

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WINS LAST GAME

Last Saturday afternoon the high school football team played its last game of the season, when they met and defeated the Lambertton aggregation by a score of 19 to 0. The local team displayed the best football spirit ever seen on the local field this year, which may be in part ascribed to their confidence.

Lamberton kicked off and after exactly six minutes of play "Chick" Olson carried over the ball for the first touchdown. The attempt at goal failed. The second of the three touchdowns came in the third quarter when Hilly Berg scored on an end run after a series of long gains by Shapiro, Kumm and Coufal. Olson kicked the goal bringing the score up to 13. Before the quarter was over the locals again had the ball near the Lambertton goal but lacked four inches for a touchdown.

In the last quarter open plays did the work and after a series of forward passes which netted about ten yards a piece "Nibs" Coufal carried the ball over for the last tally. Lambertton then put up one of the finest last quarter offensives ever seen. Hill, their right half-back going thru and around the line for nice gains. But the time was too short and the whistle blew with the ball on our ten yard line.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Seifert was held last week from the Holy Trinity Catholic church, burial being in the Catholic cemetery. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Koop, on North Jefferson street.

Mrs. Seifert, whose maiden name was Margaret Dobener, was born October 27, 1843, in Kostelsen, Kreis Pilsen, Bohemia, Austria. She was married in 1863 to Joseph Seifert and came with her husband to America four years later, settling on a farm in Milford township, where they resided until about seventeen years ago, when Mr. Seifert retired from farming and moved to this city. ANDREW E. LEE

Andrew E. Lee, an old resident of Brown county, died last week at his home in Springfield, after an illness of several months. He suffered from an attack of rheumatism early this fall, from which he never recovered. The immediate cause of his death was pneumonia and for several days before his death the end was hourly expected.

He was born in Norway in 1848. In 1869 he came to this country, settling first in Iowa. In 1871 he took a homestead in Burnstown, this county, and a year later was married to Isabelle Casperson, who had come from Norway on the same ship with her future husband.

In 1874 the couple became discouraged by the ravages of grasshoppers on their farm and having also suffered the loss of their home by storm, they left the homestead, and for several years resided in Minneapolis, where Mr. Lee was employed in a brickyard. Later he engaged in the brick-making business at Blakely, returning to the farm in 1884, where the family remained until Mr. Lee retired from farming in 1903.

Besides his widow Mr. Lee leaves one son, Albert Lee of Lake Park.

OUR CALL

Minneapolis, Minn., Ed. Review, New Ulm, Minn.

Dear Sir: There's to be a "Volksfest" at the St. Paul Auditorium Nov. 18-21, benefit German Aust-Red Cross, and I take it on myself to rouse, if possible, a better interest in Red Cross collections. This may be intended in New Ulm and among Germans in the state generally. So if you think my "New Song" worth while, sing it! Various melodies, you'll notice.

Resp. Theo. Figge.

Our Call. I hear a shout like thunderpeal: "Deutschland, Deutschland, woe or weal." "They shall not take from me what's mine." "My own, my true, my German Rhine."

Here, in the reflected glory Of the German Fatherland, We oft proudly prate the story: "What's been done by brother's hand."

Yes, I hear you say you're German, Are you German heart and soul? Or that most despised vermin That is mouth, and that's the whole.

It is well if so you mean it, If you also feel the pain, Now reflected 'cross the waters, 'Cause of those who have been slain.

He who feels is ever willing To assist, where so much need, Be it only with a shilling, It will help some one to feed.

Can you count the stars that stand Up there in the heavenly dome? Can you guess the orphan-band That wait - fatherless - at home?

Millions of them have been numbered, Hundred thousands have been slain, And you ask if you are needed, Shall their pleadings be in vain?

"Fast stands, and true, the Watch on the Rhine," They stand alone, without your help or mine,

But let us swear with right hand raised on high, "No German child without my help shall die."

Oh Fatherland, dear Fatherland, I stretch across my helping hand, You have my heart, you have my soul, Take my poor gift: Gott halt Dich wohl! Ich werd Dich nie vergessen.

10-16-1916. Theo. Figge.

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful - Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scour robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fashish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. MAE MARSH IN "BIRTH OF A NATION"

It is a well known fact that lovers of photo plays have their favorites among the actors in the cast and rave over their cleverness and personal charm as if they were before them on the legitimate stage in actual flesh and blood.

Mae Marsh, who plays Flora Cameron, the younger daughter in the Southern household in "The Birth Of A Nation" at the Turner Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday by her successful appearance in many photo plays during her three years' career, has attracted by her elf like charm and naive personality, many admirers who greet with pleasure her appearance on the screen. Miss Marsh has many bits of fine acting in the picture. Among the most delightful are the welcoming of the brother back from the Civil War; the making of "southern ermine" with raw cotton and chimney black; the scene in the cellar with Miram Cooper; the garden making that follows the return from the war; the southern bouquet; and the pretty scene where she rains kisses on her brother Ben's mouth to console him for the temporary loss of his sweetheart Elsie. There is always a touch of comedy or of paths where Miss Marsh appears. Her personality lends itself to fine temperamental treatment of any part she plays. Her expression, her ever charming, mood-adapting face, is one of the most valuable in all the list of film favorites.

She was discovered by David W. Griffith, the producer of many film successes, long before he made "The Birth of a Nation."

ARE NEW ULM HUNTERS VIOLATING GAME LAWS?

It is reported that the State of Minnesota has set some of its most cunning sleuths on the trail of New Ulm fishermen, who are believed to be violating the game laws in the Cottonwood river, by blasting and using nets to trap fish in that stream.

According to reports received here the State Game and Fish Commission has received complaints of serious violations and one or more game wardens have been ordered to make an investigation and if infractions of the law have been made to arrest the offending parties, if they can be caught, and prosecute them to the fullest extent.

Fish are planted in the streams and are protected by law, and a heavy fine is imposed on anyone violating the law.
