

OBITUARY

Miss Emma Schorning, for many years a resident of New Ulm, passed away last Thursday at the Mayo Hospital following an operation for a complication of diseases which had but a short time previously been performed.

The deceased was born May 18, 1856 in Germany and came to America with her parents when she was a child about 10 years old. They moved onto a farm in the Town of Sigel but after the death of the mother they came to New Ulm. This was in the early '70's. For some years her father, Bernhard Schorning, had charge of the Arbeiter Halle. After his death the family was broken up and the deceased followed the trade of dress-making for some time. Previous to that time she had been cook at Mrs. Guelting's. For the past fifteen years she had conducted a millinery store in the city of St. James. She is survived by her brother Herman of Portland, Oregon, and her sisters Pauline residing at Rochester and Johanna, wife of Senator McCumber of North Dakota. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Congregational Church of Rochester and interment was made in that city.

Shortly after three o'clock Friday afternoon John Fischer passed away at his home on North Broadway. Death was due to cancer of the stomach with which he had been afflicted for nearly a year.

The deceased was born in Austria over 75 years ago and was married to Anna Bewonka who survives him, in the old country 45 years ago. They came to America in the year 1884 and directly to Brown County where they took up farming in the Town of Sigel. Twenty years ago they removed to New Ulm. He is survived by the following children: Frank and John who reside in Albin and Mrs. Joseph Lieb of Hanska. The funeral was held from the Catholic Church Monday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. Schlinkert officiating. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

LOSE VALUABLE HORSES.

J. P. Graff is having more than his share of hard luck with his horses this summer. A week ago a valuable draft horse suffered from sunstroke and last Friday night when Herman Adam was driving one of the Graff horses home along the road near the brickyards the animal gave a lunge forward and fell dead in his tracks. It probably suffered a stroke of apoplexy. It had not been worked to amount to anything that day and as the incident occurred at about 10:30 p. m. the heat was not responsible. While the animal was over twenty years old it was still a very good worker and was quite valuable.

Fred Regelin, a farmer living on College Hill lost a $200 horse Saturday morning. The animal had been sick for a week and as there was no improvement Mr. Regelin decided to call on a veterinary. On the way down Center Street the horse began to show symptoms of extreme sickness and before they were fairly in town it dropped to the road and died.

Another who reports the loss of a horse within the past week is Ernst Gieseke, Jr. of Courtland. Saturday afternoon a 5 year old mare which he purchased only last year, was overcome by the heat. It was possible to bring the mare from the field as far as the house and everything was done to keep her alive but without avail as death resulted at noon next day. The owner valued the horse at $200 and considered it one of the best horses he had on the farm.

Haerberle & Held lost a valuable horse Tuesday morning. It was seized with acute indigestion and expired shortly afterwards. They bought it less than a year ago. The owners estimate their loss at $250.

LOCAL NOTES

Mrs. Forest English is visiting with relatives in Tracy.

The family of Andrew Helget was made happy Monday by the arrival of a baby boy.

Guy Burwell, an employe at the steam laundry, was operated upon Monday for an abscess of the spine.

Walter Kleinschmidt of Sleepy Eye submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Loretto Hospital last Friday noon.

Attorney and Mrs. Flor have moved into their attractive new home on the corner of Third North and Washington Street.

Dr. Reineke who is away on a trip to Chippewa Falls, Wis. will be gone 9 or 10 days instead of 90 days, as the Review unintentionally stated last week.

Prof. John E. Sperling went to Arlington yesterday to attend the 25th anniversary of Rev. Robert Heidmann's ordination as a Lutheran minister of the gospel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Edwards returned Saturday from a week's outing at Lake Minnetonka. The Strickler family will return this week. Dr. Strickler spent Sunday with them at Spring Park.

While wrestling at Henry Scheibel's place in the Town of Cottonwood Sunday evening, John Fischer had the misfortune to fall and fracture two ribs. Mr. Fischer resides in Montana and is here on a visit.

Last Friday Rev. C. J. Albrecht attended a meeting of the China mission which was held at Cologne. Sunday he delivered a sermon at the mission festival at Rockford, Wright Co. He was pastor of this congregation before he came to New Ulm.

Last Thursday the Turner Ladies celebrated their regular birthday afternoon, the birthday children being Mrs. Otto Meyer, Mrs. Geo. Schmidt, Mrs. Alfred Schroeck and Mrs. Fred Pfander. Mrs. Fr. Berg read the congratulations and musical numbers were given by the Misses Frances Krook and Henrietta Hauenstein. There was the usual large attendance.

Editor Ruane of the Slayton Gazette has been proprietor of the paper for 25 years and to look at him one would guess that he is good for fully that much more time in the harness. He is a hustler in spite of the fact that he is a stand-patter and here's hoping that he has even more than another quarter of a century of useful life before him in the 2nd district.

Editor Whitney of the Marshall Messenger was a visitor at the Review plant yesterday. Mr. Whitney is a son of the well known C. C. Whitney who previous to his death last year was engaged in the newspaper business for many years. The Messenger office is considering the purchase of a monotype and Mr. Whitney came down to look over the one in the Review plant.

Sunday was the Crystal Anniversary of the founding of the Lady Foresters Society in New Ulm and the ladies of the Church prepared an entertainment for the society members and their husbands. There was a social program and a lunch served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in Forester colors, yellow and white. The program of toasts and responses was very pleasing and a special feature was the honoring of the charter members by presenting each one of them with a potted fern. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

According to the Springfield Free Press a saloonkeeper of that village was recently fined $50 and costs for assaulting a woman who has been an active worker in the anti saloon cause. According to the report the saloonkeeper met the lady in front of the post office, rushed upon her, seized her by the throat and threw her into the gutter. It is occurrences like this which give impetus to the anti-saloon movement and it is up to the saloonkeepers to purge their ranks of all those who do not know how to run a saloon and who do not even know enough to act the part of gentlemen.

THE SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS.

Is it worth while to try to save our forests, our shade trees, our fruit trees? If so we must stop killing the insect-eating birds, says Secretary McKeene, of the Illinois Farmers' Institutes.

Careful scientists tell us that if all insect-eating birds were destroyed the whole continent would within three years become absolutely uninhabitable, by reason of the myriads of insects that would spring up and devour every living thing.

The Gypsy Moth, the Brown Tail Moth, the Leopard Moth, the Elm Tree Beetle, and the Tent Caterpillar have killed millions of trees in the past few years, and today are imperiling every tree on the continent. The only way to check these insects is to stop the killing of insect-eating birds, and let them increase to their normal numbers.

Only Ten Per Cent Left.

Ninety per cent of the bird life of this country has already been destroyed and the other ten per cent will go in a few years unless drastic measures are employed to stop the slaughter. Farmers and fruit growers of this country are losing over $1,000,000,000 a year by reason of the ravages of insects. Here are a few items in this appalling expense account:

The cotton growers of Texas are losing 40 millions to 50 millions a year by reason of the ravages of the boll weevil, and all because the quail and prairie chickens, the natural enemies of that bug, have been practically exterminated in that state.

The wheat growers of the United States are losing over $100,000,000 a year by reason of the ravages of the chinch bug, because the quail, the natural enemy of that bug, has almost been exterminated.

The farmers of the middle eastern states are paying out $15,000,000 a year for paris green to put on their potato vines. Why? Because the quail, the natural enemy of the potato bug, has been killed off.

We Pay For The Poison.

Each of the great apple producing states are paying $1,000,000 to 3,000,000 a year for spraying apple trees to keep down the codling moth. Why? Because the wood-peckers, the sap-suckers, the robins, the blue jays, the blue-birds, the orioles, the tanagers and other birds that formerly preyed upon that insect have been killed off, and every man, woman and child who eats an apple or potato helps to pay for this poison.

Some Important Records.

A quail taken in a cotton field in Texas had in its craw the remains of 127 boll weevils. Another taken in a potato field in Pennsylvania had in its craw the remains of 101 potato bugs. Another taken in an Illinois wheat field had in its craw the remains of over 1,200 chinch bugs. The Bob-White has been known to eat 135 different kinds of insects, many of them the most injurious we have, the potato beetle, the cucumber beetle, cut worm, army worm, wire worm, chinch bug, corn ear worm, the cotton boll weevil, and many others. Careful students of this subject estimate that a quail will eat an average of 75,000 insects and 6,000,000,000 weed seeds in a year—about 7-12 pounds of insects and 100 pounds of weed seeds.

3,000,000 Bushels of Insects.

It is estimated that the birds during their stay in Illinois each season destroy more than three million bushels of noxious insects. Think of the consequence if the birds were all exterminated! And yet the slaughter goes on. Parents send their boys to Sunday school where they learn the beautiful Bible stories, but they allow them to come home and take their air rifles and shoot the robins that have young birds in their nests. Prominent naturalists agree that cats destroy more birds than any other animal except man. Dr. Fisher says that 3,500,000 birds are destroyed in New York each year by cats.

A well known naturalist estimates that the birds of Massachusetts eat 21,000 bushels of insects every day in the summer; another that 170 carloads of insects are eaten every day by the birds of Nebraska.

To hold the insects in check we need to have our gardens, fields, pastures and roadsides literally alive with these useful birds. There are 107 species of bugs that prey on the elm trees, 264 that attack poplars, 396 that prey on the birches, 154 that work on the beech trees, and over 400 that attack oak trees.

The number of plant lice found on a single cherry tree was computed by Prof. Fitch to be 12,000,000. C. L. Marlat calculates that the Hessian fly damage to the wheat crop of 1900 was $100,000,000. The chinch bug as early as 1864 damaged staple crops $100,000,000. House martins, swallows and swifts eat rose beetles, May beetles, cucumber beetles and house flies, practically all of which are caught on the wing. Naturalist Otto Martin says 32 parent martins made 3,277 visits to their young with insects in one day. Fifty-one species of birds are known to eat hairy caterpillars, and 38 species feed on plant lice.

Shall we protect the birds? If we do we must make closed seasons of several years for certain kinds of game. We must prohibit unnaturalized foreigners hunting at any time. We must continue Federal protection for migratory birds, and finally we must stop absolutely the killing of all insect-eating birds.

The Sleepy Eye Herald tells quite a yarn of an enterprising pair of hobos that struck their city during the past week. One of them, George Fitchner, is at present just finishing a term of ten days in the county jail for his part in the entertainment pulled off in the sleepy burg when he became possessed of a desire to annex some of the clothing of some Syrians who were working on the railroad at that place and left their personal apparel in a box car which they occupied. The other was a fellow who walked into a store up there and stole a lady's hat. Later he returned, saying that his wife did not like the hat and he would like his money back. The milliner did not fall for the game and the hobo was conducted out of town by the Marshall.

SCENIC HIGHWAY LOST.

About 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Minnesota Valley Scenic highway gave a few despairing gasps, and then expired quietly. At that hour the board of county commissioners of Nicollet county withdrew their appropriation for the highway, and the federal post road, upon which the valley towns have labored for nearly two years, went glimmering.

Interest in the scenic road was first aroused by an offer of the federal government, made in the fall of 1912, to set aside $25,000 for the construction of a model post road, provided any state would make an appropriation of twice that size. Road boosters in the various towns along the valley held a meeting at Shakopee, and succeeded in securing the designation of the road leading from Bloomington bridge to Mankato. All of the counties and towns through which the road passed voted appropriations toward it, and the conditions exacted by the government were complied with in every particular.

It was assumed that nothing could prevent the successful completion of the road, but in January word was received from Washington that the federal appropriation had been withdrawn. Soon afterward a meeting of the highway association was held in this city; and it was voted to proceed with the construction of the road, regardless of the action of the government. However, it was decided to make an effort to secure the restoration of the federal appropriation, and Senator H. F. Weis of Le Sueur, was sent to Washington for that purpose. Senator Weis is reputed to be one of the cleverest wire pullers who has ever operated in St. Paul. Washington wires must differ somewhat, however, for he was not able to manipulate them with any degree of success.

When Mr. Weis failed to bring home the bacon, interest languished and a short time ago the Blue Earth county board withdrew its appropriation. Last Saturday Senator Henry N. Benson, president of the highway association, received a request from the St. Paul Civic and Commerce association for the return of its money. The St. Paul civic body gave $5,000 toward the project, and its cash was divided equally among the various counties, Nicollet receiving $1,250.

Senator Benson at once communicated with the other counties and learned that it would be impossible to continue with the enterprise, Blue Earth county refusing to give any assistance unless a federal appropriation was available. Both Congressman Hammond and Congressman Davis had written that there was small likelihood of obtaining federal aid, that the appropriations bill as passed by the house had failed to make any provisions for post roads, and Wednesday morning was confirmed in a telegram received from Congressman Davis: It was as follows:

"It now seems hopeless to obtain any money for Scenic Highway at this session of congress. The powers that be, are determined to keep appropriations of this kind down to the lowest possible point. The claim is that the revenues of the government at the present time do not warrant it."

On receipt of this message Senator Benson and Al. J. Potts, god-father of the scenic road, went before the county board and informed its members that it would be useless to hold the Nicollet county appropriation longer. The board thereupon withdrew the money it had set aside, and directed Auditor Holz to return $1,250 to the St. Paul Civic and Commerce association.—St. Peter Herald.

NEW MONUMENT AT FORT RIDGELY.

The monument which will be erected at Fort Ridgely in honor of Chief Moo-zoo-mau-nay, the Chippewa Chief who was friendly to the whites, has arrived in Fairfax and will be installed soon.

Plans are being made for a program at the time the unveiling will take place and the day has been set for Thursday, Aug. 20th. Chief Andrew Daily and Chief Joseph Charrett will deliver addresses in the Indian language and these will be translated by William Daily, son of the former chief.

Genevieve Daily, great granddaughter of Chief Moo-zoo-mau-nay, will unveil the monument. Many other old Chippewas from White Earth, Mille Lacs and other places will be present, dressed in Indian war regalia. The forenoon program will be given over to reminiscences followed by a band concert at 11 o'clock a. m. The afternoon program will begin at 1:30 and will be followed by a Fort Ridgely Pageant attraction, or a ball game. This part of the program has not been definitely determined.—Fairfax Standard.

CHILD INJURES FINGERS.

A mysterious accident occurred at the home of Anton Zeug, of Milford township, late Sunday afternoon, resulting in the injury of his little eight year old daughter, Katie. She was alone playing in the house at the time and nobody knows just what occurred. Mr. Zeug was in the fields a quarter of a mile from the house and Mrs. Zeug was in the garden.

Both of them heard a report and when they rushed into the house they found a badly frightened girl with the tips of the thumb, forefinger and middle finger of her left hand torn off. Her hands and face showed powder stains and little scratches. A local doctor was called and her wounds were dressed.

No explanation for the accident has been forthcoming. No evidence of an exploded shell or cartridge could be found, only two burnt matches. Mr. Zeug affirms that he has not had any dynamite caps or shell in the house, so it is hard to tell what it was that exploded. That it was a good loud report is shown by the fact that Mr. Zeug heard it in the fields. Perhaps she had picked up a dynamite cap somewhere and in her play struck it with some hard and sharp instrument, exploding it.

FIRE AT THE BREWERY.

Alarm was general when the fire whistle blew last Friday afternoon about 2:30 because of the scarcity of water in the reservoirs. It was a lucky fire in that it started on the ground floor at the New Ulm Brewing and Maltng Company's plant, rather than in the upper floors for it would have been harder to control and the pressure being weakened would have made hard work for the fire fighters.

The fire started in the pitching room and was caused by the pitch kettle tipping over. One of the legs had apparently been loosened which caused the tipping. The fire sprang up at once and the workmen had all they could do to get out safely. The flames spread to the engine room and burned fiercely, scorching the roof timbers and breaking out of windows and doors, and even thru the roof. The main building was not reached except by the smoke which caused some little damage. The insurance adjusters placed the loss at $696.00 which was paid. There were some things not quite covered by this amount and then the trouble of getting everything in working order again. There is, however, no necessity for shutting down the plant at all.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

Citizens living within a mile of the C. & N. W. station are asking themselves and each other whether the noise of the switch engine, if that is what it is, blowing off steam at late hours of the night, may not be classed as a public nuisance and whether something can not be done to rid the city of such nuisance. The noise is not a bad one when it is combined with the myriad noises of the daylight hours and is hardly noticeable. But at night, late, when all else is still, it penetrates the consciousness of even the sleeper and compels him to listen to its groaning, wheezing for a long hour or more when he wants sleep so badly that he is ready almost to commit murder rather than be deprived of rest. Saturday night the noise was almost unbearable it continued so long. We would think the railroad people could arrange to prevent this racket at night.
