The strikes amongst the clothing manufacturers in Chicago as well as in New York has left the market practically bare in young mens' suits. Our tremendous sales in this department this season has forced us to go to market and pick up suits wherever we could. However our buyer has been fortunate in procuring from four regular houses enough garments to help out for the present. We urge all of you young men who contemplate buying a stylish up-to-the-minute suit not to delay any longer than you can possibly help. In stable suits we have an immense variety, but no sooner do any young mens' suits arrive but what they are picked up in a very short time.
