

JUNIOR PIONEERS MEET AT ANNUAL BANQUET

He also took occasion to flay the subsidized press which had for the past several months so assiduously maligned New Ulm and its citizens. He also paid his respects to the two gentlemen who rushed into print for the purpose of villifying New Ulm and accused the citizens of misdeeds in the early days which statements were absolutely without foundation. He also told his audience that New Ulm had no reason to be ashamed of anything; that on the contrary they had every reason to feel proud of their city, admonished them to hold up their heads and not to hesitate to call the maligners of New Ulm whenever an occasion presented itself to do so. He told the pioneers that at the last gathering he had promised them a log lodge as a memorial in their honor. This promise had, on account of unforeseen difficulties, failed to materialize and he said that he would make no more rash promises. He assured them, however, that their descendants would endeavor to keep alive the German customs and ideals and that song, music and the dramatic art would always find ready sponsors here.

Two letters were read, one from Mrs. Louise Stamm and the other from Anton Leibold, both containing greetings for the old folks and words of cheer for the Juniors. There were present at the banquet the first male child and the first female child born in Brown County in the persons of Fred Alwin of Sleepy Eye and Mrs. Jacob Haubrich of Milford. The oldest pioneer present was Mrs. Wilhelmine Alwin who is over 92 years of age. Out of town Junior Pioneers present were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ochs, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lehrer and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schilling of Springfield, Fred Alwin and William Brust of Sleepy Eye, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Mueller of St.

Peter, Mrs. Herman Breitzkreuz of Arlington, Peter Koehler and Adolph Duevel of Minneapolis and A. J. Alwin of Mound.

Shortly after the close of the banquet the Junior Pioneers assembled in the lecture room for the purpose of holding their annual meeting. The meeting was well attended and the discussion at times quite animated. The first order of business after the reading of the minutes, was the report of officers and committees. The Treasurer's report showed a balance of $454. on hand. The report was referred to the auditing committee. W. G. Alwin on behalf of the "Otter" boiler committee reported the difficulties they had to contend with since their appointment three years ago. His report also covered the celebration which marked the successful delivery of the boiler in the city.

The Treasurer reported that since the last annual meeting the following had paid the membership fee and they were thereupon unanimously elected as members: Mrs. Al. O. Olsen, Miss Kate Krueger, Mrs. August Hummel, Mrs. Arnold Stamm, Mrs. Henry Vedder, John C. Siebenbrunner Mrs. Sophie Vetter, Mrs. Mary Polta, Mrs. Otto Kohn and Mrs. John Backer.

On behalf of the committee on the pioneer lodge Fred Seiter reported that all their efforts to carry out the mandate of the last annual meeting had proven unavailing. He told how on account of the deep snow, it had become impossible to get logs and that the committee then took under consideration the advisability of constructing the memorial out of artificial logs made of concrete. The Fair Grounds site the committee was compelled to abandon on account of the general opposition which manifested itself among the old folks who felt that the Fair Grounds was hardly the place for it. When it was decided to erect a substantial building, various features such as a rest room feature were discussed, but the committee had finally decided to do nothing further until the annual meeting would give all an opportunity to consider the proposition from all the angles which had presented themselves, to the committee. There was immediate discussion. A. C. Ochs took the position that a log cabin unless it was built of logs and in the manner in which they were constructed in the pioneer days would not be a true memorial and he for one would be opposed to any other. Others spoke in a similar vein and the matter was finally disposed of by directing the committee to build a typical log cabin and have it erected in North German Park, if a suitable site could be secured; if not there, then on the Court House square and if this site could not be secured, the committee should have authority to choose a proper and convenient site themselves.

Upon motion the President and Secretary were instructed to prepare suitable resolutions of regrets to be sent to Mrs. Hemsch of St. Paul now over 90 years old and who besides Peter Mack is the only surviving member of the original band of pioneers who came here in 1854. It was also decided to have the articles of incorporation and the by-laws printed, the same to contain a complete list of the present membership of the Junior Pioneers.

It was reported that during the past year the following pioneers had passed away: Nick Gulden, John Heymann, Mrs. Marie Dietz, Mrs. Theresa Henle, Mrs. Sophia Backer and Mrs. Margaretha Wiedenmann. In their memory the Junior Pioneers gave a rising vote of respect.

The committee in charge of the banquet was voted the thanks of the meeting for their efficient handling of the function; resolutions of thanks were accorded those who took part in the program and the owners of automobiles who placed them at the disposal of the committee to bring the old folks to the hall and take them home again. Thanks were also voted Mrs. Anna Maltzahn for donating upon two different occasions $5.00 for the good of the cause. The old directors were re-elected as follows: Albert Steinhauer, Dr. J. P. Graf, Adolph Meile, William Pfander, Jr., Herman Hein, William J. Julius, Mrs. L. B. Krook, Mrs. L. G. Bell and Mrs. W. G. Alwin. They will meet shortly for the purpose of electing their officers.

IS NOT COLD STORAGE

St. Peter Man is Acquitted on Advice From Game Warden.

The following from the St. Peter Free Press, may be of interest to many in this city:

"A meat market cold room, in which game birds are stored by the butcher for friends without compensation, is not a cold storage warehouse under the provisions of the game law, Judge C. G. Seifert held Wednesday when he acquitted James Meyers of the charge of placing ducks in cold storage. The decision was rendered by the justice after consultation by the game warden and the county attorney with the office of the state game and fish commissioner. The point seems to be a mooted one, some courts having held one way and some the other.

"The law in articles 4903 and 4766 reads as follows: 'The placing or receiving within or storage of any game or animal or any part thereof in any cold storage plant is hereby prohibited and made unlawful.'

"The game and fish commission and all game wardens shall inspect from time to time hotels, restaurants, cold storage houses or plants and ice houses, commonly used in storing meats, game or fish for private parties, for the purpose of determining whether game or fish are kept therein in violation of this act."

"The state game and fish commissioner's office advises that 'the placing in the cold room of a meat market of game birds is not an offense when no charge is made for the keeping of the same.' The commissioner apparently does not think that a meat market ice box is a cold storage plant within the meaning of the statute. He suggests, however, that if the hunter had placed the ducks in the market for the purpose of selling them and either he or the butcher had sold any one of them, then an offense would have been committed.

"So Mr. Meyer was acquitted of the charge against him, and Game Warden Karpen returned the ducks to the meat market from which they had been taken. And the game of hide and seek has commenced again. Mr. Meyer would lose all interest in life if it were not for Mr. Karpen, and the game warden would be lonesome lots of times if he had not Hunter Jim to think about."

CHICKEN THIEVES ACTIVE

Reports are coming in from the surrounding towns that chicken thieves are getting busy in this neck of the woods. The thieves seem to be confining their operations to the country districts. The chicken house of Charles Klotz of Milford was recently raided and a number of his choicest fowls taken. Others owning fowls are said to have loaded up their shot guns and are prepared to give the light-fingered gentry a warm reception if any of them appears.

RUBY THEATER COMPANY DECIDES TO INCORPORATE

With a capitalization placed at $25,000 the Ruby Theater has been incorporated under the laws of the state of Minnesota. C. J. Woodmansee, M. E. Woodmansee of New Ulm and J. A. McClure of Bemidji are the incorporators and the corporation is to continue to for a period of thirty years. The three incorporators constitute the board of directors. C. J. Woodmansee is president, Mr. McClure is vice president and M. E. Woodmansee is secretary and treasurer.

Derwent Hall Caine, star in "The Deemster," is Hall Caine's only son. His father wrote "The Deemster" five years before he was born. Marion Swayne, female star in the film production of Hall Caine's "The Deemster" has just completed her work as star of "Little Miss Fortune." The open air court furnishes one of the picturesque and powerful scenes in Hall Caine's "The Deemster" when Derwent Hall Caine, in the character of Dan Mylrea, is brought to the famous law mount on Tynwald Hill where he pleads to a charge of murder in the presence of the assembled multitude and is saved from a vengeful death at the hands of the Deemster by his father, the bishop, whose power on the Isle of Man, where the play takes place is superior to that of the Deemster, governor of the Island. In filming Hall Caine's "The Deemster" the book has been followed closely and all the thrills of this popular novel have been transferred to the screen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Colbest left last week on an automobile trip to Wadena and other points in Southwestern Minnesota. On their return they will begin housekeeping in this city. Mr. Colbest is a well-known Northwestern conductor whose headquarters are in New Ulm.
