

PRESIDENT GIVEN PRAISE FOR ACTS

The law will also relieve the country of the vicious tenant system, which is especially serious in the south, where the majority of the farmers are now at the mercy of the landlords. Those men now will be able to buy their own farms and thus help to settle up the new sections of the country."

Special attention was called to the enactment of the Federal Reserve measure, the Child Labor law and other constructive legislation which all go to make this a greater and a freer nation for all of us to live in.

Changed For Good of Country.

Mr. Herrick explained that he has no ax whatever to grind in turning his support to President Wilson and the Democratic administration, except that he believes it best for the country to re-elect the President and he has been asked by the National Democratic committee to make a few speeches in Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Missouri.

George Glotzbach, of Sleepy Eye, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. In his introductory remarks Mr. Glotzbach said that he presumed that New Ulm people were as surprised to see him acting in that capacity as he was himself, but that he was only too glad to do anything that might aid in the cause of the re-election of President Wilson. "I am no speaker," he said. "If I were you would not see me attending political meetings in New Ulm. I would be out making speeches for Mr. Wilson."

Several prominent Brown County Democrats occupied seats on the platform. The audience, which was a most enthusiastic one, was made up largely of farmers and of laboring men of the city.

Music was furnished by the EX-Regiment band.

SHORT BALLOT THIS YEAR FOR VOTERS OF MINNESOTA

Secretary of State Julius Schmahl is preparing the ballots to be voted on at the coming election in November. The ballots are to be only nineteen inches long, twenty-eight inches shorter than at the Presidential election four years ago. They will be in the hands of the county auditors within a few days.

The ballot has been shortened under the law passed by the legislature two years ago. It was prepared by Mr. Schmahl and presented in the senate by Senator Ole Sageng and passed. It is claimed that it will save the state several thousand dollars in printing and for newspaper publication. The law provides for the grouping of the nominees of each party, so they now take up a very small portion of the space they formerly did.

Besides the saving in actual cash the ballots will be much more convenient for the voter.

ST. JAMES BANKER DIES.

William M. Oetting, vice president of the Security State Bank of St. James, died in a hospital at Mankato, Monday morning. Mr. Oetting went to Mankato Sunday where he was to have undergone treatment for asthma, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. He was 55 years old and leaves two children, both residents of St. James.

MAY ERECT MONUMENTS.

Voters of Watonwan county will vote at the general election on November 7, on the proposition to appropriate $2,500 for the erection of two monuments in honor of the soldier dead. The money is to be equally divided between St. James and Madelia, one monument to be erected at each place.

Don't be discouraged because the dahlias were a failure this year. Try them again next season. It is best not to plant until June.

THE DAY OF RECKONING HERE

A Film Drama of The End of the World. A Thrilling Presentation of a World-Wide Tragedy.

A notable production in motion pictures on an entirely new subject in film drama, known as "The End of the World", is coming to this city in a few days. This is the first picture of its kind ever made and the presentation is such that it is bound to excite high admiration among those who cannot see into the future, but who realize that film picture composition is coming to be recognized as one of the chief values of strong visualization. This sensational drama will be shown at the Ruby Theatre on Thursday, Oct. 19th.

The human story of the subject is deftly woven with a series of remarkable spectacular episodes, showing just what will happen with The End of the World. The great catastrophe bursts in all its fury of world-wide devastation, a rain of fire falls on every side, meteors, aerolites, bursting volcanoes pour down dense clouds of gas and smoke, tidal waves of ocean envelop the earth and on every hand panic-stricken humanity in thousands flee in haste in all directions in a mad rush for safety from the terrifying disaster. The story in every way bears out its thrilling title and is well worth seeing.—Adv.

ELMQUIST IS OPPOSED TO CHANGES IN GRAIN TEST

Divorcing the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission and the grain inspection system of Minnesota was discussed at a meeting of a sub-committee of the State Efficiency and Economy Commission in St. Paul a few days ago. It is said that the project met with considerable favor from the members of the committee, but was strongly opposed by C. E. Elmquist, of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

In an argument before the committee, Mr. Elmquist said:

"Grain inspection has been under the Railroad and Warehouse Commission for thirty-three years," he said, "and the commissioners have gained wide experience in that time that is of great value to the public. Our grain inspection department is generally recognized as the most efficient in the world.

"A change can gain nothing in efficiency and only make the system a political football if it is placed under a commission appointed by the Governor," Mr. Elmquist continued. Any change to make railroad and warehouse commissioners appointive by the Governor instead of elective was also opposed by Mr. Elmquist. When the appointive plan was in effect, he said, complaints were made that the big corporations had too great control. "A commissioner is in a different frame of mind when trying to make a good record before the people than when trying to make one to please a Governor who appoints him," Mr. Elmquist said.

The new Northwestern depot at Springfield is nearly completed.
