MANY IN NEW ULM

TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many New Ulm people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ka. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ka is astonishing. E. A. Pfefferle, Drugist.

SPECIAL WEEK FOR MR. & MRS. FARMER

UNIVERSITY FARM SCHOOL KEEP OPEN HOUSE FOR THEM SOON.

ELABORATE PLANS MADE TO ENTERTAIN AND INSTRUCT THE VISITORS.

Farmers' week, University Farm, St. Paul, January 3-8, 1916, offers a splendid opportunity for the farmers of Minnesota to get together in order to acquaint themselves with the progress being made in the business of farming and for an exchange of ideas.

All other classes of business men get together frequently for exactly similar purposes. Why should not the farmers? In the course of the week, will be offered discussions and demonstrations such as will help the farmer to solve problems of the kind he comes face to face with almost daily. These among other things, will deal with:

Agricultural engineering.—Concrete construction, drainage, gasoline engines, plumbing, and roads.

Dairy and animal husbandry.—Types, care, feeding, diseases, and pests of dairy and beef cattle and of hogs, horses, and sheep; milk-testing, cow-testing, community breeding, and creamery management.

Farm crops, farm management, and soils.—What farmers make and how they make it, what makes a farm pay, farm accounting and the taking of inventories, corn varieties and types, seed corn selection and judging, the value of home-grown seed, cooperative experiments, crop rotation, the arrangement of the farmstead, live stock in its relation to farm management, how to save on farm labor, soil fertility.

Horticulture, botany, and entomology.—Orchard cultivation, plant pests, vegetable seed testing, planting, pruning, seed selection, plant diseases, farm tree planting, supplemental irrigation, insecticides and fungicides, spraying, and windbreaks.

Poultry and Bees.—Poultry housing, feeding chicks, natural incubation and brooding, killing and picking, breeds of poultry, poultry ailments and pests; the bee farm, bee strains, bee location, sources of honey, hives and tools, spring management of bees, swarming, comb and extracted honey, wintering bees, feeding and robbing, marketing honey.

Veterinary science.—Lectures on the treatment of diseases common among farm animals.

All the work of the week will be intensely practical. It is study, but study made easy and clear because it deals with concrete things such as the farmer is in daily contact with. It is the kind of work that adds to one's experience and makes his work at home count for more in actual dollars and cents.

Home-makers' week is for the women of Minnesota, whether they come from the farm, the town, or the city home. It will offer talks and demonstrations such as cannot fail to be of immense value to any housewife. Mrs. Harriet L. B. Darling, who has won a national reputation by her lectures on home problems, will be among the speakers.

Morning lectures will outline the principles involved in problems of foods, of the handling of the family budget, of the care of the sick, and of house-planning and equipment; and afternoon demonstrations, which will include, for example, the preparation of typical meals, will make practical application of the principles discussed in the morning.

A summary of the things on the program for Homemakers' week follows:

Principles of nutrition.—A discussion of foods and of the use of each in nourishing the body; of digestion and the taking up of the various elements into the bodily system; of the foods needed to maintain the body; of the protein needed by the body; of the comparative cost and value of typical foods.

The cost of food and the family budget.—The cost of food in relation to the income; the preparation of typical meals for a specified cost; the foodstuffs consumed per capita; the energy value in different foods.

Child welfare.—Exhibit and lecture, having to do with the care of children.

House-planning and equipment.—Discussion of the specially needed things in laying out and furnishing the home.

Household sanitation.—Food preservation, contamination of milk, water supply, sterilization, disinfection.

Home care of the sick.—Household equipment for illness; care of the sick room; observation and care of the patient.

In addition there will be general lectures and entertainments of great interest. Conferences, also of great practical value, will be features of Farmers' and Home-makers' week. Among these will be represented the interests of the following:

Farmers' clubs.
 Livestock breeders' associations, including the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' Association, and the associations of Holstein breeders, Guernsey breeders, Jersey breeders, Hereford breeders, Shorthorn breeders, Angus breeders, horse breeders, swine breeders and sheep breeders.

Creamery managers.
 Crop improvements association.
 Potato growers' association.
 Fruit growers.

Agricultural extension workers.
 Parts of the afternoons and evenings and entertainments of a kind to give both profit and pleasure. They will be free, as everything else during the week—except board, room, and transportation—will be free.

Any man or woman in Minnesota may attend. There will be no fees to pay, no entrance examinations, no requirements as to previous schooling. In short, there is nothing in the state so free as Farmers' and Home-makers' week.

The courses will be given at University Farm, midway between Minneapolis and St. Paul. The Farm can be reached from either city by Como-Harriet or Como-Hopkins cars, which cross Doswell avenue four blocks from the campus.

Rooms may be had at the University Farm dormitories at 25 cents a night, or rooms within walking distance at from $2 to $3 per week. Board may be secured at the dining hall at 25 cents a meal. Restaurant meals may be had at such prices as the purchaser cares to pay. Trunks checked to either city will be delivered at the farm or vicinity for 50 cents each, provided they arrive on the opening day of the course—January 3.

A bulletin giving full details will be issued later. For particular information, letters addressed to J. M. Drew, Registrar University Farm, St. Paul, will receive prompt attention.

HAND CRUSHED IN MACHINERY.

Herman Streich of Albin, lost one of the fingers on his right hand Sunday while running a corn picker says the Hanksa Herald. The work was going along in fine shape, when his foot accidentally slipped, and in grabbing to regain his balance, he got his right hand in the husking rolls. He was immediately taken to Sleepy Eye where an examination by the surgeon revealed the necessity for amputating one finger. The misfortune comes doubly hard for Mr. Streich, as he has been laid up for a considerable part of the year by rheumatism. He was just beginning to feel quite well when this accident laid him up again.

HANSKAITES ENLIST.

Captain Ed. Juni was at Hanksa last Tuesday and enlisted Cashier Alfred B. Ouren as corporal and Theo. Greenholz, Charley Chute, Oscar O. Haugen, Oscar A. Blien, Marvin G. Ouren and Siver Thompson as privates in the local Machine Gun Co. The squad will hold its first meeting next week when Captain Juni and Dr. Vogel will go down to give the boys their physical examination and instruct them in the first lessons of drill work. After the squad has been completely organized they will be expected to come to New Ulm at least once each month for practice, and once each summer they will be called to camp for ten days' drilling.

The writer of the Sleepy Eye Herald Dispatch in passing Rev. Albrecht's home, stopped to bid that divine time of day, but only to find him deeply enveloped in study. In the course of conversation the topic "books" was brought up and to show that he was some sort of a book fancier himself the reverend gentleman volunteered to show a few antiquated volumes which he had safely stored away in his new safe. One was a massive Latin bible published about 1775 when America was fighting for her independence with old England; another German bible, still larger, had been published as early as 1640, while a small Latin and Greek New Testament published in 1658 was still more interesting. Despite their being hundreds of years old these books are in a remarkably fine state of preservation and Rev. Albrecht treasures them dearly.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept her locks youthful, dark, glossy and thick with common garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

An operation for appendicitis was performed on Mrs. Jos. Kloeckl of Sigel at the Union Hospital last week.

John Saackl of Sleepy Eye visited with friends in New Ulm last week.

Wm. Martinka of Springfield visited with relatives in this city last week.

Miss Meta Orth, who has been visiting with relatives in New Ulm for the past few weeks, has returned to her home in Morton.

BOYS SWARM WITH TREASURE.

Wall Street Meets Few Losses Through Young "Runners."

New York.—The boys who run around Wall and Broad streets every day with $100,000 or so of negotiable securities tied to their waists by steel chains increased in number so rapidly during the rush of trading that the brokerage houses established a fine system of espionage to prevent the loss of negotiable paper.

There are about 600 brokerage houses in the financial district, and probably every one of them took on two new runners, as the boys who carry securities to and from the banks and to the transfer offices are called.

When one of the boys yielded to the enticing voice of a suffrage orator or the arguments of a prohibition campaign speaker and paused awhile with a fortune in his custody he was very apt to have a special policeman in plain clothes step up to him and tell him to be on his way.

Many brokers expressed amazement that with such large amounts in easily convertible securities floating about the streets no serious losses happened.

HARD WINTERS BEFORE US.

Meteorologist Who Predicted Rain Cycle Makes New Forecast.

Paris.—The world's rain cycle, beginning in 1902, which the French meteorological authority, Abbe Moreau, director of the French observatory, predicted as the result of his study of the sun's face, is now, the abbe says, ended. He forecasts a series, though not perhaps unbroken, of twenty-six hard winters, beginning the present year.

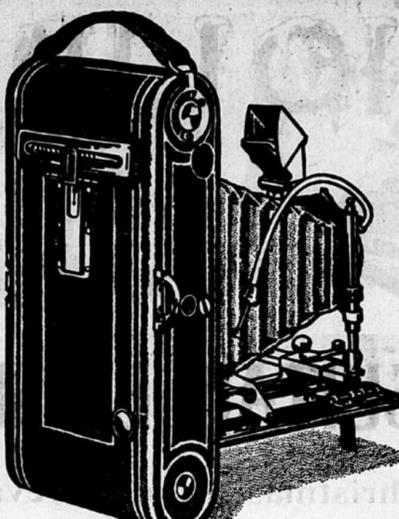

According to the abbe, it is impossible to say where in Europe the winter cold will be excessive, but probabilities are France will have to face many rigorous seasons during this period. He bases his prophecy regarding coming winter temperatures upon the supposition that the temperature curve all over the world can be calculated on the same principles as the world's rain curve.

Old Gas Well Does Duty.

Napoleon, O.—A gas well sealed up in disgust twenty-seven years ago is now being used for lighting, heating and cooking purposes by former Sheriff D. W. Sangler on his farm near here. When his neighbors recently began using the gas from the Napoleon-Wause on pipe line he recalled the abandoned well and had it cased and pipes laid to the house.

Cuts Third Set of Teeth.

Sandusky.—John Brooks, eighty-two, is getting his third set of teeth. Brooks is a civil war veteran and lives in Cottage M. Ohio Soldiers and Sailors' home. His grandmother, he says, cut her third set of teeth at ninety-four.

THE GOOD JUDGE IS SORRY FOR THOSE MEN WHO ARE SLOW TO LEARN.

LOOK AT THE SIZE OF THAT! HE TURNS HIS BACK.

YES, MOST MEN DO UNTIL THEY LEARN THAT THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW SATISFIES WITH LESS THAN ONE-QUARTER THE SIZE CHEW OF ORDINARY TOBACCO.

SOME men are so used to taking a big wad of ordinary tobacco that it seems to be hard for them to remember that W-B CUT Chewing—the Real Tobacco Chew, now cut, long shred—is rich tobacco; that a small chew satisfies.

Tell such men to give it a quality test—to take a small chew and to notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.
