YOUR SIXTH SENSE.

The Faculty That Enables You to Preserve Your Equilibrium. It is almost a 1,000 to 1 bet that you don't know you have a sixth sense. But you have, nevertheless. It is known as the sense of equilibrium. The sixth sense is located in the semicircular canals of the inner ear, and whenever a person is in danger of falling or losing his equilibrium a warning message is communicated to the brain. For years physiologists have been puzzled to know the function of these canals, because it was proved definitely that they had nothing to do with the sense of hearing or the proper working of the auricular organ. Thus they came to be considered as semicircular tubes, almost at right angles to one another and full of a clear liquid. Scientists have discovered that these canals enable a person to tell what position he is in no matter whether he is blind or paralyzed. By some peculiar process not well understood they warn us when we are about to fall and give us the consciousness of being in any position assumed. Steeplejacks and other workers on high buildings who finally lose their nerve and are afraid to go very far above the ground have lost part of their sense of equilibrium. Examinations by physicians in such instances have shown that their semicircular glands were diseased. It was largely by this means that the existence of a sixth sense was discovered.—New York World.

Crushing. The English judge, Parry, in his book "What the Judge Saw" tells this story of a very masterful counsel who was not afraid to put even the bench in its place sometimes. On one occasion he was arguing a case when the judge asked for his authority for a certain statement. "Usher," counsel called out in his most rasping voice, "go into the library and bring his lordship any elementary book on common law!"

Spider's Thread. The thread spun by a spider is so excessively fine that a pound of it would be long enough to reach around the earth. It would take ten pounds of it to reach to the moon and over 3,000 pounds to stretch to the sun. But to get a thread long enough to reach the nearest star would require half a million tons.

Didn't Like Taxes. Cases against George Washington appear here and there in old documents. No less than three claims were entered against him during the year 1787 to compel him to pay taxes. The humorous clerk, commenting on these actions, remarked, "George Washington, Esq., appeareth not to like taxes."

So Inquisitive. Mamma (after her youngest's first day at school)—Now, Fritz, what did you do in school today? Fritz—Well, such curious people! First the teacher asks me what we did at home, and now you come and ask what we have done in school!—Fliegende Blatter.

A Boomerang. Mrs. Hiram Offen—I'm afraid you won't do. As nearly as I can find out you have worked in six or seven places during the past year. Miss Brady—Well, an' how many girls nas herself had in the same toime? No, yes, I'm thinkin'.—Boston Transcript.

IN ONE LUMP. JAWS of lots of girls remind us That we might be going some If we only had behind us All the coin they've spent for gum.—Puck.

AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT.

An Anxious Experience Off the Rock Bound Coast of Korea. The perils of the small boat at sea are told by Jack London in an article on "Small Boat Sailing" in the Yachting Monthly: "About the liveliest eight days of my life were spent in a small boat on the west coast of Korea," he writes. "I was in an open boat, a sampan, on a rocky coast where there were no light-houses and where the tides ran from thirty to sixty feet. My crew were Japanese fishermen. We did not speak each other's language. Yet there was nothing monotonous about that trip. Never shall I forget one particular cold, bitter dawn, when in the thick of driving snow we took in sail and dropped our small anchor. "The Japanese crawled under a communal rice mat and went to sleep. I joined them, and for several hours we dozed fitfully. Then a sea deluged us with icy water and we found several inches of snow on top of the mat. "It soon became a case of swamping at our anchor. Seas were splashing on board in growing volume, and we bailed constantly. And still my fisherman crew eyed the surf battered shore and did nothing. "At last, after many narrow escapes from complete swamping, the fishermen got into action. All hands tailed on to the anchor and hove it up. Forward, as the boat's head paid off, we set a patch of sail about the size of a four sack. And we headed straight for the rocky shore. I unlaced my shoes, unbuttoned my greatcoat and coat and was ready to make a quick partial strip a minute or so before we struck. But we didn't strike, and as we rushed in I saw the beauty of the situation. Before us opened a narrow channel, filled at its mouth with breaking seas. Yet long before, when I had scanned the shore closely, there had been no such channel. I had forgotten the thirty foot tide. And it was for this time that the Japanese had so precariously

Sleepy Eye Wins Two Games.
Sleepy Eye trounced the Springfield Maroons in both the Saturday and the Sunday games this week, winning the Fourth of July contest by a 2 to 1 score and bagging the second fractas in eleven innings by a count of 7 to 6. The Saturday game was a tight affair, "Letty" Berg doing the hurling for the Sleepy Eye crew, while Shourds handed them over for the Maroons.
Our own "Limmy" Puhlmann started on the mound for Springfield in the Sunday game, but his curves were not breaking right and he was finally removed in the seventh inning when he hit a batter and walked another. Sleepy Eye got away to a running start and was leading by a 5 to 1 score when the Maroons rushed things in the seventh inning and tied the count.
Both sides counted once in the ninth, but neither had a team chance in the first extra session. In last of the eleventh however, Glotzbach pounded out a double and scored on Bzowski's smash thru Pietsch.

Lots to Learn.
"I have just been talking to a youth who claims to have done everything."
"Has he ever wrapped a motorcar around a telegraph pole at 3 o'clock in the morning?"
"I think not."
"Then he has a great deal to learn."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Life's Mysteries.
Stick to the ideal and bug the unexplained. The people who have solved the riddle of the universe at fifteen are bowled over by the enigma of their work at fifty.

When you have spoken the word it reigns over you; when it is unspoken you reign over it.—Arabic Proverb.

Fifth Monarchy Men.
The fifth monarchy men formed a religious sect that sprang up in the days of Charles I. of England. They were so called from the fact that they asserted that in the last days the four ancient monarchies, the Assyrian, the Persian, the Babylonian and the Roman, would be restored, and to them would be added a Christian monarchy, or fifth monarchy, of which Christ would be the king.

Secret Account.
Family Physician—The trouble with your husband, madam, is that he has overdrawn his account at the bank of vitality. Mrs. Garmar—I felt sure he was deceiving me about something! Doctor, I give you my word I never knew he had any account there.—Exchange.

Notes of the Sunday Game.
Cordes was again there with the stick, getting two singles in four times up. He scored both times.
Friedl's playing satisfied every New Ulm fan. He beat out an infield hit, laid down a neat sacrifice and handled all of his chances in faultless fashion.
"Chick" Williams ran far into the outfield for O'Donnell's fly in the seventh.
Burk risked his neck when he hurled thru the crowd and grabbed Conlin's foul in the third.
Neither team was credited with a stolen base. Two or three times it happened that a runner attempted to steal second on the third strike of the last batter of the inning.
