Beginning this week the Review office has set their clock ahead and begin work at 7 by sun time instead of 8. They expect to take Saturday afternoons off during the summer season and this is the reason for the early start daily. The plant employs a force of eighteen at present and hopes soon to find two more workmen. The place is one of the busiest in town and an enormous amount of work is turned out. Four weekly publications are issued, a monthly and a quarterly, in addition to a considerable amount of commercial printing. Improvements at the plant the past year include a power cutter, an automatic press and the addition of two large rooms where some of the heavy machinery is installed. The next step will be in the installation of an elevator operated by hydraulic power. It is expected that the lift will be ready for use during the month. Three floors of a building, 90 x 23 feet are occupied by the plant which is still so crowded more room must soon be found. The two publications which our esteemed contemporary denied the privilege of the mails are again going forward to subscribers, altho Mr. Liesch's efforts succeeded in holding the papers at the local post office for two months.

Sam Schuler of New Ulm will leave next Sunday for Bancroft, S. D., where he will stay during the summer months.

Karl Thaelnitz left Sunday for Bancroft, S. D., where he intends to work as carpenter. He has worked before at that place.

WRAPS

Are Lovelier Than In Seasons Past.

A fluttering of Crepe and Dolmans developed in soft graceful materials such as Bolivia, Evora Cloth and Paulette have just arrived.

The colors are taupes, Grays and Tans brightened by gay linings — while some Wraps choose Pekin blue or a Victory color to express their Spring feeling.

A loose, drapy effect is the dominant note of these garments. Openings indicated by buttons or unusual folds form the sleeves.

The Time Has Come For SUITS

And how nice it will seem to discard our heavy winter garments and slip into a well-fitting suit — especially if they are as becoming as this year's models.

Charming phases of the Box Suit, Russian Blouse, Semi-Box and Norfolk or Tailored models.

Skirts are mostly long and narrow, depending on buttons or pocket for trimmings — some skirts, however, follow the more comfortable lines and add an extra width for walking purposes.
