MRS. TANKE'S APPLICATION REJECTED.

While in session at St. Paul last Monday a week ago, the state board of pardons rejected the application for pardon of Mrs. Emelia Tanke, confessed murderess of her first husband, John Wellner. That of her second husband, Frank Tanke who is also serving a life sentence for the same murder, was continued.

The crime for which the Tankes are making atonement was committed on the night of December 31st, 1898. On New Year's morning, 1899, the body of John Wellner, a prosperous farmer living in Lafayette Township, was found lying in his barnyard. Later his widow married Frank Tanke, and in the fall of 1901 they were arrested charged with the killing.

The death of a juror terminated the first trial in St. Peter and at the second which took place at Henderson, Frank Tanke was convicted. On the day that he was brought into court to receive his sentence, Mrs. Tanke created a sensation by making a confession in which she exonerated Tanke. Her confession gained Tanke a new trial and a change of venue was taken to Watonwan County, where he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Some months ago Mrs. Tanke applied for a pardon, and the hearing was continued. This week the application was flatly denied by the pardon board.

Substantial improvements are nearing their completion at the New Ulm Brewing and Maltng Company's plant which will increase the capacity to 1100 barrels of beer per month. This will be accomplished thru the installation of six new casks in the beer cellars, three of 65 barrel capacity, two of 70 barrel capacity and one of 112 barrel capacity. Other improvements have been made recently which makes this brewery rank as an up-to-date plant. The purchase of new bottles and cases will enable the brewery to take care of all the business that this year will bring them in the bottled goods line.

Saturday Judge Olsen filed his order with Clerk of Court Carl P. Manderfeld, affirming the decision of Judge Ross, declaring Mrs. Anna Prokosch incompetent to handle her affairs and appointing William Brust of Sleepy Eye guardian of her person and estate. Mrs. Prokosch as the sole devisee of her deceased husband, inherited nearly $10,000 worth of personal property and real estate worth in the neighborhood of $40,000. On account of her advanced years and her ignorance of the English language and lack of business ability, some of the children and grandchildren instituted proceedings in Probate Court to have her placed under guardianship. Judge Ross by his order dated August 13, 1913 appointed Wm. Brust guardian of her person and estate. From his decision an appeal was taken to the District Court and the case was tried before Judge Olsen on March 20th.

JOHN HAUENSTEIN

Following an operation which was performed about three weeks ago, John Hauenstein, Sr., passed away at his home last Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. For some years he had been suffering with kidney and bladder trouble and his condition became so serious that he finally consented to an operation at Loretto Hospital in the hope that it might bring him some relief. It was found, however, that his ailment had reached such an acute stage that recovery was out of the question, tho he lingered several weeks before the end came. About ten days before his death he was, upon his request, taken home where he died.

The deceased was born in Aufsees, Oberfranken, Bavaria, Germany, December 22 1831 and he was therefore over 82 years old when he answered Death's summons.

burned to the ground and only four years ago, the cellars of the plant caved in, causing a very heavy financial loss.

During the winter of 1862, Mr. Hauenstein was married to Miss Henrietta Fritsche, and two years ago they had the pleasure of celebrating their golden wedding. The deceased at the time of his death was a member of the New Ulm Turnverein, the Sons of Herman, the A.O. U. W., Hecker Post, G. A. R. and also the New Ulm Hunter's Club. He joined the Turnverein shortly after he came to New Ulm and was a few years ago awarded a diploma for 50 years' membership in the "Turnerbund." He was active in all of the organizations to which he belonged until he reached an age where it is no longer expected of members that they will be active, and in the perform-

He learned the cooper's trade in the old country and came to America with his parents in the year 1852. They landed at New York and from there went to Cleveland, Ohio, where they stayed for a few months before going to Cincinnati. Here his parents fell victims to a cholera epidemic which swept over the state of Ohio in 1854. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Hauenstein went to the Lake Superior Region and secured work on the Soo Canal which was being built at that time. He returned to Cincinnati and in 1857 he joined the German colony which had just been founded in New Ulm and has made his home here ever since.

Shortly after his arrival in New Ulm he opened a cooper shop with his brother Weigand on the spot where the New Ulm Review plant now stands. He was engaged in the cooper business when the Indian Massacre occurred. The deceased was one of the few men in the colony who were equipped with rifles and he proved himself in the engagements with the Indians to be an expert shot and during the whole of the Outbreak he served with credit, showing at all times that he was not afraid at any time to perform the arduous and dangerous duties which befell the citizen soldiers in those trying days. In the fall of 1862, he joined the first Minnesota Mounted Rangers, serving as 2nd Lieut. of Co. "L" under Capt. Jacob Nix until December, 1863. In 1864 he, in company with Andreas Betz, laid the foundation for the present John Hauenstein Brewery Co. when they erected and operated a small brewery in the city. Three years later Mr. Betz sold out to Mr. Toberer and until 1872 the business was run jointly by Hauenstein and Toberer. Since then Mr. Hauenstein has operated it alone and thru his untiring efforts it has grown to its present proportions. Mr. Hauenstein did not have smooth sailing in his business at all times. On the contrary, he had many adversities to contend with. When the tornado of 1881 struck the city, the brewery plant was almost completely destroyed: the following year his residence was ance of his duties he was never actuated by selfish motives.

For quite a number of years he was Treasurer of the Building Committee of the Herman's Monument and he frequently advanced his own money so that the work of constructing the monument would not be delayed. It was a task of grave responsibility and entailed a great deal of work with only criticism as a rule for reward. But this made no difference to him. He did it all very cheerfully, as he did everything else that he was called upon to do as a member of the organizations that he belonged to and in municipal matters as a citizen. He was a man of positive convictions and was fearless in expressing his views and was always willing and ready to aid financially every worthy cause. Only once did he serve the public in an official capacity and that was as a member of the city council.

The deceased is survived by his widow and the following children, all of whom were at his bedside when the end came: Charles Hauenstein, Mrs. Martin Hose, Mrs. Fred Behnke, John Hauenstein, Jr., Mrs. Carl Fuerst of Bedford, Ind., Mrs. Fred Seiter of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Henry Fuerst of Chicago. The funeral which was largely attended was held from Turner Hall Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, all of the societies to which he belonged being represented by delegations. Albert Steinhauer delivered the funeral address and a male quintette rendered two appropriate songs. The honorary pallbearers were Peter Mack, Julius Berndt, Sr., Capt. Frank Burg, Charles Brust, Sr., Franz Grebe and William Frank. The active pallbearers were the following employees of the brewery: Emil Keckeisen, Anton Groebner, Sr., Franz Lamaecker, Charles Hesse, Anton Groebner, J. and Henry Reimer. Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hauenstein of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mueller of Sleepy Eye, Mrs. Henry Prestholdt of Minneapolis, R. Bierbauer of Mankato and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Posch of St. Paul were out of town people who attended the funeral.

the following work: Street and alley crossings, $1.50 per sq. yd.; alley pavements, $1.55 per sq. yd.; curbing without gutter, 65 cents per running foot; curbing and gutter, $1.15 per running foot and waterway plates, 30 cents per sq. yard.

P. W. Soukup having complied with the ordinance regarding the bond was granted a plumber's license and Nick Gulden was upon request granted an honorable discharge from the Fire Department.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the erection of the 75,000 gallon reservoir to be erected in German Park. Upon the payment of a license fee of $25.00 Myers Jergeson of Rochester will be granted permission to sell pop corn from a wagon which is to be located at the Ottomeyer corner. After granting building permits to John H. Siegel for a garage, Wilhelmina Zieske for a barn and F. H. Retzlaff for a barn and warehouse the council adjourned until the following evening.

At the adjourned meeting held Wednesday evening the report of the Board of Public Works in the matter of paving Minnesota Street between Third and Fourth North, recommending the elimination of this block from the paving project, was read and approved. The report favors that the paving work be taken up without further delay on the other blocks.

Three ordinances, one repealing the franchise granted to R. S. Feurtado of Chicago for the erection of a gas plant in the city, one granting a franchise to J. A. Kennedy and J. P. Smith for the erection of a gas plant and the third governing public slaughter houses and establishing meat inspection in the city were presented, read and adopted without a dissenting vote.

Mayor Fritsche submitted the name of Hubert Berg as the city's assessor for the present year and this appointment was approved and his salary fixed at the sum of $450.00. Out of this money the assessor is to pay all the help he may have to hire to get the work done. The reason the salary is higher than last year is because the real estate is to be assessed this year also and this entails a great deal of work.

The council then took up the matter of fixing the salaries of the elective and appointive officials of the city. The city treasurer was given a raise of $5.00 per month, the city engineer $25.00 per month and the city scaler $17.00 per month. The salaries as finally determined upon are as follows: City Attorney, $40.00 per month, city treasurer $25.00, city clerk $100.00, chief of police $70.00; night police $60.00; city engineer $110.00; street commissioner $50.00; city scaler $45.00 and Supt. of Electric Light and Water Station, $110.00 per month. The Mayor's salary and that of the councilors was fixed at $100.00 per year and the poundmaster was allowed $50.00 per annum and the fire marshal the same compensation.
