Friday after four the class in military drill did its exercising for the first time with music. Not so slow either! Now and then an arm or a leg went the wrong way.

Our baseball team has as yet not scheduled a game with Fairfax, but it intends to soon. The first few innings they played with the New Ulm A A's promised us a well, let's call it a victory. The last innings (after the Fairfax pitcher had warmed up) were not so promising for us.

It is said there was a bet placed on the game to be played by the High School with the D. M. L. C's. That person knew what was good for him. Weather premonition for Wednesday: rain and cooler. He won't lose his five dollars unless he renews his bet or unless he has extended the time for which his bet holds good.

Agent: dictionaries, dictionaries!—any illiterate can use them. Here, Lord Shakelot, try it!

In the class room: Is there any other compound noun in which we have the word green? Don't say "greenhorn" now.

The grass is thick and soft in its first growth, the fragrance of the young leaves saturates the warm, sunny air, the flower beds look fresh and clean with the pansies all in bloom. The long festoons on the birch trees sway gently to and fro and the tiny tips of pale green on the dark branches of the balsams show the growth they have planned to make during this summer.
