Wholesome and clean and touching, is the characterization of the Evangeline film to be shown at the Armory Friday of this week. It is the ambition of all business men to arrive at the point where their heaviest duties consist of clipping coupons and presenting them for payment. This week C. A. Stolz is giving his customers the joy of "clipping coupons" that will pay for some of the much cherished "Wear-Ever" Aluminum ware that all housekeepers covet when they see it displayed and prize above money when it becomes their very own. The coupon will be found in this paper, the New Ulm Review, and every housekeeper should get her scissors immediately and clip it out before some one else uses the paper and destroys the precious coupon. You will find it on Page 3 of this issue. It is printed where it will not interfere with your reading of the paper, even if you cut it out at once, before you wait to read the news. Do it now. It's worth good, hard earned cash in these hard times.

WARNING

Notice is hereby given to those persons who deliberately try to damage my business by making false and damaging remarks regarding the construction of the houses which I built last year. It has been stated that I placed inferior material in these houses also that these houses are poorly constructed and on that account are very cold in winter. I wish to state that my houses are constructed as well as the best houses in this city. I have built 18 houses of which 10 have been sold and are now occupied by satisfied owners. I refer all those persons who desire to know the truth about how my houses are constructed to the purchasers of these houses. Anyone of the ten owners will say that the houses are built out of first class material and by experienced workmen. Out of the 18 houses all but 3 are lined with Flax Linum, which is one of the best warming materials which can be bought on the open market. Therefore, if in the future I hear of any person making false and damaging remarks concerning these houses I will go into court and make him prove his statements, Adv. 15-18. Joseph Tastel.
