Rural carriers out of the local post-office are breathing a sigh of relief now the cold spell seems to have been broken. The heavy snow and deep drifts have made their job a misery the past month. There was no interruption of the service, however, the closest to this being that one of the carriers had to return after making part of his trip when he found drifts several feet high and no attempt on the part of the farmers to break a road.

The jury in the case against Dr. Spurr in St. Paul, charged with having performed a criminal operation, disagreed after deliberating for nearly forty hours. Both Sheriff Julius and County Attorney Frederickson attended the court proceedings in St. Paul in order to get a line on the evidence should a local investigation become advisable.

City Engineer Minium attended the sessions of the Minnesota Surveyors' and Engineers' Society at St. Paul several days of last week. Practical drainage and its relation to the good roads movement was one of the subjects of general interest to come before the meeting. F. H. Newell of Washington, formerly chief of the reclamation service, attended the sessions and was the principal speaker at the banquet Friday evening.

No war tax on perfumes, no drug legislation that lets down the bars for incompetents to sell drugs, no other dealers than pharmacists to sell drugs and medicines, were the topics agitated at the meeting of the state pharmaceutical society held in Minneapolis last week. But the Minnesota pharmacists do want the enactment of a pure drug law and shorter hours for pharmacists. Although all of the local pharmacists are members of the association, none attended the sessions.

Now that the cold spell seems to have been broken, it is feared that warm weather will set in too fast and result in extremely high water. Those who remember the floods of the early eighties say that similar conditions obtained during the winters preceding the high water. There is more snow on the ground at the present time than there has been in any winter for the past ten years.

The holding of an automobile show here was agitated a few days ago, but the dealers evidently came to the conclusion that such a venture could not be successfully carried out except on the larger scale which the Twin Cities adopted, where great crowds of outsiders were attracted. The Mankato show will be held at the Armory in that city.

Col. John Buschers was in St. Paul Tuesday, to attend a meeting of the state army board, held at the adjutant general's office. Col. Buschers probably will make arrangements to pay the balance of the contract price still due Weiland & Stegemann, amounting to 15 per cent of the full amount. Although there was a provision in the contract making the contractors liable to a fine if the building was not completed within a certain time limit, this part of the contract is regarded as void because it contained no counter provision which would give the contractors extra pay if the building was completed before the time specified. Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the contractors, however, whereby they pay a part of the expenses the local companies were put to because of the delay in building.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schneider, living near Schell's brewery, are both reported as seriously ill. Both are suffering from a severe case of the grippe, which is threatening to develop into pneumonia.

The bride is a daughter of the late Charles Silverson, formerly of this city. She enjoyed a large circle of friends in New Ulm and was a favorite among her classmates in the public schools. Of late she has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Robert J. O'Donnell of Cincinnati.

AN APPRECIATION.

Now that my home, which was recently destroyed by fire, is again ready for occupancy, I cannot help but take this method of showing my appreciation and giving true credit to my agent, Mr. Ad. Meile, who so faithfully and untiringly superintended the replacing of my home and looking after my interests in general, and as I have been ill all winter and not able to look after matters myself I can hardly find words to express my gratitude towards him, but I will say that I heartily recommend him as a most reliable Insurance Agent and I hope and wish on my part that God will bless him and ever be good to him for all his kindness shown me.

Most respectfully,
MRS MARIA EDER
Minneapolis, Minn.
