complete surprise and a most delightful evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. A. Ackermann and Mrs. C. G. Reim rendered several musical selections. The couple was presented with a beautiful cut glass bowl. Teacher Blaust in well-chosen words made the presentation speech. The entire company joined in singing "Praise Ye the Lord" and at 12 o'clock everybody thought of Home Sweet Home.

Two more clearing sales announced this week furnish our readers a chance to secure reductions on needed articles. The men folks can go bargain hunting at the Columbia and the ladies at G. A. Ottomeyer's store.

Hummel Brothers also advertise a cut in prices. These clearing sales insure the patrons of the place a new, fresh stock each season as well as bargains at the present time. It pays the merchant to keep his stock moving and the consumer who can buy at "bargain sales" at home is not going to become a victim of the mail-order habit.

The school exhibit in our window this week was prepared by the pupils of the Third and Fourth Grades under the direction of Miss Ethel Lloyd. There are some very neat papers in arithmetic and writing and some attractive drawing work. Last week's exhibit was also work of third and fourth grade pupils under the direction of Miss Bertha Rempke. If you see the exhibit this week don't forget that there'll be a new one up next week and another the week after. These exhibits are put up for the inspection of the parents who have children in school and as an incentive to the pupils to do neat work. If your child's name does not appear on some of the work exhibited you can help the teacher by finding out why and letting your child know you are interested in his work.

The lecture has been arranged by the Men's Club but the general public is cordially invited and urged to be present. There is no doubt that the lecture will be exceptionally good.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Wilhelmine Boock will entertain the Lutheran Ladies Aid Society.

The Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold their first business meeting of the year in the church parlors Thursday afternoon.

The young men's club of the Methodist church will have their regular meeting at the church parlors next Monday evening. City Attorney Somsen has been asked to address them and will speak to them.

The following officers were elected by the Lutheran Ladies Aid Society at their annual meeting last Thursday: Pres., Mrs. C. G. Reim; Vice Pres., Mrs. Wm. F. Muesing; Sec., Mrs. F. J. Backer; Treas., Mrs. Ad. Klause. There are 75 members of the Society. The financial report showed $337.28 left in the treasury after meeting all bills. Out of this $25 was voted to go to the College Organ fund.

Last Thursday evening the members of the Congregational Church enjoyed their annual banquet at the church parlors which was largely attended. After the banquet the annual business meeting was called to order and reports submitted. These reports showed the congregation to be out of debt even after the expenditure of several hundred dollars for improvements during the year. Each of the church societies as well as the whole organization has a surplus of funds on hand. The church membership has also increased during the past year.

At the close of the business meeting, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Trustee for three years, Chas. Vogel; do con for three years, C. W. A.
